ENGLAND'S KING LIVES, BUT HIS RECOVERY IS CONSIDERED DOUBTFUL.

Special Cable to The Gazette.

LONDON, June 25.—King Edward is still hovering between life and death. The last official statement issued by the royal physicians tonight says that the distinguished patient continues to make satisfactory progress, but the statement is absolutely barren of detail and the general public believes that the king's life is hanging on but a slender thread. The bulletins issued by the physicians do not give the king's temperature, respiration or pulse. In fact, no detail is made public from which the intelligent citizens can arrive at an estimate of the sufferer's real condition.

KING EDWARD VII.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

The rumor was current from the Carleton Hotel tonight that a nobleman close to the king's household has sent a cable to Washington cautioning persons there to prepare for the worst. It has been learned from excellent sources that the operation on the king was not performed at noon yesterday as reported in the bulletins, but at 6:30 o'clock in the morning. It has also been learned that at 3 o'clock this morning the patient had a very serious relapse.

COL. GUFFEY IN SUPREME CONTROL, NOMINATES PATTISON AND GUTHRIE.

By Robert Simpson, Staff Correspondent.

ERIE, PA., June 25.—Col. J. M. Guffey, Democratic National Committeeman for Pennsylvania, remains in absolute control of the Democratic organization of the state through the nomination of Robert E. Pattison for governor. The nomination of George W. Guthrie for lieutenant governor was due to the active co-operation of Col. Guffey with the sentiment of the delegates. Mr. Guthrie absolutely refused to take second place even after the nomination of Pattison had been assured by the vote on the report of the committee on credentials, but with the consent of former Judge Reyburn, who had been the only candidate for the honor, it was decided to nominate Mr. Guthrie and place on him the whole responsibility for the completion of the ticket. Tonight he is undecided as to his course and probably will not make an announcement until after he reaches Pittsburgh. James Nolan of Berks, whose name has not been previously heard, was named for secretary of internal affairs. The only fight in the convention was on the demand of the Philadelphia organization for larger representation.

POPULACE BELIEVES THE KING IS DYING

Crowds in the Streets Are Skeptical of the Encouraging Bulletins Posted by the Royal Physicians, Though They Are Hoping for the Best.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

London, June 25.—The following amended bulletin was issued after 11 o'clock tonight:

"The king continues to make satisfactory progress. He slept some hours during the day. He complains very little of discomfort and is more cheerful. The wound is doing well.

"TREVES,
"LAKING,
"BARLOW."

London, June 25.—The last bulletin for the night issued at Buckingham palace says that the king continues to make satisfactory progress. All over the crowded Strand and thronged Piccadilly these words, posted under glaring electric lights, were eagerly scanned by thousands. London tonight is hoping for the best, but fearing the worst. Mindful of the misleading bulletins during the late queen's illness, the present bulletins are received with skepticism.

At the Carlton hotel, that clearing house of rumors through which filters the gossip of Europe, it has just been reported that a cable has been sent to Washington by a peer, close to the king's household to prepare for the worst. It is impossible to find anyone close to the royal family, or anyone whose position at court gives weight to an opinion, who does not believe the king's condition is most serious. Yet, in spite of all this, the doctors issue reassuring bulletins as if the royal patient were progressing satisfactorily. Mr. Arthur Balfour makes the same statement in parliament.

No temperature, respiration or pulse is given, only the barest of details. All inquiries, especially from the newspapers, are treated as interlopers.

Operation Was Kept Secret.

Despite all of this secrecy it has been learned from two excellent sources, that the operation was not performed as reported in the official bulletins at noon yesterday, but at 6:30 o'clock in the morning, and that the public was not taken into the confidence of the physicians, until they felt sure the operation was a success. It has been learned also that at 3 o'clock this morning the king had a very serious relapse and that the physicians in attendance during the night sent for their colleagues to come to the palace immediately. Fortunately the king rallied very quickly. This rumor traveled fast, as all rumors travel now, and again your correspondent sought official information, which again was refused.

But the inqury evidently bare proof, for within a half hour afterwards a supplementary bulletin was issued to the one which had been announced as the last for the night, making the explicit statement that the king had not only made satisfactory progress, but had slept several hours during the day, and that he complains of little discomfort and is more cheerful; adding that his majesty is doing well.

Private Secretary's Action.

There is a sullen feeling abroad that the people have a right to know the exact truth and are not getting it. Extraordinary action was taken last night by Sir Francis Knollys, the private secretary to the king. He called together the representatives of all the London newspapers and asked them if he could not take them into his confidence. Pledges were given and he explained to them the method which would be pursued in the issuing of the bulletins. If no contingencies of a critical nature arose the bulletins would be favorable and would be written to reassure the public. In other words, any fluctuations of the royal patient's condition would not be announced, but he gave a solemn assurance that if any serious danger arose the exact truth would be made public.

It is the general opinion of the attending physicians privately expressed to friends that tomorrow at noon the crisis will be reached. Until then it is impossible to tell whether any complications are likely to arise, there always being danger of peritonitis or hemorrhage supervening, and the fatal symptoms may manifest themselves without any warning whatever.

Much will depend upon how his majesty maintains his strength during tonight. This will not be made known until 10 o'clock tomorrow, unless something of an alarming character occurs.

King Worried About His People.

A report also comes from a private source that the restlessness displayed by the king was apparently largely due to concern for his people.

When on Tuesday his majesty was told that an operation was imperative, he was greatly distressed on account of the great disappointment the postponement of the ceremonies would cause his subjects assembled in London from all parts of the world. Indeed, almost immediately after the effects of the ether had passed off, he returned to the subject.

All day long the pavement in front and by the side of Buckingham palace has been filled with those who eagerly are seeking the news of the king's condition. Some came by cabs and carriages up the Mall and stayed just long enough to read the bulletins, which were meager and posted at long intervals. The majority, however, had come long distances on foot and remained the greater part of the day watching the palace windows for some sign of tidings from the room where his majesty lies.

This room is on the first floor on the north side of the palace, overlooking the terrace of the gardens. To the right are the queen's private apartments and the rooms of Princess Victoria. On the left is the king's bathroom, which projects over the terrace.

Watching the Palace Windows.

There are seven or eight windows altogether in the royal suite. Two of them, those looking out from the king's bedroom, were darkened, but were opened slightly in the afternoon while his majesty slept. It was toward those two windows that the eyes of the crowd were directed.

In and out of the palace gates a stream of carriages passed in an uninterrupted procession from morning till late at night.

Special ambassadors to the coronation, representatives of different countries at the court of St. James, distinguished visitors, members of the cabinet, peers, members of the house of commons came and stopped long enough to make inquiries. People talked in hushed tones. When the guard was changed late in the afternoon the sharp commands of the officer in charge seemed almost to have been given with a megaphone.

Among the most distinguished persons seen in the early morning at the palace was the marquis of Salisbury, who rode up on a tricycle. He wore a depressed look, and though cycling, was clad in an overcoat. Lord Churchill, the home secretary, and Archduke Ferdinand of Austria, also appeared.

All day the prince of Wales continued constantly in Buckingham palace, receiving distinguished callers, answering dispatches, expediting affairs to which only a person of his authority could attend. The queen continues to bear up remarkably well under the strain, and she is receiving comforting words from those who love her from all parts of the kingdom.

As to details of the operation, it appears that an incision was made near the groin and was carried upward with an outer slant for four inches. The obstruction having been exorcised, a system of tubing was resorted to. The operation was performed under anaesthetics, the patient being removed from the couch for the purpose. Sir Francis Treves was intrusted with the actual operation, after consultation with Lord Lister. As soon as the illustrious patient had recovered consciousness he asked for the prince of Wales, who saw his father for a moment, and was intensely relieved that the operation had been successful. All sorts of reports are current as to the method of treatment, but all are mere conjectures. Exact details will be made public through the medical publications.

Treves Gives Death Rate.

It is a remarkable circumstance, in view of the king's illness, that Sir Francis Treves delivered a lecture last Fri-

WASHINGTON IS DEEPLY STIRRED BY LONDON NEWS

Official World Believes King's Illness Will Prove Fatal.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 25.—To the exclusion of nearly every other subject, even the doings of congress in its dying days, the illness of King Edward was discussed by all Washington today. Officials of the government and the diplomats who are still living in their embassies and legations here, eagerly sought from newspaper and telegraph offices the latest tidings from Buckingham palace.

The bulletin boards in Pennsylvania avenue were the targets of attention of large crowds all day long and throughout the early hours of the night. The intense tragedy of the ruler of the greatest monarchy on earth being stricken on the eve of coronation seems to have aroused public interest to an even higher pitch than when Queen Victoria lay at the point of death in January, 1901.

Throughout the official world here, there is a current of pessimistic feeling regarding the illness of His Royal Highness. Prominent officials with few exceptions express the opinion that his illness will prove fatal.

Those officers of the cabinet, who are now in Washington—Secretaries Hay and Root—are both out of the city—feel no apprehension of any important political changes in the event of the death of the king. The feeling among officials and on the part of the public is one of sympathy for Great Britain.

GUTHRIE TUNES UP ON SECOND FIDDLE

After Pattison Is Nominated for Governor on First Ballot, Col. Guffey Breaks His Slate to Name Pittsburgher for Lieutenant Governor Despite His Protest.

JAMES NOLAN OF BERKS GIVEN A PLACE TO APPEASE THE DEMOCRATIC BRETHREN

By ROBERT SIMPSON,
Staff Correspondent.

Erie, Pa., June 25.—The Democratic slate was broken in the convention today by the men who made it and the ticket is:

For Governor—Robert E. Pattison of Philadelphia.

For Lieutenant Governor—George W. Guthrie of Pittsburgh.

For Secretary of Internal Affairs—James Nolan of Reading, Berks county.

The presentation of Guthrie's name for lieutenant governor was a surprise to the convention. William J. Breene of Venango county made the nominating speech, and after he had concluded there were protesting cries of "Reyburn, Reyburn," which were quieted by Judge Reyburn taking the platform, and in behalf of Armstrong county seconding the nomination. Mr. Guthrie was then named for second place by acclamation. From the first he has declared he would not accept, and it came to him more as a shock than as a surprise.

The program of the Pattison leaders to force the nomination on him took favor today when it was found that delegates from Cumberland and other counties in its vicinity opposed the nomination of Senator William Miller of Cumberland for secretary of internal affairs. Miller was at once eliminated and the previous disposition to nominate Guthrie for lieutenant governor in spite of his wishes took favor. Pattison and Guthrie are on the ticket because it is believed they can catch Republican votes, and Nolan was given third place as a sop to the Democrats, Berks county being a stronghold of the unterrified. He is a wealthy railroad contractor.

Lined Up by Factions.

The vote on the report of the committee on credentials settled the control of the convention against the Kerr-Gordon-Guthrie combine. The vote was not on the merits of the question, the delegates lining up according as they were for or against Pattison. The Pattison forces, which looked to Guffey as their real leader, swept the board clean. There were 220 votes recorded against the Philadelphia contention and 94 in its favor.

On the vote for the nomination for governor the Pattison strength was raised to 223½ and the opposition split into 52½ for Kerr, 32 for Guthrie and 4 for Woodward of Center, who got the vote of his own county. Guthrie's votes came 18 from Allegheny, 1 from Beaver, one from Indiana, 13 from Luzerne, 3 from Schuylkill and 1 from Washington. Kerr was 2 votes short in Philadelphia, through a demand for a poll of the delegation, which disclosed that 2 delegates were not present to answer to their names. An effort was made to personate one, but it failed.

The Philadelphians went down fighting, and although Philadelphia joined with Allegheny and Center in a resolution to make the nomination of Pattison unanimous, there is much bitterness among them because of their treatment in the credentials committee and convention, and because of the report against them by the Husson committee, which by resolution of the convention will be printed and circulated among the county chairmen.

National Issues Forgotten.

The speeches of the temporary and permanent chairmen and most of the nominating speeches and the platform were devoted to state issues and an arraignment of the Republican party organization and management. National issues were ignored. The only national issue appeared when some one in the gallery, before the convention opened, called for cheers for Hill, and the response was about equally divided between cheers and hisses. There were cheers for many state celebrities, but, strangely enough, there was a weak answer to a demand for cheers for the Democratic party.

The band played "Marching Through Georgia," but immediately as a corrective played "Dixie."

Charles A. Fagan made the first nominating speech, presenting Guthrie. Frank J. Fitzsimmons of Lackawanna nominated Pattison. Gordon nominated Kerr, and in doing so paid a lavish tribute to Guthrie, saying:

"There is no man I would rather vote for; there is no man who would leave a better record in the governor's office."

After Mr. Breene's nomination of Guthrie for second place, Mr. Bremen of Allegheny nominated Nolan of Berks for third place.

Mr. Guthrie has not decided to accept the nomination that came to him against his wish. Neither has he decided to decline. He is considering the matter and will make no statement tonight. He may not make one for some time.

After the vote against the Philadelphians had assured Pattison's nomination, negotiations were reopened with Mr. Guthrie and his followers, but he declined the honor. Nevertheless, the convention voted it to him and it is an embarrassment.

Guthrie Has Many Callers.

The Allegheny delegation and Democrats outside the delegation who are here are almost a unit in the belief that he should accept. There are one or two who urge the contrary. Mr. Guthrie deserves to rest before making a final decision. He is almost exhausted by the labors of the past few days. Since the convention adjourned there has been a constant stream of delegates and others to his headquarters to congratulate him and pledge their support.

The Allegheny delegates are considering the effect of Guthrie's nomination and possible acceptance on the Citizens ticket in Allegheny county. They say it will be impossible for the Citizens party to avoid the indorsement of Guthrie. They even hope it may carry with it the indorsement of Pattison.

The supporters of James E. Kerr, especially the Philadelphians, are sore, but being used to hard knocks put on a bold front.

City Chairman Donnelly of Philadelphia said: "We will give Gov. Pattison a support in Philadelphia that will be entirely satisfactory to him."

Before leaving for New York James E. Kerr said: "I am a Democrat and Pattison is the Democratic nominee. A Democrat always supports Democratic tickets."

Judge Gordon would not talk.

Col. Guffey was entirely happy after the convention adjourned. He has been sure of his ground all along, and has enjoyed the contest that was being made against him. Tonight he prepared and gave out this statement for publication:

The Colonel Is Pleased.

"The outcome of the convention is very pleasing to me. I am fully satisfied that it is what the party of the state expected and demanded. The ticket nominated is one that will command the respect and favorable consideration of those of our good citizens who desire an honest, capable and courageous administration of affairs of this commonwealth and under the conditions explained in the state its success should not be questioned."

The convention was one of the most demonstrative ever held. The galleries were unruly and became particularly so while John M. Gorman of Luzerne was making his speech against the Philadelphians. Mr. Gorman refused to be howled down, but stood his ground with a smile. The sergeant-at-arms in charge of a force of police was sent to the galleries by Chairman Wright to calm the crowd.

During this part of the proceedings charges and counter-charges came thick and fast and eloquent gentlemen questioned each other's Democracy in hostile word.

Before the convention adjourned, at 7:30 p. m., it was provided that the state committee shall fill any vacancies on the ticket. The convention voted down the amendment proposed to the rules by the state committee covering the basis of representation in future conventions. The rule to provide for the breaking of district deadlocks was lost by the disclosure that there was no quorum. Three-fourths of the delegates had departed

GUTHRIE IS ADVISED TO TAKE NOMINATION

Friends Think He Will Be placed in a Very Important Position If Elected.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ERIE, PA., June 25.—Charles A. Fagan said tonight:

"When the matter of the acceptance of Mr. Guthrie's nomination for lieutenant governor was spoken of to me today, I suggested to Mr. Guthrie not to accept for the reason that I thought his acceptance of this place might be misconstrued. Mr. Guthrie having been a candidate for the nomination for governor only. Inasmuch as the preponderance of sentiment of the convention secured to Pattison the first place on the ticket and as the nomination for lieutenant governor was tendered to Guthrie as the absolutely unanimous choice of the convention, and also in view of the fact that Guthrie has been the principal exponent of ballot reform in Pennsylvania, and that the office of president of the senate will afford him abundant opportunity to put into practical operation his ideas on the subject, I felt that it is my duty with others of his friends, who agree with me, to advise him to accept this nomination."

W. J. Brennen is heartily in favor of Mr. Guthrie accepting the nomination. He points out that the lieutenant governor, as presiding officer of the senate, is in a very influential position and that in that office Mr. Guthrie could do much for ballot reform.

Thomas B. Alcorn said: "We had better sleep over it. Mr. Guthrie is undecided, and I would not try to influence him tonight, but I think he should accept."

Dr. Wiley and Col. Rutledge think Mr. Guthrie should bow to the will of the convention.

George Stengel, in conversations with other members of the delegation, expressed himself as opposed to Mr. Guthrie's acceptance. He would not talk for publication, saying the matter should be carefully considered.

Mrs. C. H. Strong, daughter of the late W. L. Scott, gave a reception tonight in honor of the nomination of Gov. Pattison. Col. Guffey, George W. Guthrie and members of the state committee and leading Democrats from all over the state attended. Members of the Allegheny county delegation called to pay their respects and assured Gov. Pattison of their support. George Fleming told him he felt a little sora yet, but would get over it.

"We weren't for you, governor," he said, "but we will support you."

The Strong residence was decorated by Mrs. Strong with the flags that she had used when her father was first nominated for congress. Gov. Pattison has been Mrs. Strong's guest during his presence in Erie.

GUTHRIE A CHAMPION OF BALLOT REFORM

Charles A. Fagan Presents the Name of the Pittsburgh Candidate for Governor.

ERIE, PA., June 25.—Charles A. Fagan of Pittsburgh, in nominating George W. Guthrie for governor, said:

I am directed by the Democratic party in the county of Allegheny to present to this convention the name of one of that county's most distinguished sons as a candidate for governor of the majestic commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Not for upward of 20 years has the democracy of Allegheny county presented a candidate for this office, yet during all these years, in the gloomy darkness of defeat, as well as in the occasional flush of triumph, it has steadfastly kept the campfires of democracy alive, often without encouragement, rarely with hope of reward, and always in opposition to one of the most powerful and fearless political machines in America.

The democracy of Allegheny county does not come to you seeking this nomination with any selfish motive. We are not inspired by merely the belief—a belief which no man here present has failed to entertain—that at these years in the political darkness of defeat, as well as in the occasional flush of triumph, it has steadfastly kept the campfires of democracy alive, often without encouragement, rarely with hope of reward, and always in opposition to one of the most powerful and fearless political machines in America.

VITRIOLIC SHAFT OF DEMOCRACY AIMED AT QUAY

Party Platform Devoted to Alleged Political Crimes of Republican Leader.

FIRST CHARGE BRIBERY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Erie, Pa., June 25.—The platform adopted by the Democratic state convention today says:

The Democratic party of Pennsylvania repeats and reaffirms all of the statements, promises and declarations of purpose contained in the platform of its state convention of 1901.

We repeat that every department of our state government is honeycombed with profligacy, dishonesty and a reckless disregard of constitutional and moral obligations; that the powers of government are prostituted to the purposes of public thieves; that constitutional restraints and commands, the sanctity of law, the obligations of official oaths and the demands of common honesty are thrust aside by the substitution of a higher law—the demands of an insatiate greed of public plunderers for money, money, more money; that shamelessly and openly the votes of legislators are bought and so persistently and constantly that market values for legislators have been established by settled custom; that the apparent indifference of our people to these outrages emboldened the corrupionists to such an extent that the last session of our legislature outbraided Herod in its infamies; that all men pronounce it the most corrupt legislative body that ever convened in any state of the union; that its very organization was founded on the purchase of venal legislators with money that place, and that it closed its session with the crowning infamy of that most stupendous franchise steal, shocking the moral sense of the entire country.

The Election of Quay.

The selection of a United States senator was accomplished in a carnival of corruption and bribery; that in the reckless determination to punish enemies and reward subservient tools, established municipal governments were ruthlessly overturned and the chosen servants of the people expelled from their offices to make place for the creatures of a corrupt machine, while the faith of the people in the sanctity of the judiciary was broken by its halting efforts to find plausible excuse for the crime; that, foiled in its efforts to rob the state of millions of dollars of valuable coal deposits, the legislature proceeded to that other and greater robbery of the railway franchises of the state, worth millions to the plunderers, and stripping every city, town and township in the commonwealth of the proper control of its streets for trolley improvements; that even the public charities of the state, its hospitals and asylums and the comfort of their unfortunate inmates were made the sport of political greed and their appropriations measured and determined by their use and services to the machine; that no possible field of corruption was left uncultivated by state plunderers, who, in the name of a great political party, have prostituted all the purposes and powers of government to their own enrichment.

We charge these crimes we again indict the Republican organization of Pennsylvania as it is now controlled. To the absolute extirpation of all of these evils we hereby pledge our party and its nominees.

Replete With Promises.

We promise an administration absolutely clean, incorruptible and pledged to a dedication of the powers of public position to the public weal.

We aim at the banishment from the precincts of the legislature of the lobbyist, the vote broker, the bribe giver and taker, the franchise robber and the hordes of party dependents looking to the public treasury for pay for corrupt party service.

We assure the business interests of the state absolute exemption from "pinch legislation," from threatened enactment of oppressive laws designed only to invite bribery as the condition of peace and protection from annoyance.

Corporation lobbyists, no longer needed for protection against the schemes of plunderers, will cease to exist, and thus will disappear the temptation too often yielded to, to use their power to improperly influence legislation adverse to public interests.

An honest administration will assure the business interests of the state absolute exemption from the forced levies of political parties and leaders.

Officers of corporations shall no longer be compelled to use the money of their stockholders in lavish contributions to the corruption fund of political parties, their managers and office-seekers.

To the people of the state we promise equal and just laws, pure, honest and economical administration; and an invitation to public positions of pure, honorable, upright and able men, to take the places of the scurvy politicians who now disgrace them.

Some Loud Denunciation.

We denounce those who control the Republican organization for their refusal to fulfill their party pledge to give ballot reform to our people.

In order to secure to the people the power to govern themselves and secure the perpetuation of republican government, the Democratic party is hereby pledged to the adoption of a uniform primary election law, a personal registration in all the cities of the commonwealth and a free, equal and secret ballot; assuring to all citizens equal rights and providing the greatest facilities for independent voting and to make the appointment of overseers and the opening of the ballot boxes obligatory when demanded by the citizens.

We recommend that all Democratic candidates for the legislature pledge themselves, in case of election, to use all honorable means to secure the adoption of these measures.

In the election of a boss, supported by a machine mode delegation representing nothing but the will of another boss, the Republican organization has nominated a candidate for governor who offers no promise of reform. This candidate has solemnly and deliberately declared that the senior senator from Pennsylvania "fails in no duty," that the criticism that has followed him is but further evidence of his real greatness, that he fully represents the state of which he is the foremost representative, and that "Pennsylvania has no list that are worthy of mention." Verily this candidate selected by the senior senator because of his laudations of the men and measures that we denounce as politically infamous, holds forth no promise of relief to our dishonored state.

To the pledges and the candidates of this present convention, and to them alone, can the people turn for deliverance.

While we act today as a political organization, in presenting this platform and our candidates, we seek no partisan advantage or victory.

We freely and gladly dedicate our organization and the great body of voters it represents to the work of cleansing our state from the stain of dishonor that has come upon her.

POPULISTS NAME TICKET.

Candidates for State Offices Nominated at Erie Convention.

ERIE, PA., June 25.—(Special)—The state convention of the Populist party was held today with 40 delegates in attendance. This ticket was nominated: Governor, Justus Watkins, Northumberland; lieutenant governor, Henry K. Miller, Blair; secretary of internal affairs, Theodore H. Ryndet, Erie.

The platform demands ballot reform; upheld organized labor and deplores the fact that the Democratic convention has fallen away from Bryanism and the principals laid down in the Chicago and Kansas City platforms.

To Collect $500,000 Penalty.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 25.—(Special)—At the meeting of the city council tonight Councilman Schirmer called attention to an ordinance passed over ten years ago requiring the Baltimore & Ohio road to erect four safety gates at grade crossings and providing a penalty of $20 a day for each gate for failure to erect them. They have never been erected, and the council directed the city attorney to proceed to collect the penalty, which amounts to about $500,000.

PANAMA ROUTE IS AGREED UPON IN CONFERENCE

Senate Amendment Giving President Authority to Secure Title Accepted.

Hepburn Presents Report to the House, but It Goes Over Under the Rules—Morgan Seems Inclined to Accept Defeat of His Project.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 25.—The conferees on the isthmian canal bill reached a complete and unanimous agreement at 2:35 o'clock this afternoon in favor of accepting the senate amendment, which contemplates the building of the Panama canal if the president can secure a clear title to that route.

The final conference lasted only half an hour. Before the decision was reached Mr. Hepburn, on behalf of the house conferees, endeavored to secure a modification of the senate amendment limiting the president to six months' time within which the title to the Panama route is to be perfected.

When this failed Mr. Hepburn made no further opposition, and the senate amendment was concurred in exactly in the form that it passed the senate. It was arranged that a brief statement should be prepared for presentation to the senate and house, and the conferees separated.

Mr. Hepburn presented the conference report on the canal bill to the house, and under the rule it went over until tomorrow. Later Mr. Hepburn submitted the following statement to the house:

"The effect of the action of the conferees, if approved by the house, will be to eliminate all of the provisions of the bill as passed by the house, and enacts into legislation all of the provisions of the senate amendment."

Mr. Hepburn will call up the bill for final action tomorrow.

Senator Morgan has made known to the members of the Alabama delegation in congress that it is advisable to accept the Spooner amendment to the canal bill. This from the senator foremost in behalf of the Nicaragua route is considered as conclusive in showing that the senate amendment will be agreed to.

AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

The senate agreed to the conference report on the army appropriation bill.

J. W. Grisinger of Pennsylvania has been appointed assistant surgeon in the army, with rank of first lieutenant.

The senate confirmed the nominations of Col. William H. Carter, assistant adjutant general, and Maj. Tasker M. Bliss, commissary, to be brigadier generals.

The president has sent the following nominations of postmasters to the senate: Pennsylvania, Lucian P. Claybaugh, Donora; Ralph H. Warner, Jr., Haverford; Jesse H. Roberts, Downingtown. Ohio, Mark Sternberger, Jackson; William P. Hains, Wilmington.

QUAY WINS POINT FOR TERRITORIES

OMNIBUS STATEHOOD BILL COMES UP DECEMBER 10.

Pennsylvania Senator Forces Opposition Republicans in Senate to Make Terms With Him—The Leaders Were Arrayed Against Him.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Senator Quay won out completely in his fight against the committee on territories and the Republican leaders over the statehood bill in the senate today, and thus reasserted himself as one of the factors in that body that must be taken into consideration. Arrayed against him in the contest were Senators Hanna, Aldrich, Spooner, Lodge and nearly two-thirds of the Republican membership, but he had the majority of the senate and a just cause behind him.

Shortly after the senate convened the opposition gave up the contest and Chairman Beveridge of the committee on territories promised, on behalf of the majority of the committee, that the statehood bill should be reported on the third day of the session in December next. This was not fully satisfactory to Senator Quay, and he declined to accept the compromise unless the senate should unanimously agree that the bill should be taken up on December 10 and made the unfinished business until it was disposed of. This would make certain the enactment of the bill into a law.

It was a bitter dose for the opposition, but they were compelled to swallow it, and the fight was over. Senator Quay was warmly congratulated upon his success, and tonight he received hundreds of telegrams from Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma thanking him for his splendid work.

QUAY POSTPONES PITTSBURGH VISIT

Too Much to Watch in the Senate to Leave Washington Before Congress Adjourns.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Senator Quay stated tonight that he did not expect to be able to make his intended visit to Pittsburgh and Beaver before the final adjournment of congress. Although he has the statehood bill off his hands, there are three matters of interest that he must attend to.

First is the Cherokee Indian bill, which he expects to pass through the senate on Friday. Second is the item in the general deficiency bill to pay the state of Pennsylvania about $45,000 of a war claim. This bill will probably come up in the senate tomorrow and be disposed of. Third is a bill of interest to Philadelphia. It provides for the Philadelphia harbor the restrictions against dumping of refuse, etc., and the same penalties as now apply to New York harbor. It is necessary that this bill be passed through congress before adjournment and the senator will remain here until that is done.

The senate committee on commerce today reported favorably the bill authorizing the West Elizabeth and Dravosburg Bridge Company to construct and maintain a bridge over the Monongahela river between points in Portvue and Jefferson townships, Allegheny county. This bill will probably become a law before the adjournment of this session, as the speaker has promised to recognize Representative Graham to pass the bill through the house and Senator Penrose will be equally as potent in the senate.

Like "Mary's Little Lamb," "Mary's Gon!" also made its appearance in school. The children will be interested in next Sunday's Gazette cut-out booklet. Don't miss the beautiful picture.

GREAT FREIGHT YARDS FOR THE PENNSYLVANIA

Classification Facilities at Brinton Station to Handle 1,000 Cars.

WORK BEGAN YESTERDAY

On Ten Miles of Trackage Complete Trains of Raw Material for the Monongahela Mills Will Be Made Up—Yards to Cost $250,000.

The Pennsylvania railroad started work yesterday at old Brinton station on what will be one of the greatest classification yards in the Pittsburgh district. It will facilitate the delivery of all freight to the great group of mills along the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, and will relieve any congestion that has existed at Wall transfer.

In the yards there will be facilities for handling at one time 1,000 cars of heavy capacity. There will be 10 miles of tracks. The yards are designed principally to classify all raw materials for the many Carnegie furnaces and mills and other works along the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania railroad. They will recive consignments of ore, coal, limestone, coke and scrap from the several divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad system, and trains will be made up for any one interest along the Monongahela division. The entire scheme contemplates the best commodity classification yard in the Pittsburgh district.

The yards will call for an outlay of $250,000. Their location, just opposite the East Pittsburgh works of the Westinghouse Electric Company, is a hollow between the present passenger tracks and the old freight tracks. Supervisor A. B. Clark of Latrobe went on the work yesterday to take charge. No contract has been let for the construction, the Pennsylvania road itself undertaking the work.

In the necessary fill that will have to be made 350,000 cubic yards of earth will be deposited. This is to be supplied by the excavated material that is being taken out for the new line of the Pennsylvania that is being constructed between Stewart station and Larimer. This improvement is costing about $1,500,000. The Pennsylvania railroad interests picked the ground at Brinton, which they held, as the most convenient place for the yards. There is no more room at Wall station, about two miles above. At Brinton station, which has become East Pittsburgh, the Pennsylvania railroad has an important interlocking switch system communicating with the Monongahela division and the Pennsylvania main line into Pittsburgh. Just this side of Brinton is the Port Perry tunnel and bridge and through there most of the complete trains for delivery to any one mill will be sent.

The Pennsylvania railroad engineers are now staking off the new East End connecting link, which will complete a Pennsylvania system line about Pittsburgh. The line will cost, through realty purchases and the cuts and viaducts that will have to be built, about $5,000,000.

The Harrisburg prizes of $50 and $25, offered to members of the junior class who pass the best examinations in assigned work in the German language, were awarded to C. F. Seabright, Bellaire, O., and Henry H. Hanna, Washington, respectively. The Samuel Jones physics and chemistry prizes for seniors of $100 and $25, respectively, were won by W. S. Bryan, Indiana, and Elmer H. Jones of Washington. The Robert Harbison Bible prize of $100 was awarded to Roy M. Allison of Hopedale, O. The Hazard scientific medal, offered for the best natural history collection, was secured by R. L. Goldthrope, Edgewood. The first prize offered by the College Dramatic association for excellence in acting was won by Rufus E. Marriner, Belmont, N. Y., and the second prize was won by William E. Ralston, Wilkinsburg.

The first prize to the winner of the junior oratorical contest was secured by Rufus S. Marriner and the second by William E. Welsh of Allegheny. Mr. Welsh also won the prize of $25 offered for the best essay on English literature.

The exercises at the gymnasium were followed by the annual alumni dinner at the main college building. This was followed by the alumni reception and general reunion, at which the Hon. James A. Beaver, president of the General Alumni association, presided. The college commencement was brought to a close by the annual senior promenade at the college gymnasium.

RUMOR NAMES ELKIN FOR SUPREME COURT

Story That He Is to Succeed Shiras, But Quay Says He Never Heard of It.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—The Times today publishes the following: "A story was circulated last night that Justice Shiras would shortly retire from the United States supreme court and Attorney General Elkin of Pennsylvania be appointed to the position. It was pointed out that in this way Senator Quay would placate the defeated candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination."

While it is admitted that Justice Shiras, who has reached the age at which he could retire on full salary, may soon take advantage of this right, it is not believed that so young a man as Mr. Elkin would succeed him.

Senator Quay said he had not heard of the story.

HEADACHE, BACKACHE, DIZZINESS

(PE-RU-NA CURES PELVIC CATARRH.)

"I am perfectly well," says Mrs. Martin, of Brooklyn. "Pe-ru-na cured me."

MRS ANNA MARTIN.

Mrs. Anna Martin, 47 Hoyt street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"Peruna did so much for me that I feel it my duty to recommend it to others who may be similarly afflicted. About a year ago my health was completely broken down, had backache, dizziness and irregularities, and life seemed dark indeed. We had used Peruna in our home as a tonic and for colds and catarrh and I decided to try it for my trouble. In less than three months I became regular, my pains had entirely disappeared, and I am now perfectly well."—Mrs. Anna Martin.

Miss Marie Johnson, 11 Columbia, East Detroit, Mich., is Worthy Vice Templar in Hope Lodge No. 6, Independent Order Good Templars. Miss Johnson, as so many other women also have done, found in Peruna a specific for a severe case of female weakness. She writes:

"I want to do what I can to let the whole world know what a grand medicine Peruna is. For eleven years I suffered with female troubles and complications arising therefrom. Doctors failed to cure me, and I despaired of being helped. Peruna cured me in three short months. I can hardly believe it myself, but it is a blessed fact. I am perfectly well now, and have not had an ache or pain for months. I want my suffering sisters to know what Peruna has done for me."—Miss Marie Johnson.

Miss Ruth Emerson, 72 Sycamore st., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for two years with irregular and painful menstruation, and Peruna cured me within six weeks. I cannot tell you how grateful I feel. Any agency which brings health and strength to the afflicted is always a welcome friend, and today the market is so filled with useless and injurious medicines that it is a pleasure to know of so reliable a remedy as you place before the public."—Miss Ruth Emerson.

It is no longer a question as to whether Peruna can be relied on to cure all such cases. During the many years in which Peruna has been put to test in all forms and stages of acute and chronic catarrh no one year has put this remedy to greater test than the past year.

Peruna is the acknowledged catarrh remedy of the age. Dr. Hartman, the compounder of Peruna, has written a book on the phases of catarrh peculiar to women, entitled "Health and Beauty." It will be sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

TWO NOVELISTS KNIGHTED BY KING EDWARD

Conan Doyle, Gilbert Parker and Editor of Punch on the List.

THE CORONATION HONORS

New Order of Merit Is Established and Lords Roberts and Kitchener Are Among the Recipients — One for the Civil Service.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 25.—At the king's special request, the list of coronation honors will be published tomorrow as originally planned, in spite of the fact that the ceremony has been indefinitely postponed.

The list is as follows:

Dr. Conan Doyle, novelist; Gilbert Parker, traveler and author; Francis C. Burnand, editor of Punch, and Leslie Stephen, president of the Ethical society, are made knights.

Sir Frederick Treves, sergeant surgeon to the king, and Sir George Henry Lewis, the well-known lawyer, and Sir Thomas Lipton are created baronets.

The order of Knight of the Garter is bestowed on the duke of Wellington and the duke of Sutherland.

The duke of Roxburghe and the earl of Haddington are made Knights of the Thistle.

The earl of Enniskillen and Baron de Ross become Knights of St. Patrick.

Sir Robert Boad, the premier of Newfoundland, is made a privy councilor.

The earl of Hopetoun, governor general of the commonwealth of Australia, who recently resigned, is raised to a marquisate.

Lord Milner is raised to the rank of viscount.

Peerages are conferred on the Rt. Hon. William Jackson, conservative member of parliament for North Leeds and former chief secretary for Ireland; the Rt. Hon. Sir Ughtred James Kay-Shuttleworth, bart., Liberal member of parliament for the Clitheroe division of Lancashire and an educational reformer; Sir Francis Knollys, private secretary to King Edward; Arthur Hugh Smith, chairman of the national union of conservative associations, who married a daughter of Gen. Wadsworth, of New York; Lt. Gen. Sir Francis Grenfell, the governor of Malta, and Algernon Bertram Mitford, the diplomat and trustee of the Wallace collections.

The king has instituted a new order of merit, to which he has appointed Lord Wolseley, Lord Roberts, Lord Kitchener, Lord Kelvin, Lord Lister, the Rt. Hon. John Morley, the Liberal statesman, and George Watts, the royal academician.

His majesty has also instituted a new order for civil servants entitled the Imperial Service order.

VISITORS SORROWFUL.

Americans Who Expected to See Coronation Hear of King's Illness at Sea.

LONDON, June 25.—(Copyright Cable.)—Passengers by the Philadelphia and the Augusta Victoria, who expected to arrive in London just in time for the coronation, were greatly shocked by the news which reached them just before they landed.

"We reached Portsmouth about midnight," said Major H. K. Bird, secretary of Governor Odell of New York, who was on the Augusta Victoria. "When the tender approached us a voice shouted the news through the fog, and the effect was startling, everything being gay and lively on board. A hush fell on everybody."

M. A. L. McMurtry of Pittsburgh, who was a passenger on the Philadelphia, says the news was received by wireless telegraph about 10 o'clock this morning. The first dispatch was to the effect that the king was ill, and that an operation had to be performed, and that the coronation might be postponed. Later dispatches confirmed this and gave further particulars. There was much sorrow among those on board when the news became generally known.

FRIDAY, JUNE 13, WAS UNLUCKY FOR THE KING

It Was Then That the Illness Which Has Stricken Him First Appeared.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 25. — From an apparently authoritative statement, it has been learned that the king's trouble probably originated from a late supper which his majesty partook of after a fatiguing day on Friday, June 13, when he attended the long court.

On the following day he complained of abdominal pains, and was seen by Sir Francis Laking. In the afternoon he was feeling much better. He left for Aldershot, but a recurrence of the trouble necessitated the presence of Sir Francis Laking, by whose advice under circumstances already known, his majesty returned to Windsor.

On Wednesday, June 18, the first symptoms of perityphlitis showed themselves. These seemingly disappeared, and the king's health commenced to improve until Monday evening, when his majesty journeyed to London. There was then an exacerbation of the symptoms and the operation was inevitable.

Service at St. Paul's Today.

LONDON, June 25.—The authorities of St. Paul's cathedral, by request, have arranged a solemn service of intercession for the King's recovery, to be held tomorrow at noon. The general public will not be admitted. Only ticket holders to the postponed Westminster abbey coronation ceremony will be present.

LADY PAUNCEFOTE SAILS.

Will Be No Change in Arrangements for Removal of the Body of Her Husband.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Among the passengers on the American liner St. Paul, which left for Southampton this morning, were Lady Pauncefote, widow of the late British ambassador, and her daughters, Misses Maud, Sybil and Audrey Pauncefote.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—It is stated that there will be no change in the arrangements already made for the removal of the remains of the late Lord Pauncefote to England, as a result of the king's illness. It was the plan to have the funeral ship Brooklyn reach England about July 14, after the coronation ceremonies were over. The navy department today received a telegram announcing the departure of the Brooklyn from New York for Annapolis, where the remains will be taken aboard.

day on the inflammation of the vermiform appendix. It is reported in the Lancet today. In the course of the lecture he mentions that the death rate from appendicitis is about 5 per cent, but that an operation during an acute attack is attended by great risk. In fact, he places the death rate due to operations at 20 per cent.

The King is to be prayed for in every parish church in the country. The archbishop and the bishops desire that tomorrow be used as a day of intercession for the King and authorize the clergy to choose special psalms and lessons. The primate recommends the use in public and private for some days of the Collect in the office of the visitation of the sick in the prayer book, "Hear Us Almighty God and Saviour."

The chief rabbi today offered up a solemn prayer of intercession for the king at the Bayswater synagogue during the morning service. He is sending to Hebrew congregations in the United Kingdom a form of prayer for the recovery of the king, and on behalf of the queen and members of the royal family, to be used in the synagogues at each service.

Prayed for by All.

The Fiji troops at their regular prayers last evening prayed for the king's health. Roman Catholics and other religious bodies are all arranging that prayers should be offered for the king's recovery. A solemn service of supplication will be held at Salisbury cathedral tomorrow.

Very many persons are busily spreading abroad the statement that the king is suffering from a cancer.

Men in their clubs, women in their boudoirs, people in the streets repeat the story one to another with wearisome iteration, usually with painful minuteness of detail. The reason for the persistent recurrence of the rumor is no doubt found in the melancholy fact that the late Empress Fredrick of Germany, eldest sister of his majesty and the duke of Saxe-Coburg, his younger brother, fell victims to this dread disease. The doctors in attendance upon his majesty state absolutely and emphatically that there is not the slightest trace of cancer or any other form of malignant growth.

HEIR TO THE THRONE LEADS A QUIET LIFE

Sketch of Career of Prince of Wales Who Will Reign as George V. of England.

LONDON, June 25.—In the event of the death of King Edward VII, his successor to the British throne will be George Frederick Ernest Albert, prince of Wales, and earl of Chester, duke of Cornwall and York, duke Rothsay, prince of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, and duke of Saxony, earl of Carrick and Inverness, baron of Renfrew and Killarney, lord of the Isles and great steward of Scotland.

Prince George, as he is always called—he will reign as George V.—is the second son of King Edward and Queen Alexandra. His eldest brother, Albert Victor Christian Edward, died on January 14, 1892. In England Prince George is known as "the sailor prince."

The next king was born June 3, 1865, and is consequently 37 years old. His years of strict naval discipline undoubtedly had the effect of toning him down and today the grave, quiet young man would hardly be recognized as the same sailor prince whose love of pranks and practical jokes endeared him to his people. He is still a good sportsman in the best sense of the word. He never gambles. So far as the world knows, Prince George today lives the quiet, blameless life of an English country gentleman.

Prince George was married to Princess Mary of Teck, popularly known as "Princess May," on July 6, 1893. The princess is the granddaughter of the first duke of Cambridge, Queen Victoria's uncle, and is, therefore, related by blood, though not closely, to her royal husband. Her mother married the duke of Teck and the Princess May, England's next queen, was born in Kensington palace on May 25, 1867.

While not a beauty, the princess is robust and healthy. She is a devoted mother, and the delight of her life is in her four children, all of them bright, healthy scions of royalty.

Of these four children, the oldest, Prince Edward Albert George Andrew Patrick David, will some day, if he lives, be king of England. He was born on June 23, 1894, and today is a healthy, well-grown, sturdy boy of 8.

MEDICAL MEN TALK OF KING'S CHANCES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, June 25.—The London doctors are discussing the king's case with interest, though, according to the professional etiquette of the country, not allowing their names to be published.

One well-known expert says: "The complications disclosed by the operation are serious. Our hopes lie in every drop of pus being evacuated. Any dregs remaining would inevitably excite grave complications. In any case, a sore strain is put upon the constitution of the patient. Much more depends upon his ability to resist the encroachments of the disease than upon anything medical skill can devise."

Another medical correspondent writes: "The king must have suffered for some uncertain time from symptoms in and around the appendix, so that his advisers were unable to encourage the hope that these symptoms might pass away, as they often do under the influence of rest and care, till a sudden accession of the symptoms indicated the presence of an abscess of considerable size."

Another doctor says: "Until the tubes draining the abscess have been removed, it is impossible to feel certain that the king will pull through. All indications of complications are often masked until the post-mortem examination. There are many cases on record where the disease has been discovered only after death from some extraneous cause. As to the necessity of an operation, it is true that in many cases of appendicitis in the young, the patient may recover without an operation. But the king is not young, nor was his majesty, I believe, in the best of physical condition. It was imperative if the life of the king was to be saved.

"How was the disease brought on and why was it not diagnosed earlier? Well, perityphlitis is frequently caused by a little particle of food, such as a grape pit or a portion of nut shell, lodging in the appendix. Whatever the cause, serious conditions are enhanced by a high nervous temperament and by excitement."

A NAVAL REVIEW NOW IMPOSSIBLE SAYS BALFOUR

Final Effort to Carry Out the Program Is Not Successful.

WOULD BE CROWNED ABED

King Wanted the Ceremony Performed There and the Parade to Be Carried Out Without Him—Stories of a Gypsy's Prophecy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 25.—Telegrams from all quarters of the empire tell of the canceling of proposed coronation celebrations. Hongkong, Simla and Australia all announce the substitution of religious services for the contemplated festivities.

The British transport Bavarian, which had been racing against time in order to land the war contingent of South African veterans who were to take part in the coronation procession and which reached Southampton yesterday, disbarked her troops this morning. The ragged, sunburned troopers were much affected when they received the news of the king's dangerous illness.

A final effort was made today to have the naval review carried out in some fashion, since it was considered deplorable that so many warships, home and foreign, should disperse without any official inspection; but the government leaders in the house of commons, A. J. Balfour, decided that it was impossible. The admiralty has announced that all entertainments planned for the officers and crews of the ships off Spithead have been cancelled.

Reception to Admirals.

Admiral Sir Charles Hotham, in command of the British fleet off Spithead, received all the foreign admirals on his flagship today. The commanders of the foreign vessels are awaiting instructions from their governments regarding their departure. The British fleet will begin to disperse June 30.

The only features of the coronation decorations, etc., escaping demolition are the illumination devices in London, and the bonfires which had already been laid on 300 hill tops throughout the United Kingdom. These, for the present, will not be touched, in the hope of using them to celebrate the king's recovery.

According to the Evening News there is good foundation for the rumor that it was the king's earnest desire that he should be crowned in his bed room, and that the procession of Friday should be carried out without him.

The King and the Gypsy.

The story of the king and the Epsom gypsy is being retold. According to this a gypsy who was supposed not to have known his majesty's identity told him that he could "rise high, to the throne itself, but would just fall short of his ambition at the last moment and would not be crowned king."

The same seer told King Edward that he would be so unlucky on the turf that even if one of his horses was going to win a race it would fall dead at the winning post. This prediction was fulfilled in the case of Counterpane in 1886. Later, at Homburg, a palmist is said to have foretold that the king would become ill as he started for his coronation.

Whether the stories are true or otherwise the coincidence of their being correct this year and the event of yesterday are regarded as remarkable.

KING'S TREE DYING.

Oak Planted by Albert Edward When Prince of Wales Cannot Be Saved.

NEW YORK, June 25.—In Central park, this city, are two trees, one an American elm, the other an English oak, which were planted by King Edward, then prince of Wales, in 1860. The elm has grown to be a big, strong tree about 100 feet high, but the oak has remained stunted and gnarled.

Two weeks ago Landscape Artist Parsons of the park department was told that the oak showed signs of dying, and since then he has used every effort to discover the cause of the decay and to save the life of the tree, but without avail. Mr. Parsons says it cannot be saved.

BIG CONTRACT COMPLETED.

Last Consignment of 32 Cars of Machinery for the Westinghouse British Department Loaded.

The British department of the Westinghouse Electric Company at East Pittsburgh was abolished yesterday. This department was established two years ago, when the machinery was started for the British plant, and it is abolished because the last shipment, 32 carloads, was completed yesterday and placed on the cars. They will leave this morning.

There were about 400 men employed in the department. Half of these have already gone to England to work in the new plant. The other men will be given work in other departments of the East Pittsburgh plant.

YALE CONFERS MANY DEGREES

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY MADE MASTER OF ARTS.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and Dr. Roswell Park Also Among Those Honored—Winners of University Prizes Are Announced.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 25.—At the commencement exercises of Yale university today among the honorary degrees conferred were the following: Doctor of laws, Roswell Park, director of the New York state pathological laboratory, one of the surgeons who attended President McKinley in his last illness; Henry Cabot Lodge, United States senator from Massachusetts.

Master of arts, James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet; Robert Curtin Ogden, president of the board of trustees of Hampton institute and chairman of the Southern Educational board.

Of the members of the graduating classes 282 received the degree of bachelor of arts, 126 were made bachelors of philosophy, the degree of bachelor of laws was conferred on 62, and for bachelor of divinity 19, while two candidates became bachelors of music and one a bachelor of fine arts.

The master of art degree was awarded to 58 candidates; master of laws, 3; master of science, 3; master of forestry, 8; doctor of medicine, 20, and doctor of philosophy, 20.

Prize awards were announced as follows: Cobden club medal for essay on economics, James A. Valentine, Breckinridge, Mo. James Gordon Bennett prize, Harry B. Chamberlin, Unionville, Conn., with honorable mention of Henry E. Colton, Campbellville, Ky. Deforest gold medal, Eugene H. Lehman, Pueblo, Col. John A. Porter university prize, Edward A. Brainiff, Kansas City, a student of forestry.

One of the most important announcements of the Yale commencement season was the reference by President Hadley in his address this morning to the plan of a group of Yale men to establish a mission in the far east.

This mission, which is the first of its kind to be established by graduates of any American college, is to be conducted along the broadest lines, carrying on evangelical, medical and especially educational work in a large student center in North China. It will be undenominational. The mission is to be under the leadership of the Rev. Harlan P. Beach of the class of 1878, at present educational secretary of the student volunteer movement, and from 1882 to 1890 a missionary in China.

President Arthur T. Hadley this evening announced that at the meeting of the Yale corporation early today appointment of a professor of mining engineering was made, and the tender was accepted by John Hays Hammond, a graduate of the Sheffield scientific school in the class of 1876.

MINERS OF CENTRAL FIELD STAYED IN

Failed to Respond to Call to Work Four Instead of Six Days a Week.

The miners of the central coal fields of Pennsylvania yesterday failed to respond to the call of President P. Gilday and the other officers of the second district of the United Mine Workers of America to suspend work so as to strengthen the position of the men in the anthracite fields. The district officers had called the men to work four instead of six days a week so as to cut off the production of Central Pennsylvania, which is alleged to be supplying markets of the idle anthracite collieries. Yesterday was the first day named for suspension.

Reports were received in Pittsburgh yesterday that the men of all the larger operations in the central field remained at work. President L. W. Robinson of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Iron Company yesterday notified Pittsburgh officers of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad that all the men are working. The railroad company controls the Rochester & Pittsburgh company and handles all its product. A prompt report on conditions was essential for the operating and freight officials of the railroad in this district.

In Mr. Robinson's report it was indicated that the men of the other heavy operations of the field had remained at work. It was estimated that the workings reported as in operation produce 15,000,000 tons of coal a year. These are the miners known to be operating, and there were no reports made of any suspending.

While the call to suspend on Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week during the anthracite strike was sent out by the officers of the miners in the central field, it is believed to have been at the instance of President John Mitchell. The action of the men is a strong and important indication of what the other bituminous miners may be expected to do if called to abrogate their wage agreements at the general convention called for July 17 or before then.

The attitude of the central field operators is that a two-day suspension would be a violation of the joint interstate agreement. This provides for an eight-hour rule for six days a week and the central field agreement is based on this. The order to suspend was issued by President Gilday on June 18.

SHAKEUP IN THE POLICE BUREAU IS SCHEDULED

Three Detectives and Several Policemen Are to Lose Their Positions.

CHANGES TO COME JULY 1

Inspector Whitehouse to Be Placed in the Detective Bureau and George Waggoner to Get No. 4 District. To Increase McAleese's Authority.

A general shakeup is scheduled in the department of public safety on July 1. Three members of the bureau of detectives are to be deposed and supplanted by men who have been serving in the police ranks. A number of policemen will be decapitated. Inspector Henry P. Whitehouse of No. 4 police district is to be enrolled as a city detective. It is alleged that Detective George Waggoner is to take his place. The reason for the changes in the detective bureau is political unfaithfulness and inefficiency. In the future Supt. of Police John McAleese will be recognized as authority over the police and detective bureaus.

Since the councilmanic elections in February, there has been a general feeling of dissatisfaction in the department of public safety. Director Leslie has not been sure of the political fidelity of a number of the members of the detective bureau. Three of them have been under suspicion. Director Leslie, Supt. McAleese and Supt. Demmel have conferred as to removing these men and last night Supt. Demmel said that a number of changes would be made, but would not give names for publication.

Supt. McAleese has not been satisfied with the work performed by the detective bureau. He claims that the members of this bureau are not disposed to work in unison with the police bureau. It is also alleged that for political reasons he is not kindly disposed to two detectives.

It is said the deposed members of the detective bureau will be supplanted by members from the police ranks. Thomas O'Malley, who has been acting as a clerk in the police bureau is to be appointed a front office man. O'Malley has been working for this position for some time. It is said that Director Leslie is in favor of making him a detective.

On account of the many complaints that have been made to Director Leslie about Inspector Whitehouse he is to be removed from that position and placed on the front office force. Detective George Waggoner, it is said, is to be made inspector. Detective Waggoner was seen yesterday afternoon and said the position had not been tendered to him as yet, and that he knew nothing about the intentions of the officials of the departments.

It is said that preliminary warning was given to the detectives yesterday afternoon. Superintendent McAleese called the front office men together and reminded them of the general inefficiency that had been displayed in their work. He also told them they would have to work in unison with the police department or he would be compelled to remove some of the men.

Director Leslie refused to say anything pertaining to the removal of any employes in the safety building. Director Leslie and Superintendent McAleese have been dissatisfied with the inactivity of the front office men. Some of these operatives told the reporter last night that they knew of the intended removals, but had nothing to say with reference to the matter. Some of the appointees of Roger O'Mara, former superintendent of detectives, are said to be slated.

HARVARD HONORS PRESIDENT WITH DOCTOR'S DEGREE

Chief Executive Made an LL. D. by His Alma Mater at Cambridge.

SYMPATHY FOR THE KING

In His Speech at the Alumni Dinner Mr. Roosevelt Speaks of England's Affliction and Also Pays High Tribute to Wood, Root and Taft.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cambridge, Mass., June 25.—Commencement at Harvard university was of unusual interest today because of the presence of President Roosevelt, a guest of Harvard, class of 1880, who received the honorary degree of LL. D.

There were other notable guests at the exercises, including Secretary of State John Hay, who also received the degree of LL. D., and the Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale of Boston.

In opening his address at the commencement dinner this afternoon President Roosevelt said:

"Let me speak for all Americans today when I say that we watch with the deepest concern and sympathy the sick bed of the English king and that all Americans in tendering their hearty sympathy to the people of Great Britain now remember keenly the outburst of genuine grief with which all England last year greeted the calamity that befell in the death of President McKinley."

Precautions Were Taken.

As a precaution for the safety of President Roosevelt, the college yard, usually open to all, was inclosed by a fence and only holders of degrees, officers, students and guests were admitted, and these by ticket only. No ladies were admitted inside the yard, and even students residing in the yard needed tickets for admission.

For today's events the weather was delightful. The president and Gov. Crane reached Harvard just before 10 o'clock. The candidates for degrees, in black gowns with simple distinguishing banners for the various departments, were assembled in the yard and the officers of instruction and government were waiting in Massachusetts hall. The visitors were escorted to Massachusetts hall, where they were presented to President Eliot.

At 10 o'clock, preceded by the senior class and the graduate marshal, President Eliot led the procession of fellows, overseers, state dignitaries, faculty, invited guests and alumni to Sanders theater, where the graduation exercises were held.

Degrees Conferred.

After the addresses by the commencement speakers the honorary degrees were conferred by President Eliot as follows:

Doctors of laws—Thomas Jefferson Coolidge, lately minister to the French republic; Addison Brown, United States judge, New York; John Hay, "by force of just and liberal thinking, the most successful diplomatist now living;" Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, from its youth a member of this society of scholars, now in his prime, a true type of the sturdy gentleman and the high-minded public servant in a democracy."

Among those receiving the degree of masters of art were Francis Blake, inventor of the Blake telephone transmitter, and Walter Reed, the army surgeon who planned and directed in Cuba the experiments which have enabled men to control yellow fever.

After the degree ceremonies President Roosevelt and Gov. Crane were driven to the home of President Eliot, and after a short rest the president visited two of the spreads, that of the Porcelain club and that of the alumni marshal, Morris Gray, at University hall.

The President's Speech.

The alumni banquet was held in Memorial hall at 2:30 o'clock. The Hon. John D. Long, president of the Alumni association, presided and introduced the speakers. The lists of toasts included responses by President Eliot, Gov. Crane, President Roosevelt, Secretary Hay, Prof. Alexander Agassiz and Malcolm Donald.

After referring to King Edward's illness, President Roosevelt said:

Mr. President, I see here today a gentleman at the table of whose LL. D., I assisted last year—the German ambassador—and he, in this capacity of sophomore doctor of laws (laughter) has come to see me initiated. President Eliot spoke of the service due and performed by the college graduate to the state. It was my great fortune five years ago to serve under your president, the then secretary of the navy, ex-Governor Long, and by a strange turn of the wheel of fate he served in my cabinet as long as he would consent to serve, and then I had to replace him by another Harvard man (laughter and applause).

I have been fortunate in being associated with seniors about three times and once as junior (laughter) and I should indeed think ill of myself if I had not learned something from association with a man who possesses that fine and noble belief in mankind, the lack of which forbids healthy effort to do good in a democracy like ours. I shall not ask of this associate, the junior senator, another Harvard man, Henry Cabot Lodge, because it would be difficult for me to speak of one who is my closest, staunchest and most loyal personal friend. (Applause.)

Praise for Secretary Hay.

I have another fellow Harvard man today to speak of, and it is necessary to paraphrase an old old saying in order to state the bald truth that it is, indeed, a liberal education in high-minded statesmanship to sit at the same council table with John Hay. (Cries of "Good," long and continuous applause).

Gentlemen, I want to speak of three other college graduates because of the service they have done the public. If a college education does anything it should do nothing to fit a man to render better service than he would do without it; if it does not mean that it means nothing, and if a man does not get that out of it he gets less than nothing out of it. No man has a right to arrogate to himself one particle of superiority because he has had a college education, but he is bound, if he is in truth a man, to feel that the fact of his having had a college education imposes upon him a heavier burden of responsibility, that it makes it doubly incumbent upon him to do well and nobly in his life, private and public.

I want to speak of three men who during the past three or four years have met that requirement—of a graduate of Hamilton college, Elihu Root, of a graduate of Yale, Governor Taft, and a fellow Harvard man, Leonard Wood—men who did things, did not say how they should do them, but did them themselves; men who have in fact that greatest of our national needs, the need for the service that cannot be bought, the need for the service that can only be rendered by the man willing to forego the material advantages, if it has got to be given at the man's own material cost.

The English Given Rewards.

When in England they get a man to do what Lord Cromer did in Egypt; when a man returns as Lord Kitchener will return from south Africa, they give him a peerage and a great sum of money. He receives large and tangible reward and our Cromers, our men of that stamp, come back to the country, and if they are rich people they go back to private life with the privilege of taking up what they can and of the strings left loose when they severed their old connections, and if they are unfortunate they are accused of mal-intervention in office (laughter), not an accusation that hurts them, but an accusation that brands with infamy every man who makes it and that relieves but fit on the country in which it is made. (Loud applause).

Leonard Wood left golden ago went to Cuba, has served there ever since, has rendered service of that country of the kind 1,000 years ago would have made him a hero mixed up with the sun god in various ways; a man who devoted his whole life to these four years and who thought of nothing else, did nothing else save to try to bring up the standard of political and social life in that island; to clean it physically and morally; to make justice even and fair in it; to found a school system that should be akin to our own; to teach the people after four centuries of misrule that there were such things as governmental righteousness and honesty and fair play for all men, and their needs as men.

He did all that. He is a man of slender means. He did it on his pay as an army officer and as governor of the island. Sixty millions of dollars passed through his hands and he came out as he had had to draw on his slender capital in order that he might come out even when he left the island. Credit to him. Yes, in a way. In another, no particular credit because he was built so that he could do nothing else. (Loud applause).

Attack Was Base.

He came out having done that and having cleared himself as disinterestedly to the good of the Cuban people in all their relations as man could. He has come back here and has been attacked forsooth by people who are not merely unworthy of having their names coupled with his, but who are incapable of understanding the motives that have governed him or to bring honor to this republic. (Applause).

And well, Taft, Judge Taft, Governor Taft, who has been the head of the Philippine commission, and who has gone back there. Taft, the most brilliant graduate of his year at Yale, the youngest Yale man upon whom that institution ever conferred the degree of LL. D., a man who won high position at the bar and then served as solicitor general. With all his tastes impelling him to a judicial career, and with an appointment to the United States bench, he was asked to give up the position in order to go to the other side of the world to take up an infinitely difficult and infinitely dangerous problem and to do his best to solve it.

He has done his best. He came back here the other day. The man has always had the honorable ambition to get upon the supreme court and he knew that I had always hoped he would be put upon the supreme court, and when there was a question of vacancy arising I said to him: "Governor, I think I ought to tell you that if a vacancy comes in the supreme court, while it would give you an opportunity to be put in the position you would like to have, I think I ought to tell you that if such a vacancy should occur I do not see how I could possibly give it to you, for I need you where you are."

He said to me: "Mr. President, it has always been my dream to be in the supreme court, but if you could offer me a Pattesship now and at the same time congress should take off entirely my salary as governor, I should go straight back to the Philippines, nevertheless, for those people need me and expect me back, and believe I won't desert them." (Applause.) He has gone back, gone as a strong friend and helper to help them, up and along the stony and difficult path of self-government. (Applause) to do his part, and a great part, in making the American name a symbol of honor and good faith in the Philippine islands; to govern with justice and with that firmness that absence of weakness which is only another side of justice. (Applause.)

He has gone back to do all of that because it is his duty so he sees it. We are to be congratulated, we Americans, that we have a fellow-American like Taft. (Applause.)

Tribute to Secretary Root.

And now, Elihu Root, who unlike myself, Mr. President Eliot, but like most of you present, comes of the old New England stock, whose great-grandfather stood beside Leonard Wood's great-grandfather at Concord Bridge (Applause); Elihu Root, who had worked his way up from being a poor and unknown country boy in New York to a position where in a year or two he had the leadership of the bar of the great city within his grasp, gave it up, made the very great pecuniary sacrifice involved in giving it up and accepted the position under President McKinley of secretary of war, a position which for the last three years and at present amounts to being not only the secretary for war, but the secretary for the islands, the secretary for the colonies at the same time; who has done the most exhausting and most responsible work of any man in the administration, more so than the work of the president, because circumstances have been such that with a man of Root's wonderful ability, industry and conscientiousness the president could not help but place upon him work that made the task ore under which almost any other man I know would have staggered, has done that and done it absolutely disinterestedly.

Nothing can come to Root in the way of reward, save that which is implied in the knowledge that he has done something which hardly any other man in the union could have done as well as he has done it. Having brought before him continuously questions of the utmost interest to decide, questions upon which life and death hang, questions the decisions of which will affect our whole future policy, questions that affect the welfare of the millions of people with whom we have been brought into such intimate contact by the events of the Spanish war and whose welfare must be a prime consideration from now on. He has done all that with the certainty of attack, with the certainty of misunderstanding, with the certainty of being hampered by ignorance and worse than ignorance; that he could not do the best that was in him, only the best that conditions would allow of. It was all Abraham Lincoln could do, incidentally. He has done it. The has done it. Wood has done it. These three men have rendered that service. I can do nothing for them. I can show my appreciation of them in no way save the wholly insufficient one of standing up for them and for their works and that I will do. (Long and continuous applause.)

WILL BE PUNISHED.

President Roosevelt Declares That Native Filipinos Must Suffer for Torturing American Soldiers.

BOSTON, MASS., June 25.—This evening President Roosevelt was the guest of honor at the military banquet at the Algonquin club. During his address he said:

"Within the last fortnight there has been an appalling outrage committed in the Philippine islands. Four men were captured, and after being kept for a little while, were put to death by torture. You have heard very little of it, and the reason is because those four men were the United States uniform. For that deed, if it is possible to exact punishment, punishment will be exacted. (Loud applause and waving of handkerchiefs.) You know that any infringment of the laws of war will not be tolerated for a moment, and that any man wearing our uniform who discredits it by torture, shall not be saved from punishment by any record of excellence in the past. But let the other side of the case be kept in view also. Let it be remembered that of all forms of cruelty the worst is the weakness which hesitates to use just a proper severity when just a proper severity is needed." (Loud applause.)

President Roosevelt left Boston over the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad for New London on the midnight express.

WATER INVESTIGATORS' REPORT TO BE CHANGED

When Presented in Select Council Criticism of Director McCandless Will Be Eliminated.

When select council gets the report of the water investigating committee next Monday evening it will amend it. All criticism of Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works will be stricken out, after which the report will be approved. Select Councilman John Upperman, who was a member of the investigating committee, will probably ask select council to take this action. At the same time Select Councilman W. J. Zahniser will likely rise and explain his action in signing the report. A spirited fight in select council may be launched.

The report of the water committee criticises Director McCandless very little except to state that he issued his celebrated water famine proclamation without conferring with Superintendent A. B. Shepherd of the bureau of water supply and distribution, and that the effect of this proclamation was to increase the consumption of water, instead of diminishing it, because people began drawing water into bath tubs, laundry tubs and every convenient receptacle against the hour when the distributing gates would be closed. This part of the report will be under fire in select council and will likely be stricken out.

It was stated on the floor of common council last Monday night that John Upperman of the committee would sign the report, but Mr. Upperman said yesterday that he had said he would sign the report after all criticism of Director McCandless had been stricken out.

"I do not think that Director McCandless should have been criticised," said Mr. Upperman yesterday. "When I told a member of the committee that I would sign the report it was with the understanding that this criticism should be expunged."

W. J. Zahniser, who signed the report of the committee with W. S. Woods and Dr. J. P. Shaw, will likely ask that he be given an opportunity to explain his vote as he does not desire to be placed in the attitude of criticising the head of the public works department.

New Traction Park—The Pittsburgh Railways Company will open on the Cox farm, about a mile from Homestead, in Mifflin township, a new park that has not yet been named, when the Homestead & Mifflin branch is ready to open.

Insane Slav Cuts Loose—A Slav who refuses to give his name, was arrested at his home, No. 1 07 Washington avenue, Braddock, yesterday, because he had smashed every article of furniture in the house. He is thought to be insane.

East Liberty Man Killed—Lawrence H. Brown of East Liberty was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by having a car fall upon him. He was employed as an airbrake repairer at the Pitcairn shops of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Stole Railroad Iron—Charles Thompson was sent to jail yesterday on a charge of larceny of railroad iron, preferred by N. A. Jeffries, special officer for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, before Justice Robert Wilson of Versailles borough.

Workman's Back Broken—J. W. Perry of No. 137 Wharton street, South Side, yesterday fell from the new Panhandle railroad bridge at Main and South Carson streets and had his back broken. He is a structural iron worker and will probably die.

School Board Deadlocked—There are five candidates for the position of principal of the East McKeesport public schools, and as each candidate has friends on the school board, that body is deadlocked. The board will meet again next week.

Drinkers Made to Suffer—Burgess Ira N. Fix of East Pittsburgh yesterday committed four men to jail for 20 days on charges of drunkenness. He also sent three men up for five days and one for 10 days on the same charge, because none could pay a fine of $5 and costs.

Suggested for Superintendent—It is said that P. K. Bechtel, superintendent of the Homeopathic hospital, can have the position of superintendent of the city farm at Marshalsea if he desires it. Director George W. Wilson has been acting as superintendent since George Lindermah resigned.

Runaway Orphan Arrested—Paul Wooster, 15 years old, an inmate of the St. Paul's orphan asylum at Idlewood, was arrested yesterday in the West End on a charge of having run away from the orphan asylum. Two weeks ago he ran away and was captured by the police.

Refused to Testify—Mary Caplan, 16 years old, a daughter of Henry Caplan of Munhall, has disappeared from her home, it is said, because she did not want to testify against Harry Newman, who has been sued before Justice G. W. Giles of Homestead on a charge of assaulting Mary.

Left the Front Door Open—When Mrs. Jane Means of Munson avenue, McKees Rocks, went out of the back door yesterday afternoon to talk over the fence with a neighbor she left the front door open. A thief took advantage of her absence and stole $62 and two rings from the table.

Filled Trunk with Water—J. W. Gist of No. 820 Wylie avenue was fined $10 and costs or 30 days to the workhouse yesterday by Magistrate Bernard McKenna. He was sued by his brother, who claims that, because he refused him money, he poured water into his trunk and smashed furniture.

Timekeeper and $1,000 Gone—Neil Hough, a timekeeper for the James Stewart Company, contractors, is missing from his house in McKees Rocks. It is alleged Hough has taken $1,000 belonging to the firm and workmen on the new roundhouse of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad at McKees Rocks.

Speakers at New Brighton—The program is not yet completed for the Christian Endeavor convention in New Brighton July 4 to 6, but it is known that C. E. Eberman, field secretary, and the Rev. J. F. Cowan, the Rev. John Bloomfield and the Rev. J. A. Barnes will be among the speakers.

Found Brother at Morgue—Mrs. Stalker of No. 108 Flowers avenue, Hazelwood, yesterday identified the remains of the man found Tuesday afternoon in the Monongahela river as those of her brother, Alexander Murdock, who lived with her. Murdock disappeared on April 5. He was a blacksmith by trade.

Iron Workers Fight—Henry Gibston of No. 4 Thirty-second street is at the West Penn hospital in a serious condition, and Matthew Jennings of No. 2036 Preble avenue, Allegheny, is locked in No. 5 police station. It is claimed that during a fight the men had in Clark's mill, Jennings struck Gibston in the face with a heavy pair of tongs.

Charges of Cruelty—Frank Zarnock of No. 2716 Josephine street is charged by the Humane society with cruelty to his step-daughter, Rosalina, 17 years of age. The trouble is caused by the girl wanting to get married to a man Zarnock does not like, and of the refusal of Rosella to marry the man Zarnock has selected for her.

Many New Doctors in Sight—An examination of medical students by the board of state medical examiners was held yesterday in the Fifth Avenue High school. Ninety-six applicants for license to practice presented themselves. The same examination is being held in Philadelphia with 349 on examination, making a total of 445.

Trouble Was Settled—The electric committee of Tarentum met last night and made an investigation into the trouble at the light plant among the employes. Engineer Baer, who claims he can save $1,500 per annum in running the plant, was turned down. The committee approved the action of the superintendent in discharging the men.

Unknown Thief Repents—William MacBroom, Sr., of Homestead was surprised yesterday when he received through the mail a pocketbook containing some small change which had been stolen from him at the Homestead merchants' picnic last week. The pocketbook contained a card with his name on it. When returned it was wrapped with a religious tract and mailed in a Y. M. C. A. envelope.

Paul H. Hacke Sued—Paul H. Hacke, a former member of the firm of Higgs & Hacke, which sold out to the Patterson Drygood Company, yesterday waived a hearing for court on a charge of assault and battery made before Alderman John Grootkinger by James S. Mould, who alleges he delivered an order from the Patterson company to Mr. Hacke notifying him to remain away from the store. He alleges Hacke created considerable disturbance when the order was delivered and also laid violent hands on Mould before leaving the store.

Money for Humane Society—The Western Pennsylvania Humane society yesterday reported having received the following monies: Charles Lockhart, $100; Ferguson Contracting Company, Brilliant Light Oil Company, J. M. Gilchrist & Son, and Squires Carriage Manufacturing Company, $10 each; Alpern Bros., J. R. Orr Company, Day & Co., Heating Bros., Bruckman Lumber Company, J. M. Riemenschnider and D. B. Keller, $5 each; Hasley Transfer Company, $8; O. Serafini, $3, and cash (Mrs. B.), $1. Fines, from Alderman C. F. Dyer, $80; Alderman Walter Wadsworth, $25; And Aldermen James R. Connor and John Grostzinger, $10 each, and from Agent Herman Brown of Franklin, $10. Total $202.

Dispute Over an Improvement—The select council "rump" committee on public works held a meeting yesterday to consider an ordinance for the grading of Batavia street. Ward Bros., owners of much property on the street, want it graded, as do some other lotholders, while McKinley & Co., who have a brick yard at the head of the street, contend that it will spoil the grade of another street and greatly interfere with their business. J. H. Ward made a statement that his firm would guarantee the city against damage and the ordinance was affirmatively recommended.

G. A. R. Men Interested—The members of the G. A. R. in this section threaten to prosecute a number of Lawrenceville saloonkeepers for selling liquor to Joseph Clampet, a veteran. Clampet came to Pittsburgh from the Soldiers' home at Dayton with $50. He was arrested several times for drunkenness. It is alleged that Clampet remained in the Lawrenceville district long enough for saloonkeepers to learn that he was intemperate and that they violated the law by selling to him liquor. Clampet was known as "Jo Patch," and yesterday was released from jail, where he had served five days. He is now without money.

Many Oil Companies Involved.

BEAUMONT, TEX., June 25.—A petition was filed with the Jefferson county district court today asking that a receiver be appointed for all oil companies having wells or owning property in the Pelham-Humphries survey. The suit is styled Jennie Halliburton et al. vs. J. S. Hogg et al. Two hundred oil companies are involved. The plaintiffs claim a three-fourths interest in the Humphries league and value it at $3,000,000.

HAMPERS BUSINESS.

Coffee Drinking Incapacitates Some People for Business at Times.

A gentleman from McBain, Mich., says: "Coffee drinking has cost me much, for during my life I have been many times so thoroughly put out of condition that I have been compelled to abandon business for a day or two at a time. The attacks of headache would commence on the right side behind the ear and become so severe as to totally incapacite me for any exercise, even mental. I have frequently had to take morphine to relieve the suffering. Sour stomach troubled me and I had a nervous heart that gave me a great deal of trouble.

"Four years ago I saw an advertisement for Postum Food Coffee which recited the ill effects of coffee on the nerves. I at once decided to make the change and leave off coffee and take on Postum. The result has been all that one could expect.

"I am never constipated any more, the bilious attacks never come on except from some indiscretion such as drinking coffee, which I am foolish enough to indulge in now and then. I have no more headaches, no more sour stomach and no bilious spells. I have not been sick to my stomach or had a nervous vomiting spell in three years. Am now 56 years old, and have better health and am a better business and more comfortable than ever before in my life. I certainly attribute the change of leaving off coffee and using Postum for I have taken no medicine to aid in making the change. The experience as stated is absolutely true. I am willing, if necessary, to attest to my statement to it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

The Democratic Candidates.

As was anticipated, the Democratic state convention at Erie nominated Robert E. Pattison for governor. Mr. Pattison has already served twice in that office. His private character is beyond reproach, and in his public career he has always shown a high, if sometimes mistaken, integrity. He is a Democrat to the backbone, and if elected, as he will not be, he could be depended upon to use his power to the utmost for the advancement of his party's interests.

It is gratifying to reflect that the high personal character of the two nominees for governor insures not only a clean campaign, free from mudslinging, but a decent administration afterward. Both men are good citizens; but Judge Pennypacker is not only a good citizen, but a good Republican as well, and the people of Pennsylvania in November will repeat their oft-expressed opinion that a good Republican is better than a good Democrat any day in the year.

George W. Guthrie, nominated for lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket, is the right man in the wrong place. A man of high personal character and genuine public spirit would have given strength to the ticket if placed at its head. In second position his nomination means nothing at all. A lieutenant governor's functions render it impossible that he should make any impress upon an administration. He is without influence.

Candidate Nolan is comparatively unknown. This is fortunate. He has no record. The senator from Cumberland, slated for secretary of internal affairs up to the eleventh hour, has a record. The flaw in it was discovered barely in time, so the Democracy naturally flew to a man who is without a record and who is not in danger of making one in official life. The campaign should be a clean and pleasant one, and surely no one is in doubt about the result.

The Erie Platform.

The platform adopted by the Democratic convention is strong in only one particular—the use of abusive epithets. Such things as there have been to be ashamed of in the administration of state affairs the Republican convention had already effectively repudiated, and its nominations guarantee they shall not be repeated. It was the part of discretion for the Democrats to not intrude any of the national policies of the party upon the attention of the people of Pennsylvania, but even this sacrifice is likely to be of little avail. A few good measures are championed, but in those the Democracy has no rights of priority, and they are almost submerged under the volume of vituperation which overflows so abundantly throughout.

From start to finish the document is a strained and labored effort to create false impressions, under cover of which the vital weaknesses of the party in the present contest may be concealed. In no particular does it serve to break the force of the party's national and state records, nor hide the woeful deficiency of real issues suffered by the Democracy. The candidacy of Judge Pennypacker served to take the vigor out of the contest for the nomination at Erie. It seems also to have left the platform-makers nerveless and aimless in their work, and even leaves the superabundant abuse of the paper without point and void of intelligent application.

Independence Day Plans Approved.

It is gratifying to the citizens of Pittsburgh that the plans made for the entertainment of President Roosevelt on the Fourth of July have met the hearty approval of Attorney General Knox. It was a foregone conclusion that they would be found satisfactory, but, nevertheless, it is a stimulus to local pride in achievement when the gentleman who stands so close to the president finds that nothing has been left undone which would enhance the pleasure of the chief magistrate's visit to the city.

President Roosevelt is eagerly looking forward to the celebration of the national holiday, in which he will play such a prominent part in Pittsburgh, and there is every reason for believing that anticipation will not be disappointed in the realization. The committees have worked hard, sparing neither time nor effort to make a splendid demonstration, and all that remains to be done is the completion of the celebration fund. The time is short, and all who intend giving should give at once.

Fading National Dishonor.

Charles M. Pepper, St. Louis World's fair commissioner to Cuba, arrived home from that island, graphically describes the industrial paralysis resulting from inaction of the American congress. This is a painful subject to the American people, but unless they discuss it as it should be discussed it will become a blot upon the fair history of the nation. It is the duty of the American people and of the President to bring every force to bear upon the recalcitrant minority in the United States senate to prevent the disgrace of leaving Cuba in beggary.

American intervention in behalf of Cuban independence deprived the island of the open market in Spain. It is only honest to give a fair substitute. The world understands that the United States exercises a virtual protectorate over Cuba; occupies its fortifications; guarantees its independence; forbids its transfer to any other power; advises it in its government policies; and to the United States the world will accord the shame of leaving Cuba to starve if the senate filibusters are permitted to defeat the just legislation for its commercial relief.

Undoubtedly a vast majority of the American people favors the reciprocity bill; a large majority of members of the house voted for it; a majority in the senate would vote for it if given an opportunity. The minority, representing states whose people heartily favor the measure, simply stands in the way and refuses to allow it to come to a vote. It is a flagrant exhibition of the impotence of senatorial procedure and an overwhelming demonstration of the necessity for rules in that body that will expedite the transaction of public business.

This is by no means the first time that a senate minority has trampled upon the principle of the right of the majority to rule, to the cost of the country. But it ought to be the last. If the majority may not enact what is good for the nation, then there is no republican government. A senate minority in control is a state of anarchy. In this case it is not merely an injury to the United States that is being inflicted, but an assault is made upon the very life of a sister republic entitled to the tenderest protection of our country. The same braggart minority that obstructs the progress of this legislation would interfere with the ratification of a treaty if the matter were in that shape. The radical remedy is the enforcement of business rules in the senate. That should have been applied long ago, but there never was a time when the demand for it was so pertinent as now. The honor of the nation is at stake and must be saved.

Canal Bill Agreed Upon.

Adoption of the senate isthmian canal bill by the conference committee practically assures its final acceptance by both houses. This is one act for which the congress can justly claim credit. The Panama route is the best of the many considered at various times, so the hope may be cherished that it can be obtained upon satisfactory terms. But if that cannot be there is still the assurance that the next best route will be taken and the work begun.

The isthmian canal has been a debatable and debated question for years, but recent developments have made it a necessity. In fact, conditions have made the case urgent. It will require ten years for construction, and by that time American commercial interests will wonder how there could ever have been any serious question whether such a waterway was needed.

Bryan as a Decliner.

Persons who thought it would be impossible to offer a nomination to Mr. Bryan which he would not accept with thanks now have an opportunity to revise their opinion. From the way in which he cheerfully became the nominee of all sorts of disgruntled organizations in days gone by, the belief that it would be constitutionally impossible for him to deny himself the pleasure of running for office when the opportunity offered was amply justified. But there is a place where even Mr. Bryan draws the line. There are nominations and nominations. He is willing to be the candidate of any number of parties for president of the United States, but not the nominee of any party or any two parties for governor of Nebraska. The Democrats and the Populists offered him the nomination on a silver salver, but he declined them both. He advised the two parties to harmonize, fuse and be happy, but he said he could not be their candidate.

Mr. Bryan's decision not to run for governor of Nebraska is wise. He can't win and he knows it, and he has no intention of being laid on the national political shelf by a defeat this year at home. The Democratic candidate for governor of Nebraska in 1900 lost the election by only 561 votes, while on the same day the voters of the state decided by 7,823 plurality that they did not wish Mr. Bryan to be president. As a presidential candidate he ran about 7,000 behind his party's state ticket, which is eloquent of the sort of honor this prophet of free silver finds at home and among his own people.

Alfonso and His Mother.

According to a dispatch from Madrid there has been a woeful change for the worse in the manners of young Alfonso since his accession to the throne. It is asserted that his mother is the special target for his abuse, her efforts to advise him being met with profanity, and that recently, in the presence of servants, he threatened to expel her from the palace if she did not respect his wishes.

It is hard to credit the story of such base ingratitude, for all that patience, care, self-sacrifice and love could do was lavished upon Alfonso by his mother. All throughout the regency her every effort was directed to preserving the throne for her son, and she displayed rare womanly courage for the accomplishment of that end, rejoicing with the boy when he was finally proclaimed king of Spain. If young Alfonso is guilty of the ingratitude described he deserves the scorn of the world; but the story is hard to believe.

American Sympathy.

The tenor of the bulletins in regard to King Edward's condition does not allay the general apprehension. The feeling of fear is augmented by a report that the surgeons have privately requested the London editors to prepare the people for the worst, though that report rests upon a nebulous foundation. In any event it is but natural that the English people should feel the gravest anxiety, and so near is the world drawn by modern communication that this feeling is shared by all civilized nations.

It will not be forgotten in this hour of England's deep distress that during the days of America's anxiety and grief, while the life of President McKinley hung in the balance, the English nation awaited with every mark of sympathy and sorrow the tidings from the bedside of the sufferer in Buffalo. With just as much sincerity do the people of the United States extend the hand of cordial and friendly sympathy to the people of Great Britain. Blood is thicker than water, and while in governmental policies and in social practices the two nations are widely separated, the kinship as English-speaking peoples is duly recognized in voicing a common grief.

As prince of Wales Edward was once the guest of this nation. He has long been regarded as the special friend of Americans, and the interest manifested in his coronation as king has been of the most kindly nature on this side of the ocean. That he has been stricken down on the very steps of the throne has awakened the keenest distress among our people. The great nation from whose loins we sprang is assured of the deepest and most heartfelt sympathy of the American people in this hour of her grief and dismay.

Dearth of Harvest Hands.

From out of the distant west comes the familiar cry for help in the wheat fields. Every year at this time the same story of perishing wheat crops because of a dearth of harvest hands finds its way eastward, and the woes of the Kansas farmer are reiterated with increasing variations on the sum he is supposed to lose finally unless he can persuade men to come and harvest his wheat crop at any wage per day the worker may ask. Either the western wheat farmer is incapable of learning from experience, or else the "harvest hands" of the middle west conspire each year to make trouble for the farmer by taking a vacation at this season. There are two sides to the yearly recital of woes from the wheat belt. The farmers regard the harvesting of their wheat crops each year as something to be accomplished at any hazard and without any reference to what is to come after. The aim of many is to get just as much work out of a "hand" for as little money as the laborer's own necessities and his position may make possible. The result of this is that the "emigrant" rarely ever returns the following season.

If by judicious and systematic inducements the western wheat farmers would establish a sympathetic understanding from year to year between the harvest emigrants and themselves, the evils complained of would be largely overcome. It is not that the wheat fields are so distasteful to idle laborers as that their work in them is not made tolerable nor offered upon terms that warrant the journey from distant homes.

Twenty years ago Pattison and Gordon were the representatives of the "young men in politics," for the redemption of the Democratic party. They are still there pleading for the young man to have a chance.

Mr. Bryan will doubtless recall Sam Fessenden's famous remark about the Almighty hating a quitter when he hears of the proceedings of the Erie convention.

If Col. Bryan and Col. Watterson have anything to do with it the fishing will be very poor at Buzzards Bay this summer.

And then, too, think of the loss that London will sustain in not having a public view of that Whitelaid Reid millinery.

Erie filed no objections to keeping the Democratic delegates and rooters for another night—at least the hotel men entered no protest.

The Harrisburg platform came near leaving the Stone administration out entirely, while the Erie platform puts nothing else in its pronunciamento.

There is such a thing as carrying the Pattison pitcher to the fountain once too often.

Pittsburgh should be as clean as she expects to be enthusiastic on the Fourth of July.

The Gordon Democrats wisely laid in a stock of arnica and lint in advance. They had been there before.

The unusually cool summer is being considerably overcome by the activity of Mr. Bryan's hot-air department.

Interest in the histories of the English Georges will likely be revived in view of the early accession of another one.

As a harpoon thrower Mr. Bryan is a wonder.

The Gordonites were never in it even from the start.

The water in the bay is about the only liquid left in Erie.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 25.

If the state commission in lunacy carries out its plan to establish a new reception hospital for the insane in this city it will be a great comfort to persons who fear a predisposition to mental trouble. The present plan is to hustle such sufferers to Bellevue. This great hospital has many good points, but there is a prejudice existing in some minds against the department known colloquially as the "insane pavilion." New Yorkers do not forget that a patient died there a year or so ago, and that some of the nurses were accused of ill-treating him. This is the popular aspect of the matter. There is another, held by scientific experts in the treatment of the insane, which has led to the project to establish in the boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn, respectively, branches of an institution which will be known as the New York Reception or Psychopathic hospital. The chief use to which these hospitals will be put will be the caring for persons stricken suddenly with dementia, instead of carrying them to Bellevue. The best of medical treatment will be at command, and it is believed that many more cases will recover than has been the case under the present system. Prompt and early treatment is important, and this has been impossible under the arrangements which have prevailed hitherto. There are many hospitals of this kind in Europe, but, excepting the detention ward of Albany hospital, there are none in this country. The new hospital to be built in Manhattan will accommodate 200 patients, while that in Brooklyn will have room for 100. The idea has been under consideration for some time, but only now has it been decided on. The hospitals will give particular attention to acute cases. The main object is to give early treatment to insane persons or those suffering from nervous afflictions which threaten to develop into insanity. New York has often been called a city of hospitals, and it deserves the title. There are institutions for the treatment of almost every kind of bodily ill, but not until now has it been thought necessary to have a hospital specially for acute insanity.

Last of "Ye Olde London Streete."

A place of amusement which was very popular some 15 years ago is at last disappearing from Broadway. It used to be known as "Ye Olde London streete." It was in a stone edifice, looking like a castle run to seed, with multihooped windows and old-fashioned heavy double doors. All visitors to New York were adjured "not to miss it." The kind of burlesque it enjoyed was much like that of the Eden Musee today. Knowing New Yorkers, after visiting it once, used to advise their country cousins, aunts and uncles to be sure to go there, just as they invite them to the Eden Musee and to the Aquarium in Battery Park nowadays. It was a capital place to go to once or twice. The whole place was laid out in imitation of a London street of three or four centuries ago, with the upper stories of the houses bulging low-browed over the rough and narrow sidewalk, while in open stalls below sharp-looking 'prentices kept up their cries of "What d'ye lack?" as they might have done in bluff King Hal's time. It was interesting and unlike anything of the kind anywhere else. Something like it was the Midway Plaisance at the Chicago World's Fair, but that was long after the "Olde London streete" in Broadway. Later, when the "streete" no longer drew remunerative patronage, the place became the headquarters of the Broadway Athletic club, and many a good bout of fisticuffs took place there while the Horton law was in operation. It is all over now, however. The site will be used for the erection of a wholesale drygoods house, and one more picturesque spot in Broadway will be gone forever. For there is nothing picturesque in wholesale drygoods to the ordinary observer.

Mr. Wilson Soon to Return.

Clifford R. Wilson, assistant manager of the Pittsburgh Bijou, who has been renewing his old acquaintance with Broadway for the last few days, expects to be home on Friday. This is his first visit to New York in ten years.

Dressmaker With Theater Ideas.

Another sanguine woman thinks she can make professional theatricals a social enterprise, with profit to the box office. She is Mrs. Osborn, a Fifth avenue dressmaker, who has acquired the stage germ through making clothes for actresses. She has taken a lease of the Berkeley lyceum, a place famous for amateur theatricals, and there she means to put on dramas and opera alternately, engaging a full company for each style of presentation. The curtain will not rise until 9 o'clock, so that dinner shall not be interfered with, and one of the features of the management will be the setting out of a large green room, where actors and audience may mingle between the acts. This may be all right, but I doubt whether it is wise to disturb stage illusion by having the performers hobnobbing with the public between whiles. It is too much like Corse Payton's habit of inviting the audience to the stage to take tea with the leading lady after the matinee at his theater in Brooklyn. Familiarity breeds contempt nowhere more surely than in the theater—and reciprocally, too.

The Circle to Open With Music.

After a running fight with the Paulist Fathers for about three years, the managers of the Circle Music hall, at Sixtieth street and Broadway, will open that resort on Saturday evening next. The Kaltenborn orchestra with some solo vocalists will furnish the entertainment. The Paulists, whose church and residence are near the hall, have opposed its being opened at a place of amusement, because they feared that it would bring disorder and an undesirable class of people to the vicinity of the church. The courts upheld the Paulists, and several managers have lost considerable money on account of being unable to carry out their plans in connection with the building. Charles Evans, formerly of Evans & Hoey, and W. D. Mann dropped $9,000 on it, for instance. The place has been a roller-skating rink and bicycle academy. It is near the lower entrance of Central park, and doubtless would become exceedingly popular were it allowed to be used for regular entertainments.

Failed in the Last Jump.

Another of those fake bridge jumpers was caught on the Brooklyn bridge this morning. He was a man of about 25, with his coat on his arm and "bridge-jumper" written all over him. Before he had finished his preparations to dive from the center span a policeman had him, as a score of policemen anywhere within half a mile of him could have had him. The general opinion is that it would have been better to have let him jump if he wished to do so.

The Alien Again Innocent.

"The" Allen was captured yesterday by "the captain with his whiskers," Chapman, on a charge of conducting a pool room. As usual "The" proved his innocence in court, and was discharged this morning. "Bis, I will foil him yet," hissed Police Captain Chapman, as he saw his prey slipping away from him.

Has a Castle in His Eye.

David McMahon, a wealthy contractor of Philadelphia, was a passenger on the big White Star liner Oceanic when she sailed from this port this morning. It is said that McMahon intends to buy a historic castle in Limerick. Whether he means to keep the castle in Ireland or bring it to Philadelphia, is a question that no one here seems to be able to answer.

King's Bedstead Is Old-Fashioned.

An evening paper has a half-page picture of King Edward in bed, with a doctor on either side of him, and a miscellaneous assemblage of gazers—the presence of whom in his bedroom must necessarily prove soothing to the nerves of a very sick man—comparing notes near the foot. The picture is impressive, although, of course, not drawn from life. The weakest part of the composition, it was held by the critics, is the bedstead upon which the king lies. It looks like one of these old-fashioned wooden concerns one finds in a very cheap country hotel or in a fourth-rate city boarding house. The artist's conception of a royal bedstead may be correct, but if it is, the furniture in Buckingham palace needs overhauling.

From the Cradle to the Water.

The Blankley family of Brooklyn—five of them and all celebrated swimmers, from the father down to the baby—have been appointed teachers of swimming in the swimming schools that the board of education has established in the public baths of the city. William H. Blankley, father of the "Blankley nymphs," as the girls used to be called, will be the chief instructor in the swimming school at the foot of Bridge street, Brooklyn. Four of his daughters—Mabel, Agnes, Grace and Adeline—will teach in the swimming schools in Manhattan, where they have taught for years. This is Mr. Blankley's first experience as a public teacher. The Blankley girls won fame throughout this part of the country when they first performed wonderful feats in the water off Fort Hamilton 10 years ago. They were brought up as a duck brings up her brood. As soon as a baby Blankley got out of the cradle for its first todle Mr. Blankley took it to the water to teach it to swim. There were eight of the Blankley girls and every one of them, with one exception, achieved fame as a swimmer. Swimming the Narrows from Fort Hamilton to Staten island—a feat that few strong and expert male swimmers have ever accomplished—was an ordinary swim for a Blankley girl.

Twisted Bit for Chauffeurs.

New York magistrates are becoming more and more severe with automobilists charged with exceeding the legal limit of speed. After holding Mrs. Huntington's chauffeur for trial in $300 bail the magistrates are keeping up the strictness exemplified in that action. Magistrate Brann today held a young man in $100 bail for trial for running through Central park on his auto at a speed of 15 miles an hour. The young man, whose name is Davis, said to the court: "Your honor, I have driven a machine over 3,500 miles, and never had an accident." This did not impress Magistrate Brann, who merely replied: "You must have been in the woods then, for you couldn't travel at 15 miles an hour in New York city without killing people. The trouble with you people is that you treat this city as you do Long Island. You've got to be curbed like an ugly horse, when we put a twisted bit in its mouth."

Boy's Speed Departing Friend.

When the American liner St. Paul backed out of her slip this morning to start on her voyage to Southampton she started amid more than the usual amount of jollity. The boys' band of the Abigail Free School and Kindergarten, in Sullivan street, this city, was there in force, and played several selections in honor of one of the passengers, no less a personage than John Fischer, who has made several large contributions to the school fund. Mr. Fischer blushed at the prominence into which he was brought by the music and cheering, but evidently he liked it, too.

Death of Merrifield Shocks Broadway.

Broadway suffered a shock today when it was seen that on several of the big hotels the flags were at half-mast. Immediately the word went around: "The king is dead." But he wasn't. The signs of mourning were on account of the demise of Edward L. Merrifield, for many years proprietor of the old Continental hotel at Twentieth street and Broadway. He was known to all the other men in the business and was very popular with them. Naturally, therefore, they paid his memory the tribute of half-masted bunting.

Croker Tammany's Only Hope.

John J. Scannell has declared that the only way for Tammany to be saved is for Richard Croker to come back to New York and stay here. Scannell's appeal for Croker has proved a body blow to the triumvirate. That trio of statesmen have discovered that its pronunciamento saying "Croker shall not come back"—the only expression it has ventured to put forth—has caused others to say "Croker shall come back." More than half the leaders who voted for the trimuvirs are following Mr. Scannell's example today, fully expecting Mr. Croker to yield, sell his English property and return to the control of Tammany.

One on the Fresh Conductor.

She was a pretty high school girl, and she was riding in a trolley car. Natural thing, of course, being in Brooklyn. When she got to her corner she signaled to the conductor to stop the car. He happened to be young and fresh and he paid no attention to her signal. He smiled at her with his very best smile, evidently thinking he would have some fun. But the high school girl did not see the fun. She jumped up, gave the strap that connected with the registed a pull and rang up one fare. "Now," she said, "that is one, and if you do not stop the car I will make it two, and three and four, and—" then the conductor woke up, gave the proper signal and the car stopped. The girl got off.

THE MAN UP A TREE

From a High Viewpoint.

DEMOCRATS at Erie acted as though they had never heard of Bryan or of free silver.

Cleanliness ought to be next to patriotism in Pittsburgh on the Fourth of July.

Citizens of Haiti are preparing for an election by loading their guns.

The backward summer had no effect in delaying the arrival of the sea serpent.

Monarchies and republics alike have a community of interest in sorrow.

Congress can be depended upon to make a busy finish.

The Democratic platform makes an expert dodge of national issues.

As ex-President Simon Sam managed to carry with him to Paris a goodly quantity of specie, he has lost interest in the approaching Haytian election.

From the hoots and groans which rise from widely separated spots, it is clear that there are yet several kinds of Democrats in the United States.

Pilgrims to Erie do not report having had a dry time.

But not even King Edward's experience will make appendicitis popular.

It all depends on the size of the nomination that William Jennings Bryan declines.

Then again, Bryan knows that he could not carry Nebraska this year any more than he could carry the state when he was running for president in 1900.

Our Remarkable Language.

"I've got a hair-raising story to tell!" exclaimed Hammersmith, as he burst into the clubrooms, where several members were hard at work killing time.

"Well, go ahead," said Tenterhook, speaking for the party, "but be sure you stick to the bald facts."

"Plain English."

"What is it that is the matter with King Edward?" asked one man in the street of another.

"I can't remember the name the doctors give it," was the reply; "but in plain English it is appendicitis."

The overhearer thought that there must have been in recent years a great many cases of this comparatively modern disease to justify calling the name "appendicitis" plain English.

It Is Time to Object.

A stanza in American College Sororities reads thus:

From college lawn to lecture hall,
Where brawn or brain is rife
The mystic name of future's call—
God bless our Yankee girls.

The sentiment of the fourth line is admirable, but judicious citizens can not approve of unfurlable brains for American girls.

His Only Chance.

He had manifested symptoms of proposing, and she had warded the avowal off for some time by those deterrents in the use of which women are so proficient, but at last she decided to let matters take their course.

"Miss Ethel," he exclaimed, fervently, "I love you! Say that you will marry me!"

"But, Mr. Asker," the fair girl replied, not without some agitation, "we don't know each other very well. Of course I feel highly honored by your choice, but really you could scarcely expect a favorable answer from one who knows so little of you!"

"That's just my luck!" exclaimed the discouraged young man. "I don't know what to do, for none of the girls who do know me well will accept me."

POINT BREEZE.

The Games' First Victim.

From the Baltimore Herald.

"Hello, Jinks! Why, I haven't seen you for several weeks? How's your health?"

"Poorly; every little thing-thong seems to affect me lately. Well, at any rate, you are looking like a king-kong."

"Feeling that way, except for a slight touch of spring fever."

"Yes, spring-sprung always affects me, too; makes my head ring-rong."

"What's thunder is the matter with you, old man—the way you've got to talking?"

"Nothing-thong," said Jinks, making a swinging movement of his arm through empty air as his friend backed away in amazement and alarm.

"I hear that you have become a great devotee to the fashionable fad of table tennis."

"Yes," he said wildly; "I like to have my fing-long and enjoy the banjo-sing-song of the game of ping-pong at every reception's going-wrong, while the celluloid sphere is on the wing-wong—I know that game 's the thing-thone!"

Gently the keepers from the asylum led him away to his padded cell, the first victim of the omnipresent game of ping-pong.

Found a New Market.

From the New York World.

When the fish commission gets too many goldfish on hand it sometimes sends a few around to various members of congress, with the compliments of the commissioner.

The wife of a first-term member from the west heard that fish were sometimes supplied by the commission. A few days ago she went to the telephone and called up the commission.

"I am Mrs. ——," she said, "wife of the member from Prairieville. I am going to give a little dinner tonight and I understand you send fish to congressmen sometimes. I wish you would send me up eight, aw, say six small lobsters or three large ones, for I am going to have lobster salad. Hurry, please."

A WONDERFUL BOY.

We met in the midst of a dream;
But I'm waiting for him to come true!
The style of his hose I've completely forgot,
But his eyes, I remember, were blue.

It was just 8 p. m. by the clock—
Which stood, I recall, on its head—
When his mother spoke up and said: "Kiss me, my son,
And run away quickly to bed."

I thought that the next thing would be
Loud wrath and perhaps even tears;
But instead—well, I really give you my word
That I've not been so staggered for years!

For he mumbled, this wonderful boy
(I can feel my astonishment yet):
"It's a pity I can't go at seven, when you How tired and sleepy I get!"

I felt myself falling as in
(In dreams chairs collapse without squeaking),
And when I came to the first thing that I heard
Was the voice of the fond mother speaking.

She was kind, she was patient, but firm;
And her calm words decided his fate:
"It is settled, my son, that a boy of your size Must learn to sit up until eight."

I sat on the floor, and I stared
In a dazed way from one to the other;
Then I said: "You are truly a wonderful boy,
And the son of a wonderful mother!"

PERSONALS

"Merchants and small tradesmen in every city in England will loose thousands of pounds by the illness of King Edward," said O. H. Hammond, a dealer in ships' supplies at Liverpool, England, while waiting for the gates to open at Union station last night. "When I left Liverpool, six weeks ago, all England was preparing for the coronation, which then gave promise of being the greatest in history. The loss to the London hotelkeepers will only be trifling, as their rooms were all contracted for. Those who have erected stands will be large losers. I am afraid that the king will not recover."

A. J. Roberts of Philadelphia, the inventor of an armor piercing shell, passed through the city to Denver last night. A company was formed a short time ago for the manufacture of this shell, and within the next month it will be put upon the market. It is said that it has stood all the tests known to the ordnance departments of England and America. The experimental shells were made at Frankford, near Philadelphia, and a number of them were sent about a year ago to England to be tested.

Miss Eda Hyndman, daughter of F. T. Hyndman of DuBoise, and Richard M. Wefner, son of P. E. Wefner, the well-known publisher of Akron, O., were married in the parlor of Hotel Lincoln last night. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. H. D. Lindsay of the North Presbyterian church, Allegheny. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served. Only the immediate friends of both families were present.

R. Nathan of Philadelphia, American representative of a Havana tobacco firm, is at the Lincoln. "The finer grades of Havana tobacco," he remarked, "are very scarce, as the American tobacco trust has bought them all up. This is bound to cause an advance in the higher grades of Havana cigars."

Prof. H. L. Fairchild of Rochester university, N. Y., and secretary of the geological society of America, is at the Monongahela house.

Thomas Dalzell, the Allegheny news agent, has been removed to his home from the Presbyterian hospital, where he has been ill of appendicitis.

Success at Last.

From the Baltimore Herald.

Slowly and gently we extricated the unconscious chauffeur from the wreck of his automobile. Even as we do so he opens his eyes, and, gazing pensively at the ambulance that was removing the first load of his victims, he murmurs faintly:

"What has happened?"

"You simply went up against it and bounced back," we answer, oh, so gently.

"And no skyscraper toppled over on me?" he inquires further.

"No."

"And I'm not the victim of a local volcanic disaster?"

"No," we answer, "the only seismic disturbance seems to be in the park board."

"And I suppose there was no subway explosion or no nothing; and I engineered the disaster myself?"

"You did."

"Well," he says, with a last splendid look of pride in his face; "I started in to break the record, and I'm glad I succeeded in breaking something!"

Then his brave spirit took its flight where "scorching" is in accordance with the established laws.

Barnum Was Facetious.

Mr. P. T. Barnum having told his Adirondack landlord, with great solemnity, that he hesitated to find fault with anything about the hotel when so much was agreeable, he was urged by the landlord by all means to be frank and do so. "Well," said Barnum, "it is only one thing. I have discovered with regret that your pepper is half peas." The landlord declared it could not be, but, on being assured that Barnum knew as much about pepper as anyone, he wrote a caustic letter to his grocers for sending him such stuff. They, knowing doubtless who the real complainant was, replied that, if he would spell "pepper," he would doubtless find half of it composed of "p's" and that which they would haul only the amount the orthography required!

Breaking It Gently.

From the Somerset Standard.

Gentle reader, the Standard has always refrained from the publication of shocking news—news that might have an electric effect upon the community and drive sober men to drink, but the time has come when such an item must be published no matter what the effect. We should like to break the news gently—to sort of pave the way by easy stages in order to lessen the shock, but we do not know how to go about it. The awful news must be told, and we shudder at the consequences as we tell it. The scales have been moved from the Somerset Diamond.

FROM THE EXCHANGES.

'Tis an ill wind, indeed, that blows no good. Now that it has been found that mosquitoes cannot stand soft coal smoke perhaps New Jersey will organize a trust to fully utilize the benefits to be derived from the discovery.

It is reported that 200 rattlesnakes were killed in one den at Fairoka, Ill. This is a fairly good starter for the snake story season. Of course, a little later, when the snake correspondents get fairly down to business, we may expect something more elaborate and startling.—Greenville News.

The residents of Ephraim, Utah, the agricultural center of San Pete county, where the crops last year were completely ruined by grasshoppers, have adopted a novel method of exterminating the pest, which is again threatening the crops. A series of entertainments has been arranged, the admission to which is one-half bushel of grasshoppers. The first entertainment—a dance—was held last night and 75 half bushels of grasshoppers were presented to the ticket man at the door. After the dance they will be brought to the center of the town and burned, providing fuel for a bonfire to properly top off the occasion.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Every fisherman knows that by June 15 the bass and salmon have had about all they want to eat in the way of bugs and smaller fish and they are not to be found hunting for food. Just now the river is too muddy to do any fishing, but those who were out before the mud came say they found the fish feeding on bugs, mostly locusts, and that it will be some time before the bass and salmon can be caught in large numbers.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

A multitude of small frogs made their appearance along River street this morning after the rain. They were about one-eighth of an inch in length and were so plentiful in number that one could not step without crushing them. Many people believe that they came down with the rain, but this is an entirely erroneous impression. The spawn is hatched out by the warm rain and that explains the reason why multitudes of them are seen after every rain.—Flitton Gazette.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Hugh Claney.

Hugh Claney, 94 years old, one of the earliest settlers in Bellevue, as well as one of the wealthiest men of the borough, died yesterday morning at the home of his son, Postmaster A. J. Claney, No. 56 Jackson street, Bellevue, of old age. Mr. Claney was a member of a remarkably long-lived family and a notable fact in the family history is that Mr. Claney died at the same age as his father, 94 years, and that Mr. Claney's wife died six years ago at the same age as her mother, 88 years. Mr. Claney was a native of County Down, Ireland. In 1839 he came to America on a sailing vessel, and after a voyage of two and one-half months landed in Baltimore. With his brother, Samuel Claney, who afterward became connected with the Bank of Pittsburgh, he took the overland stage coach for Pittsburgh. Two weeks after starting on their trip they had only reached Greensburg, and as this mode of travel was too slow for the brothers, they left the stage at Greensburg and walked into Pittsburgh. Mr. Claney settled in Allegheny and learned the carpenter trade with Samuel Rosenbaum, father of William Rosenbaum, the present president of the Bank of Pittsburgh. After serving his apprenticeship he went into business for himself and eventually became one of the best-known contractors of the North Side.

When the town of Pittsburgh was destroyed by fire in 1845, Mr. Claney was one of the crew of men who boxed up the gold and silver coin of the bank of Pittsburgh and helped to remove it to the Mechanics' bank. In the 50s Mr. Claney removed to Bellevue, where in 1857 the Bellevue Methodist Protestant church was organized in his home. Mr. Claney had been a member of this denomination for 36 years previous to the establishment of the Bellevue church, and it is believed that he was the oldest Methodist Protestant in the United States.

When Bellevue opened as a resident district Mr. Claney sub-divided his extensive land holdings and MISS LOUISE MAGDALINE GRABOWSKY, daughter of William Grabowsky, of the East End, and Alfred Cookman Barlow, of Boston, were married last evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride, in Fifth avenue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. David Gelsinger, pastor of the Grant Street Lutheran church. The decorations, combining white and green with a touch of pink, were beautifully carried out in white and pink roses and foliage, which were used profusely around the rooms and halls in vases and jardinieres, and banked upon the mantels. Southern palms, exotics and ferns filled in the corners and festoons of smilax adorned the walls, portieres, curtains and doorways. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by Miss Anna L. Demmler of the East End, as maid of honor, and James O. Otis, of Providence, R. I., was the best man. The ushers were Harry Johnston, Charles Treat, Rudolph Grabowsky, a brother of the bride, and Hunter Grubb. The gown worn by the bride was of white mousseline de soie over white taffeta, trimmed with lace and pearls, made with a full court train, and her bouquet was a shower of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore white chiffon over green taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The ceremony was followed by a supper and reception from 7:30 until 8:30, after which Mr. and Mrs. Barlow departed for the east, with the congratulations and good wishes of the 300 guests. Upon their return they will be at home on Wednesdays after September 1 at No. 5360 Fifth avenue.

Wilson-McKeever.

The wedding of Miss Jean Wilson and Harry McKeever, both of Irwin, took place last evening before a brilliant assemblage of guests from Irwin, Pittsburgh, Greensburg and many other parts of Iowa. The United Presbyterian church of Irwin was handsomely decorated with flowers, ferns and potted plants. The bride was given away by her father, Samuel Wilson. She was attired in white crepe de chine, en train, over taffeta, trimmed with tulle and appliqué, with a silk illusion veil, and carried a shower of bride's roses.

The bridesmaids were Misses Elizabeth Davis, of Sarah Congeware, of Irwin; Miss Elsa Wiggins, of Blairsville, and Miss Jess Walker, of Greensburg. They were gowned alike in India linen, with sashes of pink liberty satin, and each carried an armful of pink carnations. The maid of honor was Miss Stella Wilson, sister of the bride, and she wore a gown of white batiste, trimmed with medallions and a white silk sash, and carried a cluster of pink roses. Josephine Taylor, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Taylor, was flower girl. The best man was Frank McKeever, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Ira Wilson, of Alexandria, Ind., brother of the bride, and John Klingensmith, of Irwin.

Bailey-Lawton.

St. Peter's Episcopal church, Oakland, was the scene of a very large and beautiful wedding last evening at 8 o'clock, the bride was Miss Ida Josephine Bailey, daughter of George Bailey, and Matthew Joseph Lawton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. H. Ward, the rector, he being assisted by the bride's brother, the Rev. Thomas Bailey. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by Miss Cora A. Smith as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Annie Burhart, Miss Etta Haddock, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Dorothy Frederick and Miss Virginia Bailey, sister of the bride. John E. Lawton attended the groom and the ushers are Alexander Nevin, Henry Nevin, Hart Burhart and Walter H. G. Hays. A reception at the home of the bride's parents on South Oakland square followed the ceremony at the church, after which the bride and groom took a late trip for Atlantic City. They will reside at No. 62 South Oakland square upon their return.

Christian-Feather.

On Friday evening Miss Martha Jane Christian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geore Napier Christian, of Aspinwall, was married to Herbert William Feather, at the home of the bride by the Rev. J. W. White, in the presence of the immediate friends of the two families. The bride wore a gown of silk muslin, lace trimmed, over white silk, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her only attendant was her cousin, Miss Pearl Roberta Christian, who was gowned in white swiss over pink silk, and carried pink roses. Frank Schroeder, of Toledo, O., was best man. After the bride and bridegroom had received congratulations from a stellar teacher in the Moorhead school of the groom is division auditor of the American Bridge Company. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Daisy Father of Rochester, N. Y., sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feather, son, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Raymond Marks of Philadelphia.

O'Brien-Egan.

Miss Rose S. O'Brien of Homewood avenue, Squirrel hill, and Robert W. Egan, a well known newspaper man of this city, were married yesterday morning in St. Paul's cathedral. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Lawrence O'Connell at 7:30 o'clock, but only a few of the relatives and immediate friends of the bride and bridegroom in attendance, and was celebrated with a nuptial mass. The bride wore a traveling gown of gray and was unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Egan left immediately after the ceremony for Cleveland, which will be the first stop on their wedding journey. Upon their return they will be at home in Princeton place, East End. The bride is a graduate of St. Xavier's academy and is an accomplished musician.

Lawn Fete at Avalon.

A lawn fete will be given by the ladies of the Presbyterian hospital auxiliary of Avalon for the benefit of the hospital this evening on the lawn of the Presbyterian church. Several novel features in addition to the usual attractions of a lawn-fete have been provided. The general chairman is Mrs. John Dailey, who will be assisted by Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Kirker, Mrs. Donahue, Mrs. Bonifant, Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. A. V. Baker, and Miss Ella Lang. Extensive booths and ample shelter are provided in case of bad weather. This auxiliary is one of the oldest and most energetic auxiliaries of the Presbyterian hospital, which is overcrowded and is doing an undenominational work. The chairman of the Avalon auxiliary is Mrs. O. M. Sanford.

Promenade Concert.

The annual opening of the roof garden of the Auditorium building at the main plant of the H. J. Heinz Company in Allegheny will take place this evening and will be a special event of much importance to the employes and their families. The program includes a concert in the Auditorium from 8 to 9 o'clock, after which dancing will continue until 1 o'clock. A second orchestra has been provided for the roof garden, which will be decorated for the occasion with flowers and foliage and will be illuminated with hundreds of colored incandescent lamps.

Tally-Ho Party.

Mrs. George E. Tener of Sewickley gave a tally-ho party last evening in honor of Miss Jane Cunningham Blair and her guests from St. Margaret's school at Waterford, Conn., the Misses Brooks, Stebbins, Kingsley, Nauman and Lord. The tally-hos, two in number, were safely curtained, which was necessitated by the heavy rainstorm which occurred during the drive to Economy, where supper was served, but the occasion was very much enjoyed by the party.

HOMES FOR THE HEAD MEN.

Westinghouse Company at East Pittsburgh Now in Real Estate Business.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company of East Pittsburgh, has bought from Justice William H. Semmens of Turtle Creek four lots in a plot of 48 lots bought last week by Justice Semmens from William L. Mellon on Braddock avenue, opposite the eastern end of the electric plant in East Pittsburgh.

The Westinghouse company will build handsome, modern residences of pressed brick for the heads of departments at the plant who desire to remove from Homewood, East End, and Allegheny to be nearer to their work. They also secured an option on the remaining 44 lots, and it is said they will buy the entire plan for the same purpose. The price paid for the four lots was $12,000. The price of the entire block was about $80,000.

The plan of the Westinghouse company is to have the heads of departments where they can be called at any time.

The pointed ruffles on the skirt of this dainty gown are called "handkerchief" ruffles, and are exceedingly new. The gown is made of pink mull, the bodice and skirt both are elaborately trimmed with narrow Valenciennes inserting. The sleeves are finished at the elbow with the same handkerchief effect. Girdle and long tie are of majenta silk.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Has been busy lately noting the prevalence of sashes. They are seen everywhere, on frocks of all kinds and styles, and on wearers of all ages. Most of them are pinned in the inevitable point in front and are carried back to make a double looped bow with floating ends behind, or a small crush bow with two long ends knotted at intervals. These sashes, to be as charming as their first advocates intended them to be, must be in sharp contrast to the frock with which they are worn. With white and black lawn, for instance, nothing is so effective as turquoise blue. On the contrary with black and white—that is, a mixture in which the black predominates, blue is not pretty, but one of the deep pink shades is most alluring. This is especially true if there is a black parasol lined with the same shade of pink, to go with the outfit.

For House Shoes—

The very high strapped sandals are in favor, worn over hose of delicate hue. A very smart young matron of the East End the other day wore a white gown with touches of pale yellow, black sandal shoes, whose straps were adorned with small velvet bows, and white hose on which scattered stemless daisies were embroidered in silk floss.

Grass Linen Gowns—

Are invariably lined with green silk, if the wearer is properly imbued with Parisian ideals. No other color seems to go so well with the shadowy summer fabric. For outside adornment some more latitude is used, and it is no uncommon thing to see a green lined gown with trimmings of black satin ribbon or of ivory white.

For Shirt-Waist Hats—

Brown seems to be the accepted color just now. Most of the smart simplicity which distinguishes these articles when turned out by fashionable houses is in the blending tones of brown and cream. This suits almost any shade of frock, and is pretty nearly universally becoming to American complexions.

Table Decorations—

Of fruit are a fad now among hostesses who like something new. At a dainty little dinner given to a selected few guests in an Allegheny home lately there was not a single flower on the table, only a few trailing vines coming from a center mound in which was a pineapple, some green plums and a heap of glowing cherries, arranged carelessly, as if for a picture study.

The Newest Belt—

Is of very loose meshed silk net, drawn through two embroidered rings at the back to a pointed fastening in front. Sometimes there are three strands or more, each boasting a jaunty little tail behind. These are charming to be worn with voile or etamine skirts and white waists. They come in black and white.

Elbow Sleeves—

On lawn frocks have brought the graceful long wrisied silk gloves back into favor. There are very few arms which will stand a street display, however dainty they may look at home, hence the favor of the long gloves.

Pretty Buckles—

Of gilt or silver or tortoise shell are shown for use by girls who wear their hair in the turned up braids so becoming to girlish faces. These are not like the catches used a year or two ago, but are broad and short, resembling belt buckles. They are fastened very close to the head, holding the braids or bunch of loose curls quite firmly.

Afternoon Frocks—

Of navy blue lawn, lightly pin dotted with white are much favored by elderly women. They are made usually without any trimming, save that afforded by a band of narrow embroidery on the upturned cuffs and an occasional narrow white vest of soft mull. Black velvet ribbon for belts and garniture is smart in combination with the blue.

Unique Calendars—

Are shown in a downtown shop. They are of bristol board with a conventional design of father time or mother nature sketched on one side. Behind an opening a slide is placed to be moved according to the months. Each move brings a new figure in view, April with tears, May with flowers and June crowned with roses and so on down to old father Christmas with his overflowing pack and jolly face. When artistically sketched and mounted these offer a grateful change from the old time table pads.

The Pretty Japanese Fern Balls—

Which became popular in Pittsburgh during the past season make charming fern dish fillers if cut in even halves. These halves may be placed in turn in the fern dish, while the other is laid out-doors in a cool shade nook, and well supplied with water. Occasionally a few seeds of some very small, bright-blooming flowers scattered among the interwoven roots of the ball will sprout and blossom.

To Pin Down—

The floating white stocks so universally fancied for shirt waists, pins of pearl or amber are shown. These have ball shaped settings and very sharp slender pins, warranted to go through the thickest folds of madras or linen.

Summer Night Robes—

Are sensive or round necked and with mere ruffles for sleeves. A bit of ribbon run through the beading which outlines the neck is used for fastening and no buttons or buttonholes are needed. For the dull leather slippers with colonial buckles, which look so natty with evening frocks, black and white stockings are worn. Some of these are elaborately embroidered, and one dainty pair worn by an East End girl last week had medallions of mull set on the instep, in the center of which was embroidered a monogram in black. This work is very easily accomplished by fingers accustomed to fine needlework, and is always effective and elegant when hand made.

The Taffeta Shirt Waist Suit—

Is at hand, both in black and colors, and with Parisian approval written all over it it cannot fail to find some foothold even in conservative Pittsburgh. It is made usually with a rather short flaring skirt, with side ticks or plaits, each stitched down flat to the main skirt with several rows of stitching in a contrasting color. The bodice may be plain, after the manner of shirt waists, or sailor-collared in the style becoming to most figures. It likewise is stitched plentifully in a contrasting color.

A Clever Girl—

Adorned the door of her den last week with amateur photographs of her various chums. These were simply mounted on the door, as on cards, pressed smooth and flat and then with India ink a broad black line was drawn around each. The pictures were put on in a design which filled each panel and gave a single strip down the narrow dividing portions, all of which has a pretty and unique effect.

In Summer Gloves—

A dainty novelty is the separate buttons of porcelain painted or of mother-of-pearl. They come in round or oval shape and are fitted with flat hooks which enable the wearer to affix them to any gloves she happens to be wearing. A pair of decorated china shown at a local private sale had the initial of the owner done in dull red, and around the edge were spattered shadows of the red, shading out to white as it approached the initial letter.

For Modish Maids—

Embroidered hose in white and black are shown. These are in silk or lisle, pure white, and have clocking or embroidered stripes or some small patterned design all over them in black. The stripes are usually made by vines running upward from the ankle, and some of these are intersprinkled with small polka dots. They will be worn with white frocks for the colonial buckled shoes which are a la mode just now.

Fancy Fans—

Of crepe paper in various colors are the fad of the moment, and may be made by any deft fingered girl. The paper is laid over an ordinary fan frame, and then with jet or spangles or irridescent colors a butterfly or a bird of bright colors is put on one side. These when delicately done make very charming additions to the light summer frock.

Gold Purses—

Are shown in some of the local shops for gift purposes. Some of these are studded with jewels, and one lovely affair in gold chain work has the monogram of the fortunate owner done in small turquoise stones in the center of the outside.

The Modest Daisy—

Is having a decided inning this year as a flower of fashionable approval. It has not yet appeared in the millinery world to any great extent, but it is embroidered on lingerie, stamped on note paper and shown in various designs as the sole ornamentation of the pretty trifles which women love to heap on their dressing tables.

Lace Trimmed Handkerchiefs—

Which are thoroughly and entirely up to date show some special design in the lace, which has reference to the taste and preferences of the owner. Thus the elderly woman will carry one with the narrowest and most conventionally designed border, all squares or other geometric figures, while the very young girl has rosebuds or bow knots or heart-shaped medallions on the fragment of linen which does duty as a handkerchief in her dainty hands. Some of the best dealers are catering to this latest plan, which, by the way, is not from Paris, but from England, and these show the daintiest of squares and ovals, bordered differently to suit all ages.

A Chiffon Hat—

Has a wonderfully softening effect on the face, especially if it be in pure white, and where the hat is black and the under brim white, with the additional lighting effect of broad tips or chiffon rosettes in black and white, the effect cannot be other than becoming, even to a plain face, while to a pretty one it is positively bewitching.

MEET IN PITTSBURGH.

Annual Convention of the Steam Engineers in September.

Pittsburgh members of the International Union of Steam Engineers are actively engaged in arranging for the annual convention of the organization, which is to open in Pittsburgh, September 7. The delegates will have headquarters at the Hotel Henry. The organization, although only six years old, is the largest labor union of building tradesmen in the country, numbering nearly 500,000 members. There will be nearly 400 delegates to represent them at the convention.

In Pittsburgh there are two locals affiliated with the International union, No. 66, composed of portable and hoisting engineers and No. 95, a new organization of stationary engineers. No. 66 was organized in 1901 with 18 charter members and now has 850, practically all of the craftsmen of the kind in the two cities. Its members did all the hoisting work on the Frick building and are now doing the work on the Farmers Deposit National bank building.

New officers of No. 66 were elected last night and will be installed next month. They are: Thomas Hughes, president; Frank Boyle, vice president; Martin Sullivan, recording secretary; William Patten, financial secretary; William Groves, treasurer, and Hollis Smith, business agent.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 25.—In a pinch the Pittsburgh-Chicago game could have been played this afternoon, but the vision of empty bleachers and the fact that tomorrow is an open date led the managers to postpone the argument a day. Showers in the morning pretty well drenched the west side ground, but two hours of sunshine and lake breeze had put the diamond in fair shape.

Just about 3 o'clock the clouds began banking up, and a few drops fell. Then the no contest sign was hung out. Afterwards a heavy downpour came, but only lasted a few minutes. Manager Clarke had arranged to play an exhibition game at Rockford tomorrow, but tonight called it off. By the postponement a clash in dates with the White Stockings will be on, Comiskey's men coming home tonight and playing Detroit on the South Side tomorrow. The result of these two games will be watched with interest, from the fact that it is generally conceded the White Sox have a cinch of the American league pennant and will be the team to accept the challenge issued by Barney Dreyfuss.

Will Play Crippled Teams.

Tomorrow both Pittsburgh and the White Stockings will play crippled teams, the Detroiters just now being in a rut. Mercer, Dwyer's star pitcher, is slated for manager of the Los Angeles team, and "Ducky" Holmes will probably accompany him there; while Elberfeld is said to be dickering with John T. Brush for a quick switch. Manager Clarke Griffith of the White Stockings came home from Detroit today ahead of his team, a sick man, he has been suffering from stomach trouble for a year or more. Griffith fears he has catarrh of the stomach and may have to quit ball playing. At any rate he will be out of the game for some time.

By precipitating Monday's row on the field, Joe Tinker has probably destroyed all chances the club had of finishing the season in second place. Brooklyn has taken a strong lead on Selee's crew, and it is doubtful if Capt. Lowe and his crowd can get together in time to overtake the Brooklyn veterans.

Ten thousand dollars is the sum that President Hart figures the little episode of Monday will cost the Chicago club. These figures are estimated and cannot be far from wrong when it is remembered that the effect of the record-breaking game of last Sunday has been entirely lost and has to be figured in with the loss of second place.

Selee Having a Hard Time.

Selee is much disappointed with the turn of events in the past few days, but he is by no means discouraged. He has been looking forward to the team's home coming with a great deal of hope that they would get together and play winning ball like they did in the early spring. He still figures that Schaefer will be back in a day or two, that Tinker will not be long out of the game, and that all will be well again.

DONOVAN'S WILD WORK.

It Gave Boston a Victory Over Brooklyn.

BOSTON, June 25.—Donovan was very erratic today, a wild pitch and a pass accounting for three of Boston's runs, while Long's throw into the bleachers was responsible for the two Brooklyn tallies. Irwin's home run was a feature. Attendance 2,000. The score:

BROOKLYN CLUB BEATEN.

United States Circuit Judge Dallas Refuses to Restrain Catcher McGuire.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 25.—Judge Dallas in the United States circuit court today refused the application of the Brooklyn National League Baseball club for an order restraining Catcher James McGuire of the Detroit American league team from playing ball with any organization other than the Brooklyn club.

The latter through counsel claimed that McGuire violated his contract and signed with the Detroit club. The case was argued on Monday last. Judge Dallas in his decision holds that the contract lacks mutuality and says that a suit for damages against McGuire is the proper method for the Brooklyn club to pursue. The judge cited several United States court cases as a basis for today's decision.

DETROIT'S CRICKET TEAM.

It Will Play the Pittsburgh Team Here on July 4 and Good Game Expected.

The next intercity cricket game will be played on the Pittsburgh Field club grounds July 4 between the home eleven and the Detroit Cricket club. The schedule of the Central International league, which was recently organized with Pittsburgh as a member, has fallen through for the present season, owing to the inability of Cleveland to fulfill the dates assigned to the Forest City. It is announced, however, that the organization is still intact and that work will be started early on the schedule next year and a full season played.

The cities represented in the league are Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit and Chatham, Ontario. V. Thayer, who is now playing with the Field club and comes from the Merion Cricket club of Philadelphia, is one of the leading cricketers of the country. He was selected several years ago for the All-American eleven, which played in England, and was the maker of one of the highest scores against the gentlemen of England when they played in this country.

THE TENNIS TOURNEY.

Some Surprises Among the Women Players.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 25.—The events in the women's national lawn tennis championship tournament today resulted as follows:

Women's singles, second round—Miss Atkinson beat Miss Chase, 6-1, 6-3; Miss Chapman beat Mrs. Fielding, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5; Miss M. Jones beat Miss Wymer, 6-4, 6-0.

Women's doubles, first round—Miss Moore and Miss Neeley beat Miss Haideman and Miss McClure, 6-0, 6-2; Miss Banks and Miss Closterman beat Miss G. F. Jones and Miss B. Banks, 6-1, 6-3; Miss M. Jones and Miss Atkinson beat Miss Rastall and Mis Chapman, 6-1, 6-1; Mis Steel and Miss Wymer beat Miss Mack and Miss Howell, 6-1, 6-0.

Men's singles, first round—H. F. Allen beat N. Wilson, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5; W. C. Grant beat N. P. Stauffer, 6-3, 6-4; W. H. Trotty beat J. S. Morris, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3; C. H. Bunting beat F. Feld, 6-0, 6-3; J. R. Carpenter beat F. S. Hovey, 6-4, 6-2.

Senators Played Uphill Ball and Won the Game.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Washington played a good uphill game today, and after tieing the score in the eighth scored the winning run in their final turn at the bat. Parent's fielding and Delehanty's batting were noteworthy features. Attendance 3,162. Score:

STATE COLLEGE TEAM.

Will Take Part in the Meet at Schenley Park on the Fourth.

The State college athletic team will be here for the president's meet at Schenley park on July 4. The boys were entered today by Coach Golden, who will be here to look after their interests. The athletes who are coming are William Miles, E. B. Hewitt and F. A. Whitworth of football fame; F. L. Saunders and W. E. Hornbaker—Whitworth in the 120-yard hurdle and broad jump, Saunders in the high jump and Hornbaker in the hurdles. The college teams usually scatter before the first of July and the entry of the State team demonstrates that unusual interest is being taken in this year's meet. The announcement of the reception committee that President Roosevelt will be escorted to the Schenley oval during the afternoon is no doubt responsible for the enthusiasm displayed by the athletes.

The new dressing room at the track was under roof before the rain came yesterday afternoon and bad weather will not delay the work of finishing the interior. The amusement committee had planned to visit the park yesterday and stake off the ground for the various shows, but the shower caused a postponement of the trip. The list of officials for the meet will be given out next Sunday and the entry list will be ready for publication early next week.

GOT POOR SUPPORT.

Sweeney Pitched Good Ball but C. A. C. Was Shut Out.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—Sweeney pitched good ball for the Carnegie's of Braddock today, but his support was very weak and he was inclined to be wild at critical stages. The visitors were hardly in danger of scoring at any stage of the game. Hardy pitched good ball. The game was called in the eighth inning. Score:

LAWSON IS FROM RACING FAMILY

IS THE THIRD BOY TO TAKE TO THE BICYCLE TRACK.

Has Made Quite a Record in the West. Manager Hurst Is in the East to Secure American and Foreign Racing Stars for Local Track.

The 30-mile motor-paced race on next Monday night between Gussie Lawson and Benny Munroe of Memphis, Tenn., promises to furnish the most interesting contest that has been arranged by the management of the Colosseum this season. Lawson comes from a family that is well represented on the cycle tracks, there being two brothers beside himself in the cycle racing game, and all are good riders. He is the youngest of the three, but he has already shown great form in the races which he has ridden in the east this season, and if he continues to improve he is bound to place himself high among the stars of the season.

Riding behind the big machines seems to come natural to him, and he is said to be one of the best pace-followers on the tracks. He is a hard worker and a plucky rider, and has always made himself popular with the crowds wherever he has raced. In the west, where he is better known that he is in the east, he is a great favorite and he has won a number of races on the Salt Lake City track. He will be paced by the same team that made the pace for Wilson last Monday, and as the machine can develop great speed some fast riding can be looked for.

Lawson is due to arrive in Pittsburgh some time today, and he will have all the opportunity to become acquainted with the Colosseum track. According to the reports of his riding he ought to be in condition to place his record at a considerably lower mark than it is at present, as the Allegheny track is much faster than any on which he has ridden this year.

Munroe will not reach Pittsburgh until later in the week. He has already spent some little time on the Colosseum track, and will not need to spend much time training here for the race on Monday night.

Manager Hurst of the Colosseum is in the east arranging for the booking of the best and most celebrated riders to appear at the Colosseum this summer. All the American and foreign stars will be here and the weekly meets will be of even more interest than they have been up to this time. The people of this city are becoming very much interested in cycle races and the best matches that can be obtained will be made here.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON SUNDRY CIVIL BILL

Nearly Half the Amounts Added by the Senate Are Finally Stricken Out.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The agreement on the sundry civil appropriation bill, which was concurred in by the house today, strikes out $574,350 of the senate amendment which remained in dispute after the last conference and which amounted to $1,283,950. Some of the items stricken out are the provisions for an intercontinental railroad commissioner, for statistics of marriage and divorce, for busts of Senators Merrill and Voorhees and for a hall of records in Washington.

A favorable agreement was reached appropriating $2,000,000 for the construction of buildings as an enlargement of military posts in Hawaii. The provisions segregating certain appropriations for military posts and allowing the secretary of war to accept donations of land for the establishment of military posts and national cemeteries were stricken out. The bill as finally agreed to carries $80,125,350.

To Open New Bank.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—A new banking institution is being organized in this city by Capt. M. S. Marquis, which will be known as the Home Trust Company. An application for a charter will be made at once, and the new concern will open its doors early in September. Associated with Capt. Marquis will be William R. Marquis and F. W. Marquis, with other local men. The capital stock will be $100,000.

To Build Trolley Line.

MEYERSDALE, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—A party of New York capitalists, representing the Metropolitan Trust Company of that city, yesterday went over the route of the proposed trolley line to connect Myersdale and Salisbury. W. W. Staub of Pittsburgh, a promoter of the railway and an officer of the company, says the bids for the construction of the road will be advertised for within the next week.

"The Bath," a beautiful picture ready for framing, and "Mary's Goat," a unique cut-out booklet for children, will be the two supplements of next Sunday's Gazette.

THE YALE CREW IS THE FAVORITE IN THE BETTING

Harvard Admirers Are Asking Odds From the Blue Backers.

CREWS ARE IN FINE SHAPE

The Practice Work Yesterday Was Very Light—Great Crowds Are Gathering at Gales Ferry to Witness the Races—List of Crews.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New London, Conn., June 25.—In final preparations for the strenuous work tomorrow, the practice of Yale's 'varsity eight was only a limbering up this morning. The crew went out with the freshmen eight, both doing a mile and a half of easy rowing by short stretches, and afterward covering the distance back to the float in pull at a moderate stroke. The two crews tried one racing start together, the 'varsity, as usual, getting the lead at the jump and increasing it during the 20 or 25 strokes which followed before they were stopped by the coaches.

JOHN F. BYERS.

The Allegheny Boy at Yale Who Will Act as Coxswain in the Big Race.

The condition of the crews remains satisfactory, and it is expected that all men will go into the races tomorrow in first-class trim. All are in good spirits and hopeful of success in their struggle with the wearers of the crimson, but the abilities of the Harvard crews are not under-estimated. In reference to the 'varsity race in particular coaches and men alike realize that they have to meet a very strong proposition in the Harvard eight and there is a feeling that only the hardest sort of effort can win the race for either university.

Will Depend on Endurance.

A Yale man who has watched the work of the crews said today that in his opinion Harvard, as well as Yale, has a fast crew, and that the race will depend largely upon endurance, being a question of which "can play the other out."

The 'varsity four-oar practice was also light this morning, consisting of a three-quarter mile row and trials of racing starts, the stroke being held at about 32 during these spurts.

Large numbers of Yale and Harvard undergraduates arrived here tonight directly from the commencement exercises at both institutions. The betting on the 'varsity race is quite brisk, with Yale the favorite. Harvard men demand odds, but the New Haven collegians are loath to give them because they are none too sure of the ability of their own crew and have a respectful opinion of the crimson eight. The situation is tersely expressed by the statement that Yale is not confident, while Harvard is sanguine.

Light work was the order for the Harvard crews today. The 'varsity eight did not go out at all in the morning and in the afternoon the work was so light that none of the men lost a pound in weight.

The 'varsity and freshmen eights left the float together in the afternoon and paddled side by side down to just below the half mile mark. Here Higginson sent the two crews away for a short racing start. Both got under way remarkably quick. The 'varsity lengthened out into its stride, however, after the fifth or sixth stroke, while the freshmen kept plugging the strokes in for half a minute and very nearly held their own with the older men.

Varsity Crew Starts Well.

Both crews then paddled slowly down the half mile and after resting a few moments they took another racing start, in which the 'varsity gained a few feet in twenty strokes. After this start both crews paddled back to the house in short, easy stretches.

There is a decided feeling of hope at Red Top tonight, and thorough conviction that the Harvard stroke and methods of training will win all three of the races tomorrow.

Following are the positions, names and weights of the men who compose the crews:

President Will See the Race.

The final details for tomorrow's program were arranged just before the evening practice. Capt. Kunzik of Yale went down to the Harvard quarters and with Capt. Bullard of Harvard tossed for positions. Capt. Kunzig called the turn of the coin for all three races. He selected the west course for the 'varsity eight and 'varsity four races and the east course for the freshman race.

The dispatch boat Dolphin steamed into the harbor at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon and, anchoring near the drawbridge, awaited the arrival of President Roosevelt. On board the Dolphin were Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Kirmet Roosevelt.

The presidential train is due to reach New London at 4 o'clock tomorrow. The president will remain on the train until 7 o'clock, when he will go off to the Dolphin. Shortly after noon, if it is his pleasure, he will be taken aboard the referee's boat.

Fall Caused His Death.

Thomas Gannon, 45 years old, married, of No. 340 Third avenue, died yesterday at the city farm at Marshalsea, where he was taken Tuesday afternoon. Gannon was subject to apoplexy and last week he fell down stairs and injured himself. The extent of his injuries were thought to be slight at the time and it was decided to remove him to the farm. After his arrival there he became ill and died the next morning.

Fire Company Saved House.

The prompt work of the Etna fire company last night saved the house of Simon Hanna of Vine street from burning to the ground. The fire originated through carelessness of the tenant, it is said, and the loss amounts to $1,000.

TOM SHARKEY KNOCKED OUT BY GUS RUHLIN

The Sailor Got His Quietus in Eleventh Round of the Battle.

SHARKEY'S WIND FAILS

Had Made a Rushing Fight of It, but the Akron Man Met His Rushes and No Damage Was Done—Ruhlin Fought Cleverly.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 25.—"Gus" Ruhlin of Akron, O., defeated "Tom" Sharkey of New York in the eleventh round before the National Sporting club tonight. The fight was held in connection with the coronation sporting tournament.

Sharkey started in a slight favorite at 22 to 20. Both fighters were in the acme of condition. Sharkey's seconds were "Tom" Ryan, "Bob" Sharkey and "Spike" Sullivan, while Ruhlin was seconded by his brother, "Billy" Madden and "Jem" Mace. Adopting forcing tactics, Sharkey held his own in the first three rounds, although Ruhlin always managed to miss Sharkey's lightning left whenever there was any force in it.

In the fourth round Sharkey was cautioned a second time for holding, and, although plucky, he appeared to be in trouble. Ruhlin showed great science and coolness. The fighting continued at a severe pace.

In the sixth round, Ruhlin, boxing in beautiful style, considering the fierceness of the combat, established a clear lead. Of course, the taller man's height and extra reach were of great service to him. The Irishman made several gallant attempts to turn the tide of battle, but his opponent would never let him get close enough. The end came in the 11th round, when Sharkey was so used up that his seconds wisely gave in for him.

The contest was the best between heavyweights seen at the National club since Peter Jackson beat Frank Slavin in 17 rounds, many years ago.

John Tener Can Still Pitch

JOHN TENER HAS NOT FORGOTTEN HOW TO PITCH

Allegheny Elks Ball Team Stacked Up Against a Surprise.

NINE BATTERS STRUCK OUT

Game Only Lasted Five and a Half Innings or the Strikeout Record Would Have Been Fractured. Northsiders Glad They Are Alive.

The art of pitching curves, shoots, slants, or any other old name, the twisters which are served up by the successful baseball pitchers of today is much like the art of swimming, in that it is learned and it can never be forgotten. Of course, as a pitcher grows along in years he may lose the speed and control he once had, but he still retains that old ability to curve and shoot the ball.

If anyone doubts this statement all that is necessary for a verification is a call on any one of nine young men who are members of Allegheny Lodge of Elks and who in a moment of mind abberation thought they were ball players. This crowd of seekers after diamond fame formed themselves into a team and sent out a defi that was calculated to throw all sorts of scares into the alleged ball players of sister lodges. This defi was answered by a team made up of the members of Charleroi lodge, which is the youngest lodge in the country, and it was thought presumptive to attempt any such thing.

Thought They Had a Soft Snap.

The Allegheny team, which has been in practice for the last three weeks, packed their bats and hied themselves to Charleroi yesterday for the purpose of having some fun with the youngsters up there and took along a few friends who were let in on the good thing and wanted to go along to enjoy the fun and help their boys celebrate a victory. At 7:00 last evening this same crowd returned from Charleroi, but their was a noticeable absence of smiles as well as a lack of victorious cheers, and there was good reason for this state of affairs.

It so happened that one of the staid citizens of Charleroi is a healthy-looking young man who stands 6 feet 5 inches in his stockings, and who is built in accordance with his height. This young man, who is president of the Charleroi bank and one of the charter members of the lodge of Elks up there, answers to the name of John K. Tener. To the baseball fan of 10 or 15 years ago it is not necessary to go into any detailed account of this young man Tener, but for the information of the younger generation of cranks it can be stated that he was at one time the premier pitcher of the National league.

In the later 80's as well as in the early 90's John K. Tener was the star twirler of the Chicago team and later he became a member of the Pittsburgh team. It was while with Chicago that he became a member of Spaulding's famous baseball aggregation, after that he became a Pirate. He did not remain with the Pittsburgh team long, as he quit baseball to take up a business life at Charleroi, where he has been successful and is now one of the solid men of that town.

Hadn't Forgotten How to Pitch.

Just because he is successful banker is no good reason why John should forget old habits, and he showed yesterday that his ball playing ability is not one of his forgotten lessons of youth. He was on the rubber for the Charleroi team, and what he did to those aspiring young men will ever remain a hideous nightmare to them. They would like to forget it, but there is where the trouble comes in.

The Allegheny crowd was badly fought humiliated as it was, but further humiliation was saved by a downpour of rain. The game only lasted five and a half innings, and in that time the North Siders only succeeded in scoring one run and how they ever got that run across the plate is a mystery to them. The Charleroi team in the meantime had gathered in 10 runs and nearly all of them were the doings of one John Tener, who slammed the ball all over the field, getting a home run, a two-base hit, and goodness knows how many singles.

In the five and a half innings nine of the Allegheny batters were made to chop chunks out of the rain-laden atmosphere and the others were almost frightened to death at the curves and shoots they were forced to glare at. The Allegheny crowd got home all right and brought back with them an assertion that the only Charleroi player they could see was John K. Tener.

The Gates-Drake Combinrtion Raked in Great Wads of Solid Cash.

BOOKIES GIVEN A JOLT

They Are Said to Have Dropped Close to $100,000 on the Victories of Conundrum and Flying Torpedo, Who Were Easy Winners.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 25.—Flying Torpedo won the Auburn stakes at Washington park today over a sloppy and slow track. He got off in front and led all the way, winning by half a dozen lengths from Little Scout, who finished gamely. Brubare was third. Flying Torpedo was bid up from $1,000, his entered price, to $4,505 by Steve L'Hommidieu. S. C. Hildreth claimed Harry New after the salling stakes for $4,710.

Today's sport was below the standard, partly because of the track conditions. The Gates-Drake combination won enormously in the betting ring on the victories of Conundrum and Flying Torpedo. It is said its winnings on these two races were close to $100,000.

Conundrum Won as He Pleased.

Conundrum won as he pleased. In the fifth race Vulcain, a strong favorite, led by ten lengths at one time in the contest, but would probably have been beaten out by Bragg had not T. Dean on the latter stopped riding 50 yards from the wire, picking up his whip again when it was too late. Summaries:

First race, one mile and 70 yards—Aladdin, 107, Coburn, 4 to 5, won; Prowl, 107, Davison, 5 to 1, second; Andy Williams, 97, T. Dean, 6 to 1, third. Time—1:50. Wild Pirate and Jingler also ran.

Second race, 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs—Foxy Kaw, 118, T. Dean, 3 to 5, won; Airtight, 115, Ransch, 4 to 1, second; Tomboli, 115, Woolburn, 7 to 1, third. Time—1:04 2-5. Ahola and Nicto also ran.

Third race, the Auburn stakes, selling, for 2-year-olds and upward, value to winner $6,776, 16 to 1 allowed—Flying Torpedo, 109, J. Mathews, 5 to 1, won; Little Scout, 105, Woolburn, 4 to 1, second; Brubare, 102, Beaucamp, 4 to 1, third. Time—1:52 3-5. Harry New, Rolling Boer, Digby Bell and Inspector Snea also ran.

Fourth race, selling, 6 furlongs—Conundrum, 112, Lyne, 11 to 5, won; Rog Tag, 109, J. Hicks, 5 to 1, second; Illuminate, 101, Henderson, 15 to 1, third. Time—1:19. True Blue, Lady Idris, Beauty Book, Ernest Parham, Hans Wagner, B. O. Fox, Allins Abbott and Fox Flyer also ran.

Fifth race, one mile—Vulcain, 112, Coburn, 8 to 5, won; Bragg, 93, T. Dean, 10 to 1, second; Alfred Vargrave, 112, J. Woods, 4 to 1, third. Time—1:47. A. D. Gibson, Brief, Foundling and John A. Clarke also ran.

Sixth race, selling, 6 furlongs—Stuyve, 107, Ransch, 4 to 5, won; Ivo Wigton, 112, Otis, 4 to 1, second; Chales, 114, Dade, 15 to 1, third. Time—1:19 3-5. Zibia, Evelyn Bird, Orla and Lass of Langdon also ran.

AMONG THE AMATEURS.

Gist A. C. would like to challenge 10 or 11-year-old teams. Address Harry Hoffner, 302 Gist street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Acorn Stars would like to hear from any 10 or 11-year-old teams. Address William Nuzum, Carmel, Allegheny city.

The Young Stars and Stripes are without a game for Saturday, June 28. Any 9 or 10-year-old team wishing games address William Gold, 1329 Fifth avenue.

The Fisher A. C. would like to hear from some good 18 or 19-year-old out-of-town team for July 4. Address J. E. Routley, manager, 718 Bingham street, South Side, city.

The members of last year's Pastime Reserve football team are requested to be present at the residence of Harry Kyang, 2816 Bedford avenue, this evening (Thursday) at 7:30 o'clock.

The Wagner Juniors challenge 14 and 15-year-old teams. They want two games at home for July 4 and Saturday games after July 26. A. C. Tweed, Box 187, Carnegie, Pa.

The South Side A. C. would like to arrange games with any good out-of-town teams for Sundays. For games please write John Jones, 1210 Muriel street, South Side, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Wilkinsburg A. A. would like to hear from any 15 or 14-year-old team for July 4 or any Saturday in July and August. Any 15-year-old and Clipper Juniors preferred. Address Louis Kinley, 1319 Water street, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

The Southern A. C. would like to hear from some good 15-year-old team for a game for Saturday, June 28, for July 4 and for July 19 and Saturdays in August. Address C. H. Weaver, 181 Southern avenue, Mt. Washington, city.

Primrose A. C. is without games for Saturday, June 28, and July 4. Would like to hear from any 15-year-old team. All players please report for practice this evening. Address Herbert R. Mosher, 910 Bernd street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Swissvale Athletic club plays the Our Boys on the latter's grounds on Saturday. This is the first time these teams have ever met. Bert and Neff will be the battery for the Our Boys. Stewart or Donaldson and Loper for S. A. C.

Fred Beerman has signed with the Woodlakes and will hereafter be a side partner to Doran and Dismer in the outfield. Beerman formerly played with the East End Athletic club and was well thought of by the members of that team, both as a good fielder and a reliable batter.

The Shetland A. C. is now in first-class trim, having received their new uniforms. They would like to hear from some good 15 or 14-year-old team. Sheridan Cringe Klein of the Pittsburgh High school team will captain the team. Address all challenges to Edward Leech, 209 Shetland avenue, East End.

The N. H. A. C. Second would like to hear from some good 14 or 15-year-old team for July 4 and 5. The N. H. A. C. will play the Pennots on Saturday, and expect a good game. All N. H. A. C. players are requested to report for practice on Tuesday and Thursday. Address John Wertenbaen, 33 Lenark street, Allegheny, Pa.

The Trentons are very desirous to arrange games with some good out-of-town teams for July 4 and 5 and would like to hear from the following teams: Claysville, Claysville Juniors, New Brighton, Economy, Freedom, Vandergrift Smithton, Derry, South Greensburg and Pitcairn. William Kennedy, manager, 9 Mansion street, Hazelwood.

The Trentons play the crack Suffels on Saturday, the 28th inst., on the former's grounds, and a great game is expected. The Trentons still have some open dates after July 5, on which day they meet Siebel's East Liberty team. The manager wishes it to state that he is ready to accept a return game with Hazelwood L. A. C. for July 12 or 19.

The Y. M. I. team of Lawrenceville has been strengthened by several well-known college players and J. J. Daly, formerly of Millvale and Schnectady, has been elected captain. They have June 28 and July 4 for two games open, and would like to hear from strong out-of-town teams. Address J. J. Connelly, 5428 Carnegie street, city. They will play Homestead July 4.

The Minersville A. C. defeated the Crescent A. C., 18 to 3 yesterday, in a one-sided contest on the latter's grounds. The Minersville players are Stevens, catcher; F. Kress, pitcher; Rye, short; Buckeye, first; Smith, second; Henderson, third; Smith, right; Hauhaur, middle; Robinson, left. Any 15 or 14-year-old teams wanting games address William Henderson, 3408 Webster avenue.

The Millvale Juniors contradict the report that has been circulated regarding the statement made by a member of some defeated team. They wish to say that they will play any 13 or 14-year-old team for the championship of Western Pennsylvania. Millvale won the championship in Hell and hope to retain the high position, as will be readily seen by their record so far, having won 15 out of 16 games played.

The Highwood A. C. claims the 9 or 10-year-old championship and any team disputing this claim can arrange games by addressing the manager. They have open dates July 4 (morning) and all Saturdays in July, except the 5th. all games to be played on their own grounds. They are now satisfied that the Highland A. C. are afraid of them, as the manager has refused to play on Highwood A. C. grounds. Manager Robert S. Ellis, 1847 Pointview street, East End, Pittsburgh.

Rain Spoiled Good Game.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—The rain this afternoon stopped the most interesting game of the season at the end of the sixth inning. The game was hotly contested and a number of sensational plays were made. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Punxsutawney	0	1	1

The Wonders Are Winners.

An interesting ball game was played yesterday at Sewickley, the Osborne Wonders, formerly the Sewickley Juniors, defeating the Park Place hotel waiters in a five-inning game, 11 to 5. The features of the contest were the batting of McKown and Over and the splendid fielding of Rocks and Applegate. Verning and Irwin were the battery for the Osborne Wonders.

Braddock Man Killed.

James Smith, 25 years of age, of McKeesport, was killed by a train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Ninth street, Braddock, at 10 o'clock last night. A brakeman saw him on the track and screamed at him, but Smith paid no attention.

Sure of Second Place.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 25.—Although the official ratings have not been given out of the standing of the organizations in the national guard at the spring inspections, it is unofficially known that Company I, Thirteenth regiment, Harrisburg, stands second. The official figures are being prepared.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

NEW CASTLE—The residence of William McKay of Pulaski township was destroyed by fire on Sunday.

EMLENTON, PA.—In several sections of the county great damage is being done to fruit trees by rosebugs. Peach trees are suffering the worst and farmers say that the crop will be totally destroyed.

BUTLER, PA.—Judge Greer has appointed Solomon Dunbar of Forward township county commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John Gillespie.

MASSILLON, O.—Robert Marshall was found dead in the barn which had been his home for 15 years. Although he owned a comfortable dwelling he refused to live in it.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Through the explosion of mixed gas in contact with water Tuesday night, at the plant of the American Car and Ship Hardware Company, William Whiting, the superintendent, was terribly burned. The office was destroyed.

MASSILLON, O.—The Massillon public school teachers have made a demand for uniform wages. They are organized and some teachers say there will be a strike at the beginning of the fall term if their demand is not granted.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.—Arthur Phillips of Guyandotte walked into a saloon last evening and opened fire on Edward Cowan, who was killed instantly. Both were colored. Phillips got away.

SCHOOL ART EXHIBIT.

Many Fine Drawings and Sketches Shown in Allen School Exhibit.

The annual reception and exhibit of pupils of the Allen school, Thirty-first ward, was held last night. Owing to the weather the attendance was small.

The building was tastefully decorated and upon the second floor an orchestra was stationed. The members of the Guard of Honor, a juvenile military organization, together with the members of the high school class, aided as ushers.

In each of the 25 rooms were exhibits of original manuscripts by the pupils. These exhibits ranged from the two-months' pupils of the primary department to the work of the scholars of the higher grades.

The drawings and work of the younger pupils was, of course, crude, but those in the upper rooms as a rule showed artistic ability and the result of careful training. The school no whas an average attendance of about 1,150.

Bliss Will Be Renominated.

DETROIT, June 25.—That Gov. Aaron T. Bliss of Saginaw will be renominated by the state Republican convention tomorrow for his second term as chief executive of the state is thought tonight to be a foregone conclusion.

BOOKIES GIVEN A JOLT

They Are Said to Have Dropped Close to $100,000 on the Victories of Conundrum and Flying Torpedo, Who Were Easy Winners.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 25.—Flying Torpedo won the Auburn stakes at Washington park today over a sloppy and slow track. He got off in front and led all the way, winning by half a dozen lengths from Little Scout, who finished gamely. Brubare was third. Flying Torpedo was bid up from $1,000, his entered price, to $4,505 by Steve L'Hommidieu. S. C. Hildreth claimed Harry New after the salling stakes for $4,710.

Today's sport was below the standard, partly because of the track conditions. The Gates-Drake combination won enormously in the betting ring on the victories of Conundrum and Flying Torpedo. It is said its winnings on these two races were close to $100,000.

Conundrum Won as He Pleased.

Conundrum won as he pleased. In the fifth race Vulcain, a strong favorite, led by ten lengths at one time in the contest, but would probably have been beaten out by Bragg had not T. Dean on the latter stopped riding 50 yards from the wire, picking up his whip again when it was too late. Summaries:

First race, one mile and 70 yards—Aladdin, 107, Coburn, 4 to 5, won; Prowl, 107, Davison, 5 to 1, second; Andy Williams, 97, T. Dean, 6 to 1, third. Time—1:50. Wild Pirate and Jingler also ran.

Second race, 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs—Foxy Kaw, 118, T. Dean, 3 to 5, won; Airtight, 115, Ransch, 4 to 1, second; Tomboli, 115, Woolburn, 7 to 1, third. Time—1:04 2-5. Ahola and Nicto also ran.

Third race, the Auburn stakes, selling, for 2-year-olds and upward, value to winner $6,776, 16 to 1 allowed—Flying Torpedo, 109, J. Mathews, 5 to 1, won; Little Scout, 105, Woolburn, 4 to 1, second; Brubare, 102, Beaucamp, 4 to 1, third. Time—1:52 3-5. Harry New, Rolling Boer, Digby Bell and Inspector Snea also ran.

Fourth race, selling, 6 furlongs—Conundrum, 112, Lyne, 11 to 5, won; Rog Tag, 109, J. Hicks, 5 to 1, second; Illuminate, 101, Henderson, 15 to 1, third. Time—1:19. True Blue, Lady Idris, Beauty Book, Ernest Parham, Hans Wagner, B. O. Fox, Allins Abbott and Fox Flyer also ran.

Fifth race, one mile—Vulcain, 112, Coburn, 8 to 5, won; Bragg, 93, T. Dean, 10 to 1, second; Alfred Vargrave, 112, J. Woods, 4 to 1, third. Time—1:47. A. D. Gibson, Brief, Foundling and John A. Clarke also ran.

Sixth race, selling, 6 furlongs—Stuyve, 107, Ransch, 4 to 5, won; Ivo Wigton, 112, Otis, 4 to 1, second; Chales, 114, Dade, 15 to 1, third. Time—1:19 3-5. Zibia, Evelyn Bird, Orla and Lass of Langdon also ran.

INDIANA GOT EVEN.

Williams Shut St. Vincent Team Out Without Hit or Run.

INDIANA, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—Indiana evened up old scores by defeating St. Vincent's here this afternoon by a score of 8 to 0. To make the defeat more bitter Williams did not allow his opponents a hit, and not a man crossed the plate. Fine fielding by McCreight and McKown helped Williams when St. Vincent seemed to have a little life. Giles, the crack St. Vincent pitcher, who was such a hard proposition for normal last month, was away off today. When he put the ball over the base Indiana either made safe hits or drove bunts toward the St. Vincent infield. Chambers and McCreight were strong at the bat for Indiana. About 50 students and teachers accompanied the visitors. They were loyal to their team and took their defeat manfully. Score:

ON TRAIL OF THE WOMAN WHO WAS WITH S. H. PALM

Mysterious Person Went to Philadelphia When Police Scent Got Warm.

OUT LATE VERY OFTEN

It is Believed That She Poisoned Palm—Her Behavior Attracted Attention at the House Where She Boarded and Caused Comment.

The mysterious woman who figured in the death of Sullivan H. Palm, who was poisoned on June 13 at the Boston lodging house in Diamond square, has made her escape from the city. It has been definitel ascertained that she went to Philadelphia. She left this city on June 17, just after the detectives located her in Mayflower street.

Every effort will be made to find her in Philadelphia. Members of the coroner's force also know the name of the woman and the place where she boarded while in this city. Her name they refuse to divulge for publication at this time.

The woman, it is thought, was employed in one of the downtown department stores. That, at least, was what she told the persons with whom she lived. It was also learned from them that she came to this city from Baltimore about two months ago.

The woman acted strangely while in this city. She assumed a mysterious manner with persons about the house where she lived. She went to work every morning at a regular time, but, to the surprise of the other people in the house, she would always remain out late at nights.

She Stayed Out Late at Night.

Sometimes she would not return to her room until 3 o'clock in the morning. This was talked of by the inmates of the house and her strange manner was also discussed frequently. It has been positively proven that the woman who rode on the Center and Larimer car No. 97 on the morning of the tragedy was the same woman who left for Philadelphia on June 17.

This car left Fifth avenue and Market street at 1:50 o'clock, about 20 minutes after the woman was seen to leave the lodging house. The description of the woman given by Conductor S. T. Kennedy of No. 3660 Ridge street and Motorman Patrick Maloney is identical with that given by the persons with whom she boarded.

The woman carefully prepared her flight. On the morning of her departure she came downstairs and said she was going to Philadelphia. She said she had accepted a position there and must be there Wednesday morning to enter upon her duties. Later in the morning an expressman called at the house and took her two trunks to East Liberty station. About one hour after this she left the house. This was the last seen of her.

Got Letters from Chicago.

It was learned by Deputy Coroner Louis Huckel that the patrolman in Mayflower street saw the woman going to her home on the morning of the tragedy. He says he was accustomed to seeing her so frequently on the street at a late hour that he paid no attention to her on that morning.

The woman received a great many letters while she was in this city. Most of them were postmarked Chicago. The baggagemaster at the East Liberty station knows that two trunks were sent to Philadelphia on June 17. There was no name on the trunks' tags, however.

Deputy Coroner Huckel is positive that the woman poisoned Palm. It has been definitely proven by W. Scott Besser, a guest at the lodging house, that the woman put a mixed powder in a glass of dark liquid and gave it to Palm to drink. Coroner's Physician Walter E. McCandless says Palm's death was caused by morphine or opium poison. Traces of both poisons were found in his stomach.

Was Nervous After Tragedy.

On the days following the tragedy while the woman was in the city she never left the house after night. On Monday she gave up her position and remained in her room most of the time after that. The other inmates of the house remember now that she was nervous and uneasy during this time. The only time that she would venture out of the house was after the supper hour, and then she would only go to a nearby drug store.

It has been learned that the woman was a person of some intelligence and was exceptionally neat in her attire. She told the boarders in the house that she had only been wearing glasses for a few months, and that she had been compelled to adopt them on account of nervous headaches.

BURGLARS LOOT A POSTOFFICE

Much Money, Stamps and Securities Taken Near Johnstown.

STREET DUEL WITH ROBBER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 25.—The postoffice and general store of P. J. Blough of Hooversville was entered by three men this morning and robbed of cash, checks, notes, stamps and securities valued at $17,000. A portion of the negotiable paper was found later two miles from the scene. The thieves made their escape on a Baltimore & Ohio handcar.

WAMPUM, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—Harry, the 16-year-old son of Joseph Stiglitz of this place, watched a burglar rob his father's store early this morning without making an outcry. Harry sleeps in the store with the clerk, Louis Mark. He was awakened by a noise to see the robber looting the store, but was afraid to raise an alarm. After the burglar disappeared he lay still and said nothing about the robbery until this morning. Constable Lindinger was notified and the country is being searched for the burglar.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—Officers James McKissick and James Spiers engaged in a street duel early this morning with a burglar whom they detected coming from the residence of John H. Black. On account of the many robberies here recently a corps of officers in citizens clothing has been patroling the outskirts for two nights. McKissick and Spiers separated to catch the man at the door, but he jumped from a window and had a start of several feet. The home of John Sontagg was also entered.

MOVES OF THE CREDIT MEN

Fund of $10,000 Ready for Prosecution of Debtors Who Fail Fraudulently—New Club Proposed.

The Pittsburgh Credit Men's association met at the Hotel Henry yesterday to hear reports of the proceedings of the Louisville convention. H. P. Howell of the Carnegie Steel Company; G. B. Hill of Doubleday, Hill & Co.; F. E. Freese of the United States Glass Company, and William L. Danshey gave informal talks on the convention.

It was announced that a fund of $10,000, raised during the last years, had been completed, and will be at the disposal of any member of the association who desires to prosecute debtors who have failed fraudulently.

It was resolved to introduce a law in the next legislature requiring that notice be given to all creditors when debtors propose to sell their stock in bulk. Twelve states have a law of this kind on their statute books.

The Pittsburgh representatives introduced a resolution in regard to agencies taking the matter of life insurance into account with regard to the assignment of ratings, which was adopted unanimously at Louisville.

A new business men's club was proposed and informally discussed. The members of the Pittsburgh association expect to form such an organization in the fall, at which men can meet, eat and talk over matters pertaining to their business.

ORPHANS SENT ABROAD.

Little Tots of Braddock, Having Lost Both Parents, Are Sent For by Relatives.

Two orphan children of the late Thomas Jones of Braddock sailed yesterday from New York for Wales. The children, Annie Pearl, aged 10 years, and Winifred, aged 12, were taken in charge by two Pittsburghers, who will see that the little girls are safely placed in the care of their relatives in Wales.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Jones, met with a fearful accident two years ago. She was ironing when a clothes horse fell upon the stove and caught fire. Mrs. Jones attempted to throw the clothes out of the kitchen, but her own clothing caught fire and she was so terribly burned that she died.

The children, after a time, were taken by a friend of the Jones family, Mrs. Elizabeth Derbyshire of Massillon, O., when the father fell ill. The latter died two months ago, and an aunt and grandmother of the orphans living at Cardiff and Dowlais, Wales, wrote to Mrs. Derbyshire asking that the children be sent to the homes of their parents, where they would be cared for kindly. Mrs. Derbyshire brought them to Pittsburgh and bade them godspeed to the allen land where they are to make their future home.

Train Pulled Out of Aliquippa Ahead of Schedule—Indignation Expressed.

As a result of a picnic held by the pupils of the Twentieth ward at Aliquippa yesterday, some dissatisfaction exists among members of the school board over the action of at least two members of that body.

The picnic was well attended and was considered successful, until a storm appeared during the afternoon.

The children and others sought shelter, whereupon at least two of the directors concluded that their efforts would be appreciated if they would arrange to have the special train return to the city earlier than the scheduled time.

In this they were successful and the train left the picnic grounds an hour and a half earlier than the time set.

Down in Aliquippa, a half mile from the grove, many of the picnics had gathered, especially at the hotels in the place, and when the train pulled out they were left

W. C. FOWNES' FAST GAME

Saved the Day for League Leaders by Concluding the Final Match 6 Up on J. B. Shea—All-Pittsburgh Team at Philadelphia.

The champion Highland Golf club team defeated the Allegheny Country club six on the Highland course yesterday in a pouring rain by the close score of 10 to 7. The result was in doubt until the finish of the last match between W. C. Fownes and J. B. Shea, the score standing 7 to 4 in favor of Allegheny, with the other five contests concluded. To W. C. Fownes belongs the main share of credit for Highland's victory, which is the fourth straight in two years over Allegheny. Fownes covered the 18 holes in 71 strokes, the season's record, being 70. Fownes was two up at the turn and seven up with two to play. Shea halved the 17th, and won the last, however.

Byers played the fastest golf of the match and 11 out of the total of 17 holes were scored by Byers and W. C. Fownes. Byers' medal score was 76, while Ormiston's was 82, C. B. Fownes', 75 and J. E. Porter's 77. A feature of the contest was the victory of C. B. Fownes, the boy player, over Porter.

This was the first match finished, and Highland was 3 up. W. C. Fownes, Jr., and O. D. Thompson finished even, and the tally was unchanged. Penn and Moorhead were even, going for the 17th, but the Alleghenian took the hole in two, with a 10-foot putt, and finished two up. Highland remaining one hole in the lead. Byers finished five up on H. C. Fownes, the Highland captain, and Allegheny took the lead. Ormiston was one up on Horne in the closest and fastest match of the day, and the tally stood 7 to 4 in the visitors' favor when W. C. Fownes saved the day for the champions. The match in the order they were concluded:

ALL-PITTSBURGH TEAM.

The Ten Local Golfers Who Will Play at Philadelphia on Saturday.

The makeup of the Pittsburgh golf team which will play the most important match ever decided in the history of local golf on Saturday against the All-Philadelphia team at Philadelphia, was decided upon yesterday. Some of the players left for the east last night and the balance will leave tonight, the local men playing over the Wissahickon course at Germantown tomorrow.

The match on Saturday will consist of 18 holes of straight match play in the morning and 18 holes of two-ball foursome play in the afternoon. The team selected by O. D. Thompson, acting for Pittsburgh, is as follows: E. M. Byers, O. D. Thompson, John Moorhead, Jr., D. S. Horne, J. E. Porter and W. C. Carnegie of the Allegheny Country club; H. C. Fownes, W. C. Fownes, Jr., and George Ormiston of the Highland Golf club, and R. P. Nevin, Jr., of the Edgeworth Golf club. W. C. Carnegie will be met in the east by the Pittsburgh players.

Women's Event Was Postponed.

The handicap play to have taken place on the new Country club course for the cup offered by J. McClure Hays for the women members was postponed yesterday on account of the rain. The date will be announced later.

"WANG" TO BE SUNG AT DUQESNE GARDEN

The Stock Opera Company to Make an Elaborate Revival of This Old DeWolf Hopper Favorite.

The well-known and successful comic opera, "Wang," which for several years was the vehicle of the ever-popular De Wolf Hopper, will be presented at Duquesne garden all next week, with the usual Saturday matinee, by the summer stock opera company. One of the scenes of "Wang" represents the river landing place of one of Siam's least-known towns, Peachaburi, 100 miles southwest of Bangkok. Although the king has a summer palace there and the place will some day be famous as a sanitarium for Europeans, yet its present obscurity made it a matter of great difficulty to obtain accurate data upon which to construct the scenery for "Wang." The scenery, which has been made from original sketches, will be used in all of its entirety on the Duquesne garden stage.

"Wang" has but two acts, yet the drops used in the production are costly and give the opportunity of making one of the most noteworthy of comic opera productions that has been staged in Pittsburgh for several seasons. Of "Wang" it need only be recalled that some one has said: "You might as well attempt to analyze a hayseed's dream as to analyze 'Wang.'" He might have added that, like the generality of such dreams, "Wang" is delightful, a dream in itself of beautiful scenery, beautiful women, laughter, fantastic costumes and delicious music. Among its best-known numbers are "The Man With the Elephant on His Hands," "The Babbling Brook" and "Every Rose Has Its Thorn."

In the palm garden, after the regular operatic performance, Mr. James D. Wilson, the local baritone singer, who made such a good impression at the garden last season, has been engaged as an extra attraction during the week of "Wang."

SEWERAGE SYSTEM IS MUCH MUDDLED

THE CITY HAS NO RECORD OF MANY OF THE MAIN SEWERS.

Some Remarkable Statements of Supt. Frank H. Schwartz of the Bureau of Construction Before the Committee on Revision of Salaries.

Pittsburgh's sewerage system is hopelessly muddled. There is no record of the location of many of the main sewers in the city. Many streets carry two sewers and others have been found to carry as many as three. All this is owing to the slipshod manner in which city work has been done and these statements are made on the authority of Frank H. Schwartz of the bureau of construction, who gave this information to the salary revision committee yesterday afternoon. Superintendent Schwartz also admitted that filtration employes and Highland reservoir employes are being paid out of his bureau. The committee did a good afternoon's work.

Superintendent Schwartz's statements concerning the sewerage systems were a distinct surprise to the committee. "No records have been kept," said Superintendent Schwartz. "One cannot tell much about the location of the majority of the sewers. The main sewers are not located. Even the Two Mile Run sewer, the Thirty-third street sewer, as it is known, is not located. For that reason, when a sewer is projected it is often a difficult matter to learn whether there is already a sewer in the street. Sometimes we cannot learn anything about it. Some of the streets in the East End have three sewers. This is due to the fact that there were no records of the existence of the former sewers. Some of them proved too small, which was due to the loose manner in which the work was done.

"The great amount of work which the bureau of construction has to do is also responsible in a measure for the condition of the sewers. The employes of the bureau do not have time enough to make a complete plan. We have not enough men to do the work. We have not enough draughtsmen. The city does not pay money enough, and the men can get positions with private corporations at better wages."

Superintendent Schwartz said that he always paid a political assessment and that many of his employes did the same, but that so far as he knew all of them did it voluntarily. He said the money was usually paid to the chief clerk of his bureau.

Superintendent Charles A. Ruhlandt of the bureau of deed registry showed the committee that he needed another draughtsman, and that it is almost impossible to get one at the salary which the city is willing to pay. He told the committee that he had paid political contributions for 17 years, long before he ever thought of taking a political position. He said the men in his office also paid it. He said he always did so voluntarily, and supposed that the case was the same with his men. Ruhlandt also said that he collected the money in his office and turned it over to the chief clerk of the department of public works.

Superintendent W. R. Brown of the bureau of engineering and surveys, testified before the committee concerning the number of his employes, the salaries paid them and the duties which they performed. He recommended a few increases.

Fourth Battery U. S. Field Artillery to Camp With the Pennsylvania National Guard.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—By direction of Lieut.-Gen. Miles, commanding the army, the Fourth battery, field artillery at Fort Myer, will proceed by marching to Gettysburg, Pa., to encamp there with the national guard of Pennsylvania, from July 12 to 19, inclusive, and then return to its station, also by marching.

Second Lieutenants Williams Browning and Clarence B. Ross, artillery corps, are detailed to assist Maj. William P. Duvall, artillery corps, at the encampment of the national guard of Pennsylvania at Gettysburg.

A Number of Physicians Also Go on Record as Opposed to Compulsory Vaccination—Awaiting Decision in the Bauman Case.

"Hundreds of letters are being received because of the article published in The Gazette on Sunday," said James S. Steele of No. 2166 Center avenue yesterday, "and I really had no idea that there were so many persons opposed to vaccination. I have letters from physicians and attorneys, from some of the solid business men and the small storekeepers. Here is one from an attorney in the Frick building:

"'Please enter my name on the list of those opposed to forcible vaccination, or vaccination in any form. I should be glad to help the good work of defeating this iniquitous infringement of personal liberty in any way possible, and believe active warfare should be carried on in the courts to a finish. As soon as arrangements are completed I should be glad to contribute financially, and as I am a member of the federal court here might possibly render some assistance professionally, for I have always been interested in constitutional questions, and in this one particularly so. As soon as a beginning has been made in the work of organizing I should be pleased to supply a list of quite a number of persons who, I am sure, would be only too glad to co-operate.'

Willing to Assist.

"There is a sample of the letters. The gentleman is not only willing to assist with his own name, but with those of others, and is ready to assist professionally and with money. Vaccination he calls 'this iniquitous infringement of personal liberty.' What else is it but that? Because some persons believe in vaccination is it right that it be forced on others? Here is a letter from an East End physician:

"'I see by Sunday's Gazette that you are forming an anti-vaccination organization, and as I am heartily in favor of such an organization I want very much to have you count me in.'

"Here is one from a physician on the South Side:

"'Please add my name to the list of anti-vaccinationists. I have been preaching against it for years in the county and state medical organizations. When you decide to call the meeting, don't forget me.'

"Physicians to a very large extent are afraid to take a decided stand on the question of vaccination for fear of injuring their practice, but I have a list of about 25 who have expressed themselves as willing to take a stand with us. One physician with whom I talked, when asked plainly if he believed in it, answered, 'Yes; for revenue.' In answer to the question: 'Has vaccination proved to be the safe prophylactic against smallpox that is claimed by the medical profession?' the New York Tribune of Wednesday, November 10, 1897, answered:

Some Smallpox Statistics.

"'Statistics prove that the current belief in the efficiency of vaccination is wrong. Thus in 1792 there was a tremendous epidemic of smallpox in Boston, Mass. In a population of less than 20,000 there were no less than 8,346 cases of smallpox, but of these 8,348 cases 8,114 were given by inoculation. (Report No. 123, presented to the house of representatives of Massachusetts, March 18, 1861, section on smallpox, page 10.) Three great epidemics of smallpox have occurred since the prevalence of vaccination in England and Wales. In that of 1837-8-9, with vaccination assisted and recommended, there died of smallpox 44,244. In the epidemic of 1863-4-5, with an increase of population of 7 per cent, and vaccination enforced by law, there died of smallpox 20,054, or an increase of nearly 30 per cent. In the epidemic of 1870-1-2, with vaccination for many years enforced with brutal energy and an increase of population of only 10 per cent, there died of smallpox 44,840, or an increase of 120 per cent. In Bavaria, in the epidemic of 1871, there were 50,472 cases of smallpox, of which no less than 29,420 had been successfully vaccinated. In view of these facts it is not wondered at that Dr. Creighton of England terms vaccination a 'grotesque superstition.'

"When a meeting will be called has not yet been determined upon. We await the decision in the Bauman case. If it is favorable to Mr. Bauman, there will be no need of a meeting; if it is not, then we will take immediate action. Meanwhile we will continue to gather the names of the persons who are opposed to vaccination by assault."

Car Builders on Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Fifteen hundred employes of the J. G. Brill car works of this city, one of the largest carbuilding concerns in the country, went on strike today because 22 men were discharged, as they allege, for joining a local branch of the International Association of Car Workers.

ARRANGEMENTS PERFECTED FOR FOURTH OF JULY

President Roosevelt Will Ride Over the Entire Boulevard Route.

ATTY.-GEN. KNOX PLEASED

The President Will Be Entertained in the Afternoon by H. C. Frick, and at Night Will Be Tendered a Dinner at the Schenley.

Arrangements have been perfected that will not be deviated from for the Fourth of July celebration. When President Roosevelt arrives in Pittsburgh at 9 o'clock on the morning of Friday, July 4, his car will be taken to Allegheny in time for him to take part in the parade. He and his party will take carriages and be driven to Pittsburgh. They will then take the places assigned to them and go over the whole route of the parade.

This was positively settled yesterday at a conference between Attorney General P. C. Knox and the members of the reception committee. Mr. Knox expressed himself as well pleased with what the executive and various sub-committees have done, and stated that he anticipated a patriotic demonstration that will eclipse anything of the kind in the United States.

The hour fixed for the exercises in Schenley park is 11 o'clock. As the president's carriage approaches the stand the band will play "Hail to the Chief." After prayer by the Rev. J. H. Prugh, Gen. Willis J. Hulings, in command of the Sixteenth regiment, as representative of the Sons of the American Revolution, will read the Declaration of Independence.

Will Sing "America."

President Roosevelt will then be introduced by Recorder J. O. Brown. At the conclusion of the president's address the German singing societies, which will be seated at the right of the grandstand, will sing "America." The public is invited to join in the singing. After the benediction by the Rev. T. M. Boyle, representing the Grand Army, the audience will be dismissed.

The president will then become the guest of Attorney General Knox for the remainder of the day. Mr. Knox has accepted for the president an invitation to luncheon at the residence of Henry C. Frick, where the executive will spend a portion of the afternoon. He will be escorted to Mr. Frick's residence by the Sheridan Troop, in command of Capt. C. S. W. Jones. On leaving Mr. Frick's residence the president will be conducted to the Hotel Schenley, where he will be the guest of Mr. Knox at a dinner which the attorney general has planned for a party of friends. Toasts will be over early, so that the president may see the fireworks from an upper window of the hotel that has been reserved for him. One of the features of the fireworks will be the portrait of the president, in fire, 30x100 feet in size.

Attorney General Knox will conclude arrangements this morning with the management of the Hotel Schenley for his dinner to President Roosevelt. Already 200 invitations have been sent out, and the management of the hotel has been ordered to prepare for even more than that number. The banquet will be held in the main dining hall of the Schenley.

Route Over Boulevard.

The route of the parade was considered yesterday, and it was decided not to make any very material change. It may, however, be shortened a little, but it will be over the boulevard. The route is considered to be the best that could possibly be outlined to give the president a sweeping view of the industrial, general business and residential districts of the city. On his ride over from Allegheny the president will get a view of the business and a portion of the parks and residence section of Allegheny. As he reaches the Sixth street bridge he will get a view of the conjunction of the two great rivers which form the Ohio. Along the boulevard he will have an opportunity to see some of the great mills and workshops that line the Allegheny river banks. He will also get a fine view of the residence section. His impressions of the residence district will also be enhanced in the trip from the park to Mr. Frick's residence and return to the Schenley. It is doubtful if a better arrangement could have been made whereby in a limited space of time the distinguished visitor could be shown so much of the city. Attorney General Knox says the president is anticipating his coming to Pittsburgh with much pleasure.

Train Arrangements.

The Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh will start a train at Wellsville at 5:30 on the morning of the Fourth, and stop at all stations, arriving at 7:15 o'clock. A train will start at Massillon, O., at 5 o'clock and stop at all stations to Salem. After that it will only stop at Beaver Falls. It is calculated that the regular trains, with extra coaches, will be able to handle all of the rest of the travel. The trains will return at 10:30 that night.

On the Panhandle there will be extra trains from Washington in the morning. At night train 45, which generally stops at Washington, will be run through to Wheeling to accommodate those who have come up on the regular trains. The arrangements for the service on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad were published several days ago.

Following are the contributions made to the fund yesterday:

Cash	1 00

Wager Brought Death.

NEW YORK, June 25.—According to statements of fellow passengers, Christian Laughemrich of Cleveland, O., who died at sea on board the steamer Kron Prinz Wilhelm, made a bet on June 17, when he boarded the steamer at Bremen, that he could drink two quarts of brandy a day and keep it up throughout the trip. He lasted two days. On the 19th he died of delirium tremens.

WIND BRINGS DEATH AND RUIN IN MANY PARTS

One Killed, Several Injured and Property Wrecked at Marietta, O.

DEVASTATION IN INDIANA

Long List of Injured Reported from Many Places and Three Deaths Already Known—Crop Damage Will Amount to Considerable.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Marietta, O., June 25.—As the result of a cyclone which swept over Marietta at 8 o'clock tonight, one man is dead, one fatally injured, a woman at the point of death and scores injured:

The dead:

JACK SPRAGUE, blacksmith of Constitution.

Fatally injured:

JOHN DAY, watchman, of Ohio Valley Wagon Company, crushed and internally injured.

MRS. DWYER, internal injuries.

Seriously injured:

FRED BUCHER, legs and arms broken.

MRS. JACOB LORENS, cuts and other injuries.

The hurricane, 200 yards wide, swept over Marietta bearing destruction in its wake. The wind blew at the rate of 100 miles an hour and houses were crushed together like eggshells. The hilltops of Marietta suffered severely. Houses were uncovered and blown to pieces.

In Norwood, a suburb of Marietta, three houses were leveled to the ground. Jack Sprague, a watchman, was caught under a falling chimney and instantly killed. Mrs. Dwyer, who lives in the same house, received injuries which will likely prove fatal. Fred Bucher, living across the street from Mrs. Dwyer, had both arms and legs broken.

The plants of the Ohio Valley Wagon Company, the Acme brick works and the Parkersburg & Interurban Electric Company were demolished. The Central Christian church was uncovered and partly destroyed. Dozens of residences were partly wrecked. All cars of the electric company are more or less damaged and the car barns are also badly wrecked. Many wires are down and the damage in the surrounding country is still problematical. It is believed there is great loss of life in Washington county from the cyclone and the attendant lightning.

Reports of damages are coming in from some outlying districts. Full details of the damage done and life lost will not be heard until morning.

Millions Lost in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 25.—The entire north central portion of Indiana was visited today by one of the most disastrous storms that ever swept over the state. The storm swept sections covering hundreds of miles, extending from Hancock county northwest through the northern portion of Marion county, Hamilton and Boone counties, and doing much damage in Tippecanoe and adjacent counties.

Thousands of buildings were razed, and tens of thousands of trees were uprooted and now blockade highways, railroads and traction lines. Crops were utterly ruined, causing a loss estimated at nearly $2,000,000. Fifty persons were more or less injured. But two deaths have been reported with authority. One was that of James Vanhoy, who was caught in the ruins of a collapsed barn near Pendleton, and the other, James Bailey, who was killed by flying timbers at McCordsville.

All wire communication between the cities and towns in the devastated district is cut off. Telegraph and telephone poles are down for many miles and it will require several days to establish any wire service. Trains are running irregularly. The crew of each incoming train brings from the north and east stories of the serious damage to property.

At Maxwell, Hancock county, the United States chain factory was ruined, all the buildings being destroyed. Seven workmen were injured, being caught beneath the wreck, all will recover.

At Cleveland, six miles southeast of Maxwell, the storm broke as the funeral of Mrs. Mary Earle was being held. The roof of an adjoining house was blown away and a piece of timber was hurled through the side of the house of mourning. It struck ex-County Clerk Sample, breaking his leg. Several others were slightly injured. Outside, three horses hitched to carriages were hurled by the wind against trees and killed. The hearse was demolished and the horses attached to it were injured so that one of them had to be shot. The funeral was postponed.

Two People Injured.

Ernest Hurst and E. Helms were badly hurt by being blown against the side of a house. Seven houses were destroyed and the postoffice was unroofed and one side blown out.

Between Cleveland and Greenfield all roads are blocked. In that section a heavy hail and rainfall after the wind had spent its fury. Crops are ruined and fields are several inches under water.

At Wilkinson five people were seriously injured, one perhaps fatally. Among the injured are Philip Dressler, Richard Shepard and Charles Swafford of Pittsburg, Ind. Four houses were destroyed and general havoc created by the wind.

East of Anderson, along the line of the Pennsylvania road, the railroad tracks were obstructed by fallen poles. From Oakland on to Pendleton, 184 poles are down. Through this section nearly every farmhouse is unroofed.

At Ingalls a glass factory was blown down and six workmen were more or less injured, though none fatally.

At McCordsville, Pickle & Co.'s general store was totally destroyed and the goods scattered over several squares. The Methodist church was blown down and 14 houses were unroofed. Two were blown down, one man killed outright and five persons were slightly injured. From this town east for miles farm buildings were swept away and crops are ruined. One farmer is reported killed.

At Castleton, in the northern part of this county, six buildings were destroyed. Several persons were injured. Hampton West's farmhouse was blown into a field 700 feet away. Mrs. Mains, aged 80, was buried under her house, but was only slightly injured. August Clifton was struck by falling timbers and may die. Five barns were destroyed and much stock was killed.

All incoming trains report great damage. The Monon station at Norton, north of this city, was lifted from its foundation and blown across the tracks. A few houses were blown down, but no deaths are reported. The Monon agent was slightly injured and an operator had his arm badly fractured.

At Wilkinson, the bottle factory and window glass factory were wrecked. Two men were hurt.

Between Milton and Richmond the damage was heavy. Farm houses, barns and trees were overturned. Many cattle were killed. Two persons were injured.

At Fortville one man was killed. This was James Bailey, who lived in the forest in a small house. He was killed by falling timber. No large buildings were destroyed.

YANKTON, S. D., June 25.—A heavy windstorm visited this section of the state last night, doing much damage to buildings and crops. The only injuries to persons, so far reported, were to members of Frank Bierce's family near Volin. The house occupied by them was destroyed and all the family more or less injured. Roscoe, the oldest son, 23 years old, and Mrs. Bierce, the mother, are not expected to recover. Ida, 20 years old, had her ribs broken and breastbone crushed. The wind reached the velocity of 90 miles an hour.

FINED FOR FLAGGING CITY "WHEEL BOATS."

John Thoma, a ship engineer from Wisconsin, was arrested for the third time in as many days yesterday afternoon. Yesterday morning he paid a fine of $1 and costs for drunkenness, and the morning before he paid the same sum for the same offense. When found by Officer John Dean yesterday he was flagging street cars at the four-way switches at Fifth and Sixth avenues.

He told the officer he could not understand what sort of compasses the pilots of those "wheel boats" used. When searched at the station on Monday he had about $80, and yesterday afternoon he had $20 $2. He said the difference had gone in police court fines and over the bar, and he did not begrudge a cent of it. He is a good-natured fellow, 56 years old.

BIG STEEL PLANT IS TO BE ERECTED

Mahoning Valley Independent Furnace Operators Projecting New Industry at Youngstown.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 25.—The leading independent furnace operators of the Mahoning valley contemplate the erection of a $2,000,000 Bessemer steel plant to be located in the western part of the city, across the river from the Ohio plant of the National Steel Company, and will begin its erection at once. The principal pig iron manufacturers interested in the erection of the plant are the Brier Hill Iron and Coal Company, the Youngstown Steel Company, which includes John and Henry H. Stambaugh; E. L. and Tod Ford, J. G. Butler, Jr., and others interested in these plants.

The cause of this move on the part of the furnace owners is that heretofore they have been compelled to depend on the United States Steel Corporation as a purchaser for their production, pig iron. They control large dock facilities near Willoughby, which were recently purchased, and it is said that a railroad will be constructed from the lake to this valley.

Julian Kennedy, the steel plant engineer, constructor of most of the Carnegie properties and also of the Ohio steel plant here, has been chosen as chief engineer of the plant.

UTAH MINING CAMP WIPED OUT BY FIRE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, June 25.—Mercur, the great cyanide gold camp and the second largest mining town in Utah, was practically wiped out of existence by fire today. The origin of the fire remains a mystery, beyond the fact that it began with an explosion of some kind in the upper story of the Prebis block, in which the Squirrah hotel and a saloon were located.

A short time after the fire broke out the telephone exchange was destroyed and all wire communication was cut off. Not less than 40 or 50 stores have been destroyed and not one is left in the camp. At least 1,000 people are without food and shelter. Gov. Wells and Mayor Thompson of Salt Lake City were appealed to for immediate assistance.

So far as known, however, no loss of life resulted. A conservative estimate places the total loss between $800,000 and $1,000,000, and the insurance at $250,000. The census of 1900 gave Mercur a population of 2,351.

TWO SHIPS MISSING.

The Ohio, With Treasure from Nome, Reports the Portland and Jennie 26 Days Out.

SEATTLE, WASH., June 25.—The steamship Ohio arrived from Nome today with $110,000 in treasure. She brings news of the first steamer to arrive down the Yukon at St. Michael, the Sarah reaching that point with $1,000,000 in treasure on board.

The Ohio reports all the Nome fleet, with the exception of the Portland and Jennie, having reached that port. When the Ohio left Nome June 16 the steamer Portland had been lost sight of for 26 days and the steamship Jennie about the same length of time.

NEGRO LYNCHED.

Before He Died He Confessed That a Dog Prevented Two Contemplated Murders.

LAUREL, MISS., June 25.—Wiley Campbell, a mulatto, who last Friday attacked Miss Alice Barefield near Cocoa, Ala., was captured today, fully identified by the young lady, whose throat he had badly gashed with a knife, and also by her mother, who was knocked down and dangerously injured.

The negro voluntarily confessed, stating that it was his intention to kill both the women, had he not been frightened away by a dog. Immediately after the confession the negro was hanged to a tree and his body riddled with bullets. The crowd of 600 men then quietly dispersed.

TO THE FRESH AIR HOMES.

The First Party of the Season Went to Sewickley.

The first assignment of children to the Fair Oaks Fresh Air Home, near Sewickley, were taken there yesterday, and the home regularly opened for the season. The home was donated for this charity by Mrs. Alexander Laughlin last year. The first party included 34 children and three mothers, gathered up by Mrs. Lippincott of the Pittsburgh Association for the Improvement of the Poor. The Fresh Air Sewing society held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. C. Gilson, the secretary.

The Allegheny department of charities will send down the next party of children, and will alternate with the Association for the Improvement of the Poor in sending parties all summer.

On Monday the Marguerite Home, on Congress Lake, near Canton, O., given as a memorial to her daughter by Mrs. Helen Kurtz of Pittsburgh for the Fresh Air work, will be opened. The Association for the Improvement of the Poor will send 40 children to this home in the care of Miss Elizabeth Bell.

READY FOR CELEBRATION.

Crowds Gathering at Canonsburg for Centennial Festivities.

CANONSBURG, PA., June 25.—(Special.)—Canonsburg is rapidly filling up with visitors who are here to attend the centennial celebration of the town's incorporation tomorrow. The buildings are decorated with flags and bunting in honor of the event.

A storm passed over the town this evening which played more or less havoc with the decorations, but did not dampen the enthusiasm of the people. A number of policemen from the Pittsburgh force will be here to preserve order. A special train will run from Pittsburgh and hundreds of guests are expected.

A HEAVY STORM SWEEPS OVER THIS ENTIRE SECTION

Lightning and Wind Caused Considerable Damage Hereabouts.

TROLLEY TRAVEL IMPEDED

Rise in the Rivers Is Probable as the Storm Was General and Much Rain Fell—Indications Are That a Warm Wave Is to Follow.

The heaviest rain and windstorm experienced in this section for many weeks occurred late yesterday afternoon and last night, and, as usual when heavy storms prevail over Pittsburgh, there was considerable damage done. The rain caused several washouts and the high wind brought down telegraph, telephone and electric light wires. Those which remained on the poles were in many cases badly tangled, causing considerable inconvenience and annoyance to the telegraph and telephone and light companies. Twice last night sections of the fire department were called out to extinguish fires that had started on poles, due to crossed wires.

The storm blew up suddenly, although the skies began to cloud over shortly after the noon hour. There was a light sprinkle of rain shortly after 1 o'clock, but the big storm did not put in its appearance till about 4:30 o'clock, when it suddenly broke over Pittsburgh and during the next six hours there were several heavy downpours.

In six hours the rainfall measured by the local office of the United States weather bureau amounted to 1.08 inches. The wind's velocity, according to the local weather office, was about 15 miles an hour during the storm.

Wind Was Felt in Suburbs.

Downtown Pittsburgh has become so hemmed in by high buildings that the measuring of the wind's velocity by the government officials can no longer be taken as the correct estimate of the velocity in this section.

In the suburbs surrounding Pittsburgh during the heaviest part of the storm yesterday afternoon the wind caused houses to tremble and trees lining the streets were bent to within a few feet of the ground, almost causing them to snap off.

The storm was also accompanied by a heavy gloom. The heaviest rainfall was probably at 6 o'clock. At this hour the many thousands of people employed in the big department stores and office buildings began pouring out, and they were drenched by the hundreds. All the traction cars were crowded to their utmost capacity.

Trouble for Traction Lines.

The storm last night, while of short duration caused some trouble on the various traction lines. In the Lawrenceville district the cars were tied up for nearly half an hour on account of a fuse burning out.

In the downtown districts, especially at the loop, the service became almost inoperateable by the crowding of cars. This caused much inconvenience to hundreds of people, who had to stand out in the downpour of rain.

On the Monongahela division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company about 20 cars were burned out, an as they were scattered all over the lines considerable trouble was caused. The burning out was caused by the cars running into water that had collected in the low places and the water got into the motors. Several times a car sent to the rescue of a burned out car would be disabled in trying to reach the objective car that had "gone dead."

Lightning caused telephone, electric light and the Pittsburgh Railways companies much trouble in Allegheny by striking the wires in a number of places. The city electric wires were also struck, causing trouble all through the city.

Lightning also caused two small fires in Allegheny. A curtain in the house of C. F. Keefer at No. 1124 Fayette street was set afire and an electric light pole on Lowrie street, Troy Hill, in front of the Home of the Good Shepherd was set on fire.

Heavy in Country Districts.

Reports from the country districts are that the rain was much heavier and the storm wilder than in the city, though comparatively little damage was done. The telegraph companies were for a time last night seriously handicapped in the transmission of news, and because of the important cables from London regarding King Edward's condition and the heavy reports of the Democratic convention at Erie being delayed, the storm's effects were seriously felt in the newspaper offices.

The rainfall previous to 8 o'clock last night amounted to .91 of an inch and with the .17 which fell after this hour, the rainfall for June was brought up to 3.09 inches. This makes the total rainfall .85 of an inch above the normal for this month. The rain yesterday was general throughout the Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio river valleys and there is every possibility that there will be a good boating stage on the local rivers.

The heaviest rainfall is reported to the local weather office from Cleveland, where 1.70 inches fell yesterday. The storm came up from the west and moved off toward the northeast, being central last night over Buffalo, N. Y., where .30 of an inch of rain fell.

Warm Wave Coming.

The bright sun yesterday morning warmed the atmosphere considerably, and by 2 o'clock the thermometers had reached 74 degrees, which proved to be the maximum for the day. The minimum was 56 degrees at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. At 4 o'clock the mercury fell to 68 and at 8 o'clock it was at 62. After the storm passed the mercury went up one degree.

From the government reports received last night there is every indication that Pittsburgh is in the path of another warm wave. Behind the storm there is considerable heat shown on the weather map in the cities directly west of Pittsburgh. Abeline, Tex., the hottest place in the United States yesterday, reports having a maximum of 106 degrees during the day and 102 degrees last night at 8 o'clock.

TROLLEY LINE PROJECT.

Road to Be Built from Atlantic City to Philadelphia.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 25.—(Special.)—Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and Philadelphia capitalists are behind a project to connect Atlantic City with Philadelphia by trolley. The deal has reached the point of obtaining an entrance into Atlantic City, the sale of the old Meadow turnpike here to the syndicate having just been closed for $100,000.

The Pennsylvania railroad, foreseeing several years ago the possibility of this traction line, bought up the Atlantic City street car system and has monopolized the traction business. The turnpike gives the new company an entrance here and a right of way for a number of miles across New Jersey toward Philadelphia.

ALL IN READINESS FOR SCIENTISTS

PRELIMINARY MEETINGS OF AFFILIATED SOCIETIES TODAY.

Prof. Robert T. Hill Will Give Public Lecture on What He Saw in Martinique—Many Social Features—General Convention Opens Next Monday.

A final meeting of the executive committee charged with making preparations for the fifty-first annual convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science was held yesterday. Dr. W. J. Holland announced afterward that nothing had been left undone to make this year's gathering a memorable one, both intellectually and socially.

PROF. ROBERT T. HILL
Who will tell of what he saw in Martinique after the Mt. Pelee eruption.

By far the most interesting announcement yet made is that Prof. Robert T. Hill, a member of the national geological survey, is to deliver a popular lecture next Thursday night. The lecture will be in the nature of a description of scenes in Martinique after the eruption of Mont Pelee. Prof. Hill was the most daring and successful member of the survey party sent to make a study of the situation. His lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides. This lecture is to be free to the general public. Prof. Hill is also a prominent member of the United States Geological society.

Although the convention proper does not open until next Monday morning several of the affiliated societies are to hold important meetings tonight and tomorrow night. The American Microscopical society and the American Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education will meet tonight, the former in the Phipps' Botanical hall and the latter in the main lecture room of the institute.

Prof. C. E. Bessey of the University of Nebraska is president of the Microscopical society, and Prof. Robert Fletcher of Dartmouth college is president of the Engineering Education society. Prof. Bessey is one of the noted botanists of this country.

The regular meeting of the council will be held at noon on Saturday at the Hotel Schenley. The council is made up of past presidents and vice presidents of the organization, officers of the Pittsburgh meeting, delegates at large and members of the affiliated societies.

The first general session of the convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock on Monday morning by the retiring president, Dr. Charles Sedgwick Minot, who will introduce the president-elect, Prof. Asaph Hall, U. S. N.

Dr. W. J. Holland will welcome the visitors in behalf of the city of Pittsburgh and W. N. Frew in behalf of the Carnegie Institute. Samuel Harden Church is to represent the local manufacturers at the opening session.

Among the prominent arrivals yesterday was L. O. Howard, permanent secretary of the society. He attended the executive meeting yesterday afternoon.

The convention is not to be given entirely to a wearisome review of hard facts. Scientists are noted for their fondness of social gatherings, and the local committee has seen to it that there will be no dearth of these. There are no less than 40 separate excursions already booked, and these do not include the numerous social events.

The most notable, and undoubtedly the most brilliant, of the latter will be Mrs. William Thaw's reception in honor of the distinguished visitors, to be held next Wednesday evening at "Lyndhurst" on the Beechwood boulevard, the hours being 3 to 6 o'clock.

The register for the convention will be opened today at 2 o'clock in the general office, west hall of the art gallery.

ROOSEVELT INDORSED.

Missouri Republicans Praise His Conduct in Platform—Nebraskans Reach an Understanding.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., June 25.—The Republican state convention, which met yesterday, adjourned sine die this afternoon, after unanimously selecting Thomas J. Akins chairman of the Republican state committee ,nominating a ticket and adopting a platform, unreservedly indorsing the administration of President Roosevelt and declaring him to be the logical candidate for 1904.

GRAND ISLAND, NEB., June 25.—Fusion was accomplished by the Democratic and Populist state conventions today, when both bodies unanimously nominated W. H. Thompson of Grand Island, a Democrat, for governor. E. A. Gilbert, a York county Populist, was nominated for lieutenant governor.

The nomination of Thompson by the Populists came on the tenth ballot, when he received two-thirds of the votes cast. Thompson had already been nominated by the Democrats and the action of the Populist convention completed the nomination.

TOPEKA, KAN., June 25.—Several of the old-time Populists were in rebellion today over what they termed the surrender of the People's party to the Democracy at the state convention last night, when the Populists agreed to a fusion ticket. Today Senator Tapp declared in an interview that as he no longer had a party of his own he would cast his vote next fall for Governor William E. Stanley (Republican) for United States senator to succeed William A. Harris.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 25.—The Democratic state convention today reaffirmed faith in the Kansas City platform, expressed admiration for William Jennings Bryan and nominated L. A. Rosing of Cannon Falls for governor and Robert A. Smith of St. Paul for lieutenant governor.

MAYOR SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Zanesville's Chief Executive Suffering from Clubbing by Police.

ZANESVILLE, O., June 25.—(Special.)—It turns out that Mayor Holden was more seriously injured than was first realized by the clubbing given him by Chief of Police Tracey in police court Monday. One of the hardest blows was landed on the back of the mayor's head, and this began to pain him exceedingly last night, making constant medical attention necessary. The mayor's hearing for contempt was accordingly postponed today.

W. S. McQuain, who was arrested last night by Chief Tracey on the charge of running a crap game, when arraigned before Judge Reed this morning, demanded to be dismissed, claiming that he had been paying Mayor Holden $2 a week for protection. The case was continued until this feature of it can be investigated.

D. H. BEAN DOES NOT CONTEST A PERJURY CHARGE

Railway Company Makes an Example of an Alleged Swindler.

BUCHINO FOUND GUILTY

Jury Renders Verdict of Second-Degree Murder and Recommends the Italian to the Extreme Mercy of the Court—Whole Family on Trial.

Daniel H. Bean, alias David H. Bean, pleaded nolle contendre to a charge of perjury preferred by Harry O'Toole of the Pittsburgh Railways Company in criminal court yesterday. Sentence was not imposed. Some time ago Bean sued the Consolidated Traction Company to recover damages for the loss of the sight of his right eye, and received a verdict. Later it was discovered that the sight of Bean's eye had been destoryed some years before he received the alleged injury on the street car, and that he swore falsely during the trial of the case before Judge John M. Kennedy of common pleas court No. 3 on March 31 last.

Bean alleged that his eye was injured while on a street car on July 1, 1899. He claimed that the conductor's arm slipped while ringing fares, striking him in the right eye, breaking his glasses and destroying his sight.

In the perjury suit the prosecutor alleged that Bean's eye was injured while he was in the logging business in Center county, prior to July 1, 1899, and that he had been treated by at least three different physicians. While on the stand in his suit against the Consolidated Traction Company Bean testified, it is alleged, that his eye was injured prior to the time of the injury on the street car and that it had never been treated by a physician.

General Solicitor Clarence Burleigh of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, in speaking of this case yesterday, said: "Frauds of this kind are all too common, and we propose to bring to justice every person who attempts to swindle this company in that manner, where it is possible to secure the evidence.

The jury in the case of John Buchino, tried for the murder of John Donnellan, returned a verdict of murder in the second degree and recommending the defendant to the extreme mercy of the court.

The crime was committed on Alexis street on May 22 last. It was alleged that the defendant and James Donnellan, brother of the dead man, were engaged in a fight when the latter attempted to part them and was shot.

The defendant claimed that he was attacked by James and Patrick Donnellan and the dead man, and shot only in self-defense.

John Rock pleaded guilty to unlawfully cutting and wounding Andrew Kitzner, and was sentenced to the workhouse for 90 days. On May 18 the two men were engaged in a fight near Redman's Mills, during which the defendant drew a razor and cut Kitzner badly about the head and face.

Mrs. Rachel Gudinsky, her daughters Lena, Maud and Sarah, and her son Ned of 120 Washington street, were tried on a charge of aggravated assault and battery preferred by Catherine Harringer, a neighbor. The case went to the jury about 4 o'clock, and it was still out when court adjourned. The suit is the result of a family quarrel on December 25 last.

J. G. Remark and G. E. Baumgart were tried on a charge of conspiracy prepared by G. W. Whitter. The case went to the jury about 4:30 o'clock and when court adjourned it was still out.

It was alleged the defendants were doing business as the Keystone Sign and Decorating Company, and by misrepresenting the value of the company's stock, got the prosecutor to invest $1,000 in the business.

BOTH TUNNELS ASSURED.

Judge E. H. Stowe Gives to Rival Concerns Equal Rights Through Mt. Washington.

Judge E. H. Stowe in common pleas court No. 1 rendered a decision in the controversy between the Pittsburgh Tunnel Company and the Mt. Washington Tunnel Company. The court declared that both companies can proceed with the work of their respective tunnels, which are almost parallel, the entrances being 6½ feet apart. The necessary papers will be prepared and the court will hand down a formal opinion that the matter may be carried to the supreme court. Attorneys John J. Weller and Clarence Burleigh appeared for the defendant company, and Attorneys A. M. Neeper and W. M. Lindsay represented the plaintiff.

Mr. Neeper argued that the Mt. Washington company was diverging from the center line of its rights under its charter, and Judge Stowe held that the company could do as it saw fit upon 40 feet on either side of its center line, as long as it did not interfere with the rights of the opposition company.

GAVE TO CHARITY.

Church Institutions Remembered in the Will of Mary A. Cooper.

The will of Mary A. Cooper of Allegheny was filed. The estate is worth $16,000. The following bequests are made: United Presbyterian Home for Aged Persons, $500; United Presbyterian Orphans' Home of Allegheny, $500; the hospital at the same home, $500; Second United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, $300; Bella Girvin, $500; Lizzie J. Ramsey, $500; Elizabeth Wallace, $100; Mary L. Richardson, $1,000; Laura K. Tower, $1,000; William J., George P., Charles A. and George Richardson, $1,500 each. The residue of the estate is bequeathed to her nieces, Mary L. Richardson and Laura K. Tower.

By the will of Edward Boyer of Pittsburgh a $18,200 estate is disposed of. Charles K. Boyer and Carolina Wentz are left $650 each and the residue of the estate goes to the testator's wife.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

The execution creditors of John C. Fentzel were restrained from selling his property.

Agnes Dillon sued John and Victoria Szentner for $10,000 damages for alleged slander.

Wilson, Bailey & Co. filed a libel against the steamboat F. K. Hullings upon a claim of $687 89.

James Yudeskit sued Frank H. McKinney for $25,000 damages for alleged injuries received in the elevator at the Hotel Anderson.

Barbara Davis sues $20,000 from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. She claims her husband, Edward Davis, was killed by a train at Copeland station.

Fritz Moser began proceedings to obtain the release of Frederick Moser, his son, from the workhouse, where he was sent for 30 days for disorderly conduct.

Mary E. Spangler sued the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company for $40,000 for the death of her husband, John A. Spangler, who was hurt at Brady's tunnel.

Judge Stowe refused to dissolve an attachment in the case of John R. Martin against Jesse Kepner, upon the ground that the defendant has another remedy at law.

John F. Baxter filed a bill in equity against Anna B. Adams and John Grayburn asking that an agreement for the sale of property in Flint avenue for $7,900 be carried out.

Executions were issued as follows: William Kossler vs. Devore & Co., $97 66; John Krett, use, vs. Frederick Schmitz et al., $116; Mansfield Manufacturing Company, Ltd., vs. John A. Rodie, $759 60.

Judge E. H. Stowe, in the case of Barbara Rieber against the borough of Verona, for damages to property, held that if the plaintiff accepts $200 in lieu of a verdict of $500, a new trial will be granted.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company began mandamus proceedings against Justice A. W. McMillen of Carnegie to compel him to furnish the company with a transcript of a case in which judgment was given for C. A. Foster for $8 48 for an overcharge on freight.

Certain creditors of the Enamelled Iron Company of Beaver Falls filed a petition in bankruptcy against that concern. It is claimed the company, while insolvent, permitted certain judgments to be entered against it. The sheriff was ordered not to sell the property.

Samuel Webb, by his father, Joseph W. Webb, sued Jones & Laughlins Company Ltd., for $35,000 damages. It is alleged the boy was ordered to carry two bottles containing nitric acid from the first floor to the second floor of the laboratory; that the electric lights were out, resulting in young Webb striking against the wall. It is said one of the bottles broke, the acid burning the boy's entire body.

An answer was filed to the equity suit of Mary J. Reed against the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company, an action to restrain the latter from appropriating 140 feet of her property in Baldwin township. The company says its right of way was 40 feet, "with allowances for slopes," requiring the additional land; that the plaintiff did not take an objection to this at the hearing, and that she is indemnified by a $9,000 bond.

THE RIVER INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., June 25.—River 19.1 feet and falling. Weather showery, warmer. Packets in and out as follows: The D. T. Lee and the Eagle arrived with tows of coal from the Kanawha today. The Eagle delivered her tow and returned with a string of empties. The R. J. Hinton is also on her way to the Kanawha with empties. Maj. S. R. Crumbaugh, supervising inspector of steam vessels, received word today that Capt. R. R. Boyd, of the steamer J. D. Cox, and whose Horner Inspectors George Atkinson and Isaac Williams suspended when the Woodward sank in a collision with the towboat Twilight, had appealed to Capt. Boyd claims he was off duty at the time of the accident. The inspectors held that signal lights on the smokestacks of the Woodward were not displayed. Capt. Llewellyn of the Twilight, suspended at the same time, has not yet appealed.

LOUISVILLE—River falling; canal 8.6 feet; falls, 8.6 feet; foot of locks, 9.3 feet. Business good. Weather cloudy, threatening rain.

GREENSBORO—River 7 feet 4 inches and falling. Weather fair and cool. Cherry down Thursday. Rose Hill and Elizabeth up.

BROWNSVILLE—River 6 feet 2 inches and stationary. Weather rainy.

WARREN—River 1 foot 6 inches. Weather rainy and warmer.

WHEELING—River 5 feet 2 inches and rising. Heavy rain and warm. Departed, Ben Hur, Parkersburg, noon; Bessie Smith, Pittsburgh, 3 p. m.; Kanawha, Charleston, 4 p. m. Up with empties, Clifton, 8 a. m.

HUNTINGTON—River 8 feet 3 inches and falling. Bill Clark down at 10 a. m.; Douglass Hall, 4 p. m.; Sunshine, for Cincinnati.

OIL CITY—River 2 feet and falling. Weather cool and raining.

PARKERSBURG—River 5 feet and falling. Weather clear and warmer. Greenwood departed for Pittsburgh at 2 p. m. Kanawha is due for Charleston tonight.

POINT PLEASANT—River 4 feet 2 inches and falling. Weather cloudy. Up, J. B. Lewis, Mount Clare, Otto Marmet. Down, Sunshine.

STEUBENVILLE—River 4 feet 8 inches and falling. Weather raining and cool. Down, Kanawha and Cruiser. Up, Clifton.

GALLIPOLIS—River 5 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy and cool. Down, Sunshine.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary. Wheather cloudy and warm.

MARIETTA—River 4.4 feet and falling. Weather cloudy and pleasant. Lorena and Greenwood up, 4 p. m.; Kanawha down, midnight.

Packets Leaving Today.

Elizabeth, Morgantown, 3 p. m.
Bessie Smith, Parkersburg, 4 p. m.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 8 o'clock last night was 4 feet and rising.

News of the Rivers.

Work on the Licking bar will be resumed in a few days by the government corps of engineers.

The Exporter is coming with a tow of empties, but will not get very far above Cincinnati.

The Bessie Smith will be in port this morning. The packets Greenwood and Lorena are due tonight.

The coal combination is replacing the old sharpsnout at Ribbers landing by a more substantial one. The Olivette is doing the necessary towing.

The little towboat Dewing & Son arrived yesterday from the upper Monongahela river with a load of crockery.

The members of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association will hold a meeting Saturday night in Moorhead hall.

The towboat A. K. Cowpank, of the United Pilots' Corporation, did not arrive in Pittsburgh yesterday as was expected.

William Arste, the hustling representative of the Cincinnati Enquirer Journal, who was in Pittsburgh for his paper, left yesterday for Steubenville and Wheeling.

The Rodgers Sand Company is so rushed with orders that it has had to send from the Alvin Sand Company and the Shoepsburg Sand Company in order to fill them.

The towboat John C. Fisher cannot operate after January 1, when she must receive a new hull. Her owners are having plans prepared for a new boat on which the Fisher's machinery will be placed.

Rain fell yesterday afternoon, cheering the local marines. Rivermen trust that B'en Laughlin's rise will come on schedule time. All the forecasters, however, have so far failed this year.

The towing steamer J. P. Gillham, while trying to get to the sweet place in front of Rising Sun, jabbed her tow against one of the sunken steel barges and dropped a barge of Kanawha coal in among the old wrecks.

The towing steamer Innovator, which was recently purchased at Rochester, W. Va., to be utilized in the work of building lock and dam No. 10, near Booneville, on the upper Kentucky river, has arrived in that stream.

The towboat Fairmont Horner, which was to have been placed on the docks for repairs, was coaled yesterday, as the river coal combination desires the boat to make one more trip this season. Every available boat will be used when a rise comes.

The towboat C. J. Reynolds may be secured to tow the floating circus which is to leave Herra Island in a few days. The circus will open up at East Liverpool on July 10. Everything in the circus line except horseback riding will be seen under canvas.

The towboat Clifton came as far as the Davis Island dam and left her empty tow there, returning down the river after more empties. The Tornado has also gone back. The towboat Charley Hook has been on the trap for several days bringing empties through that place.

CANNOT TAKE THE CHANNEL.

Repeal of an Old Law Protects Allegheny from Floods.

The river and harbor bill, which was last week signed by the president, contains a clause repealing an act permitting the building of a causeway across the Ohio river at the head of Neville Island. If the causeway had been built, the back channel of the river, so rivermen say, would have been filled in and lower Allegheny in times of floods would have suffered greatly.

Pittsburgh rivermen have for several years been attempting to have this act repealed, but every time an attempt was made to have this done, it would be stricken out by unknown persons. It was worked through, however, at the last session, and if river and harbor lines are not established at Neville Island, this will prevent the taking of the back channel of the river, which rivermen say is a natural waterway, made by nature and should not be disturbed.

Why does the Heathen rage?
It is not a Heathen. It is a Christian Gentleman.
Why does the Christian Gentleman rage?
He has just Heard the Guard Chant his Lay.
Which Lay?
"Hundernumptysinxt! All out!"
Does not the Christian Gentleman Wish to Get Out?
He Does, Indeed! He Wished to get Out at 42d Street.
What prevented?
He Was Dead to the World.
What a Curse is Inebriety!
Certainly. But That is not his Trouble.
What is it, then?
He was reading THE HOUND OF THE BASKERVILLES.
And Forgot his Station?
Even so. And All the World, besides.
What will the Christian Gentleman do now?
Buy Another Ticket.
And go Back to 42d Street?
More likely to South Ferry.
Why so?
Because That is the Other End of the Line.
And will the Christian Gentleman Never get Home?

Speculators Looking Toward London

KING'S ILLNESS PUTS MARKET ON LOW LEVEL

Movement of Prices Narrow and Irregular in Wall Street.

MONEY MARKET FIRMER

Crop News Was Neutral—Buyers of Reading Profess Confidence That Anthracite Strike Is Breaking Up. Colorado Fuel Jumps 3¼ Points.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 25.—The dealings in stocks fell to near the low level of activity of the year again today. The movement of prices was narrow and irregular. For the principal active stocks there was good support, and the undertone of the market was rather firm, but there was no disposition to buy in view of the uncertainties hanging over the market. There was a fairly general upward movement in the early dealings, which probably came from bear traders who sold short last evening on the apprehension that King Edward's illness might terminate fatally over night. There was buying here for London account prompted by the same technical cause, which served to bring to a halt the advance in sterling exchange.

The local money market was also distinctly firmer in tone and encouraged bankers to sell some sterling loan bills. Notwithstanding a further recession in the price of sterling at Paris, there was no engagement of gold for export. There was nothing in the news from London as it reached Wall street to account for any strength in the stock market, as the general fear was that the illness of the king of England would terminate fatally.

Sentimental Effect Dissipated.

The sentimental effect of yesterday's sudden announcement was somewhat dissipated. Nevertheless there is something to be apprehended from the direct financial losses involved in the abortive preparations for the coronation. Another consideration is that there has been a considerable speculation upon the hope of a revival to be induced by the South African peace. The weaker speculators have been forced out since the declaration of peace, but there is an extensive class of stronger holders which has maintained the hope that the active revival was merely postponed until after the king's coronation. This speculation has involved not only London, but the continental financial centers. If the misfortune of the king of England serves to obstruct the influence of the South African settlement upon financial affairs the effect will be reflected in the stock markets. There was nothing in the news of the day to account for a rise in prices of stocks.

Crop News Neutral.

The crop news was rather neutral. Traders who bought Reading professed some confidence that the strike was breaking up, and they had news of some further returns to work by strikers, but there was nothing like a general demand for the coalers. Colorado Fuel was moved up 3¼ points on account of the session of the directors to take action on the dividend, but the gain was entirely wiped out without any news reaching the public to account either for the rise or reaction. A late advance in St. Paul made the closing steady but very dull.

There was little doing in bonds, and the market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,015,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales, 273,200 shares.

Illness of King Edward still continues to influence the stock market.

Low level in stock dealings nearly reached yesterday.

Buyers of Reading express confidence in early termination of coal strike.

United States Steel common closed 37¼.

United States Steel preferred closed 88¾.

The Anthracite Coal Strike Affects the Iron Trade

COKE PRICE IS GIVEN A SHARP UPWARD SPURT

Use of Coke at Anthracite Furnaces Sends Price to $3.50 at the Ovens.

$2.25 THREE WEEKS AGO

Slow Delivery of Coke to the Valleys Again Threatens Operations of Many Furnaces, With Only a Few Hours Supply.

The anthracite strike has brought about a sharp uplifting of the coke prices. Where, less than a month ago, the price for coke at the Connellsville ovens was $2 25 the ton, prompt coke today is bringing $3 50 the ton, and in a few days past a considerable quantity has been sold at these figures. The spurt of prices grows out of the demand for coke to displace anthracite coal in the eastern furnaces and to supply markets of the West Virginia fields whose coal workings are suspended through the strike there.

The advanced price has as yet affected the western consumers of coke very little. Most of these have their annual or semi-annual contracts in at the price of $2 25. Six weeks ago large quantities of coke were sold as low as $2 15 the ton.

Car shortage is again threatening the furnace operations of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys. It is the coke hauling that is interfered with. This is partly accounted for by the call for coke in the east. But this is not of sufficient scope to account for the shortage of coke shipments to the central west. It is one of the frequently recurring difficulties arising from a combination of transportation difficulties.

Coke supplies at many of the furnaces are so low that with no deliveries a score or more of the furnaces would have to bank in a few hours. None of the furnaces have stocks of coke. Six or seven have been banked for short periods in the week past. All have been running far short of their capacity.

The urgent demand for light and medium rails, along with the fact that several of the producers of these rails are not rolling any, has brought about another advance in prices of about $2 the ton on all but the standard sections. Standard sections, even in second quality, for prompt shipment are worth $32 and more the ton. There is occasionally a lot of standard sections available. These always bring premiums, prices as high as $35 as against the price of $28 a ton at mill for deliveries in next year. These stray lots are available when a railroad has specified above its actual requirements, selling the surplus through a broker to other consumers, contrary to the contract with the producers, who sell only to consumers who in turn enter an agreement that they will themselves use the rails.

Check on Price Advances.

Outside of the rail market the steady uplifting in prices has stopped in the past week. There are a few exceptions. Foundry iron, as an instance, selling slightly higher. In the wire, sheet and tin plate trade the specifications for shipments are not quite equal to the production. Mills working in these lines are running light and a good many will close next month for repairs. The report of a sharp reduction on the price of galvanized sheets, mentioned last week, is erroneous. Slightly lower prices are obtainable for business of heavy proportions, but ostensibly the old prices rule.

The scarcity of pig iron of all grades is accentuated through the recurring light operation of the stacks. The United States Steel Corporation is not dealing for its supply of about 125,000 tons in the second quarter of next year. Sales in the week past were light, some few 500 and 1,000-ton lots being sold at $20 50 the ton and upward for delivery up to the first of next April.

Forge iron for forward shipment and amounting to 6,000 tons was sold at prices from $20 [illegible] $21 75 the ton. By the producers it is held at from $21 75 [illegible] $22 the ton for shipment before the end of the year, and $21 after the first of the new year.

Some Foundry Iron Sales.

The higher prices of foundry iron are being held. In a sale of 500 tons of No. 2 grade for delivery in August and in the last quarter of the year the price was $24 25, Pittsburgh. Another sale of 100 ton of No. 1 foundry for prompt shipment was closed at $24 25. A sale for first quarter delivery of 1,000 tons of No. 2 foundry was made at $22 25 a ton. Two hundred tons of No. 3 foundry for prompt shipment was sold at $22 75 the ton.

The price on domestic ferro manganese remains at $52 50 a ton, with the foreign product delivered in Pittsburgh at $50 a ton.

No sales of billets are reported, the nominal price, according to quantity and delivery requirements, ranging from $26 to $35 the ton for the Bessemer billets and the usual amount in addition for bars and open hearth billets. The prices on this material, while nails, if ordered in time, can be had at $28, and plates, merchant bar and structural material at a basic price of $32 the ton, are prohibitive so far as concerns the small consumers, who depend upon the market for their supply of steel.

The demand for steel rods has lessened, through the lighter operations of the wire and nail producers. The price remains at $36 50 the ton.

Rail Orders Booked.

The bookings of new rail business for delivery next year are now something above 700,000 tons. Besides this, between 400,000 and 500,000 tons of this year's business will be carried over for production next year. Revised prices are as follows: For 200-ton and larger lots in standard sections, $28 a ton; $28 50 for car-lots and $32 for less than car-lots: $28 for 50, 45 and 40-pound rails in carlots; $29 for 25-pound; $40 for 20-pound; $41 for 16-pound, and $45 for 12-pound. Girder rails and T rails for traction use are from $34 to $40 a ton.

Skelp is extremely scarce, the demand for sheared skelp being exceedingly heavy. Prices range from $2 to $2 40 the 100 pounds.

The minimum price on muck bar is $37, with some of the mills having none to offer to the market within this year.

Merchant bar sales by Pittsburgh producers in the past seven days aggregate about 9,000 tons. Most of this business was taken at the base price, although for prompt deliveries some consumers are offering as high as $2 the 100 pounds. Some mills east of Pittsburgh are getting $1 70 for their Bessemer steel bars and are taking new business for delivery in two months. Pittsburgh mills have their output nearly all engaged till the end of the year. Their base price is $1 60 the 100 pounds for the Bessemer bars and $2 a ton higher for open hearth.

Premiums Offered for Plates.

Sales of steel plate by Pittsburgh producers in the week past aggregate 14,000 tons, with little of the material available till after two months. On prompt business premiums are being offered. Following are the base prices: Tank plates, $1 60 for 100 pounds for plates up to 100 inches in width, and 5c extra 100 pounds for wide sizes; flange plates, $1 70 for 100 pounds; still-bottom steel, $1 90 for 100 pounds; locomotive firebox, not less than ½ inch, 2-10-inch plates, $1 a ton extra; gauged Nos. 8 and 9, $2 a ton extra; circles, $1 80 for 100 pounds.

Pittsburgh producers of structural material sold about 12,000 tons in the week past. Most of the capacity of the mills is engaged into next year, and for the early deliveries premiums are offered. The base prices remain: Beams, channels, angles and zees, $1 60 the 100 pounds; angles, 3-inch and less, $1 70; tees, $1 65 for the 100 pounds. Beams, 18 to 24 inches, $1 70 the 100 pounds.

Prices on black sheets range from $2 10 the 100 pounds for the No. 28 guage. On galvanized sheets there has been some shading of prices under the price equivalent to discounts of 70 and 5 and 70 and 10 per cent off the old lists.

Sheet Mills Running Light.

Sheets from stock at mills are available without delay, and on business which has to be gotten out deliveries can be had in about a month.

Tin plate deliveries can be had in a month. The price remains at $4 the 100-pound box. The detail tin plate wage scale is to be adjusted next week.

The mills producing the finer lines of merchant and crucible steel have business ahead for nearly eight months. Prices remain as follows: Tire steel, $1 80 for 100 pounds; toe calk, $2 25; spring steel, $2 25; plow slabs, $2 25; rolled lay steel, $2 50 to $2 75; tool steel, $7 and upward, according to quality; cold-rolled shafting, 45 and 50 per cent off the list.

Steel hoop prices are unchanged at $1 90 the 100 pounds for lots of 200 tons and more, and $2 for lesser lots.

Scrap sales continue heavy by reason of the pig iron scarcity. Prices are as follows: No. 1 heating stock, $21 to $21 50 the ton; No. 1 cast scrap, $18 50 and $19; No. 1 wrought scrap, $22 50 to $23; turnings, $15 50; borings, $12 to $12 50; old steel rails, $21 50; old iron rails, $26.

Hardware and Tube Prices.

Hardware prices remain as follows: Carlots and larger amounts of wire nails to jobbers, $2 65 a keg; $2 10 in less lots and $2 20 out of stock to retailers; No. 9 plain wire, $2 65 for 100 pounds to jobbers; $2 10 in carlots; $2 20 in less than carlots; No. 9 galvanized wire, $2 50 in carlots to jobbers and $2 50 in lesser lots; cut nails are $2 65 in carlots and $2 in heavy orders to jobbers; steel horseshoes are $2 25 for 100-pound kegs, and iron, $3 90; carriage bolts, 60 and 10 and 5 per cent off to jobbers; machine bolts, 60 and 10 and 2½ per cent off list.

Carload lot discounts on steel and wrought iron pipe to jobbers remain as follows:

INTEREST CENTERS IN THE COMING YEAR

Market for Foundry Iron Continues Tight and Higher Prices Are Being Realized.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 25.—In its issue tomorrow the Iron Age will say:

While the market for early delivery of foundry iron continues exceedingly tight and higher prices are being realized, interest centers in developments for the new year. One large southern concern have opened their books for the first six months of 1903 at $16 50, Birmingham, for No. 2, and are reported by our Birmingham correspondent to have sold between 30,000 and 40,000 tons. Similar action has been taken by some of the Chicago producers, and they, too, have taken a fair amount of orders, although individually rather small.

In the east quite a good deal of business has been booked for the last half of the current year at $22 to $22 50 for No. 2 foundry, and at $21 50 to $22 for the first six months of 1903.

On the whole, therefore, buyers seem to be taking hold to a modest extent at prices which look quite liberal. There have been further purchases of pig iron in England, and several cargoes have been added to former transactions.

In the steel rail trade an interesting point is that foreign business in Chicago has been somewhat checked by an advance in the through rates of freight. Some additional business in foreign steel has been done in the other districts, and there is still a demand unsatisfied for future delivery.

In the steel rail trade the western market seems to monopolize the activity. Chicago reports sales aggregating about 85,000 tons for next year's delivery. A very interesting transaction from an international market point of view has just been closed. It involves 120,000 tons of steel rails, bought for delivery in Mexico for a new road backed by Americans. It is understood that an English mill took the whole order.

Activity in the structural trade continues unabated. Chicago reports transactions aggregating 10,000 to 12,000 tons of beams for the first half of 1903, and in other parts of the country there is ample evidence that work is coming up liberally. The report is current that a leading structural mill in the Rhine district in Germany sold its entire output for the balance of 1902 for shipment to this country.

The plate trade shows a good deal of activity. As a striking illustration of the curious condition of affairs, the fact is quoted that Chicago has placed an order for 3,000 tons with a leading eastern mill at $2 05 at the mill.

In the sheet trade complaints are heard of growing competition, and notably in galvanized sheets, prices are easy.

Bars have steadied in the west after the little flurry referred to, but in the east concessions on iron bars crop up more frequently. Pittsburgh interests have taken some round blocks of old material and have made their appearance in the eastern markets. During the past two months American buyers have appeared in European markets. It is estimated that they have purchased fully 5,000 tons of old iron rails, and rather more than that quantity of steel rails. It is understood that negotiations for further lots to come from the German and Dutch state railway systems are pending.

New Work Starting in Ritchie County

Holders of leases in the vicinity of Spence & Co.'s new strike on the T. E. Dye farm, west of Blands Creek station, Clay district, Ritchie County, W. Va., are losing no time in starting new work. The Associated Producers have started a rig on the Clark farm, 300 feet east of the Dye producer. Collins & Hentzleman Bros. are building one on the Henshaw farm and Spence & Co. are starting No. 2 on the Dye farm. No. 1, the initial producer and the incentive for starting this new work is producing 50 barrels a day and is still drilling. Owing to a cave very little progress is made in getting to the sand. The Manufacturers Gas Company has a gasser on the Robinson farm, located 800 feet east of this development.

On Richwood run, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia company has given its No. 18 on the John Mills tract another shot and it produced 210 barrels the first 24 hours. This well has been shot a number of times and has failed to respond with an increased production.

Southwest of Littleton in the new Gordon sand district, the South Penn Oil Company's test on the Jane Blake farm, is a strong gasser in the Big Injun sand. As soon as the gas pressure subsides the well will be drilled down to the Gordon sand.

On the west side of the southwest extension to the Wolf Summit field, in Harrison county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 5 on the G. W. Broland farm through the Gordon sand and has a duster. It is now drilling to the fifth sand.

In the fifth sand development, in Indian creek, Gilmer county, the same company has completed and shot its test on the R. F. Bolton farm into a 25-barrel producer. When drilled through the sand this well did not show for more than 10 barrels a day.

West of the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn has completed No. 8 on the South Varner farm and has a 15-barrel pumper.

On Big Cove creek, Southwest district, Doddridge county, near the line of Gilmer county, the Maryland Oil & Gas Company has made the location for a test on the Pinkard-Brannon tract.

East of Stumptown, Gilmer county, the Stumptown Oil & Gas Company is building the rig for a test on the Clarence Stump farm. This company has drilled three wells in this locality. The first and last are good gassers, in the salt sand. The record is A. Sperry.

It is reported that the Stumptown Oil & Gas Company has entered into a contract with eastern parties to build a carbon factory at the mouth of Bull river, in Gilmer county, on the Little Kanawha, and the gas to supply the plant will be taken from the Stumptown gas field.

In Kanawha county, on Indian creek, Ohio parties have taken up a large block of leases and have made a location on the H. R. Rummel farm.

In the Bens run district, Pleasants county, Schlagel & Feld have completed their No. 11 on the R. P. Johnson farm and have a duster in the Cow Run sand.

Southeastern Ohio Territory.

On the Ohio side and one-fourth of a mile southwest of the Jackson Ridge development, in Monroe county, the Fisher Oil Company has drilled a well on the Anna Coolin farm into the Big Injun sand and has a show for a producer. It is thought that this well may open up a new Big Injun pool.

On Wolf creek, Morgan county, E. Bowman & Son have drilled their No. 6 on the A. Wagner farm through the sand and have a duster.

In the Chester Hill district, Smith, Talbott & Moore have completed their No. 12 on the Isaac Armstrong farm and have a five barrel pumper.

In the Joy district the Midland company has completed its No. 156 on the E. R. Dale tract and has a duster.

In the Rinards Mills district, Washington county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 1 on the Susan Sears farm is holding up at 275 barrels a day and is now the largest producer in Southeastern Ohio. No. 3 on the John Cline farm is producing 60 barrels a day.

In the Bowerston pool, in Harrison county, the Ohio Oil Company has completed its No. 20 on the W. S. Fisher farm and has a 20-barrel producer.

In the Murdocksville extension, near Burgettstown, Washington County, Pa., the Hanover Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Jackson farm and has a show for a 15 or 20-barrel pumper.

HEAVY GROWTH IN STEEL TRADE BEING SHOWN

Still Big Corporation Has No Great Rivals in Its Special Lines.

STOCK ON THE INCREASE

United States Ship Building Company Needs the Money for Acquisition of the Bethlehem Company—Big Price Evidently Paid for the Plant.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 25.—The enormous earnings of the established steel and iron companies generally and of the United States Steel Corporation particularly seem not to have attracted as much competitive capital as some critical observers expected would be put into new independent properties in due time after the formation of the combine. Although a large number of small steel and iron companies have been formed since the organization of the United States Steel Corporation, only a few duplicate the combine's products and none is a pretentious rival. So far as steel rails, plates, tin plate, structural material and wire products are involved, no independent companies of any consequence have arisen to contest the profits of established concerns. The only fresh competition that has developed in these lines arises from the increased capacity of concerns already prominent therein. The Lackawanna Steel Company, for one, will have a much larger capacity in its new property near Buffalo than it had in the old works at Scranton. The Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, for another, has constructed a new rail mill and the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company may be said to have added 100,000 tons a year to its steel rail capacity. Among other prominent concerns that have been enlarging their facilities for duplicating the products of the steel combine may be mentioned the Lukens Iron and Steel, the Sharon Steel, the Jones & Laughlin and the Union Iron and Steel companies.

As a Natural Sequence.

It is pointed out, however, that the improvements and enlargements undertaken by these concerns would have been carried out whether the United States Steel Corporation had been formed or not. In no sense can this increase in the production be considered as having been encouraged by the successful operation and large profits of the combine.

Partially as a result of the acquisition of the Bethlehem Steel Company, the capital stock of the United States Shipbuilding Company will be increased from $20,000,000 to $45,000,000. The capitalization will be divided into $20,000,000 preferred and $25,000,000 common stock. It is evident from the heavy increase of the capital stock of the United States Shipbuilding Company that J. P. Morgan & Co. and Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, received a good price for their holdings of Bethlehem steel. In brief, the capital stock of the combine will be more than double the capital proposed before the Bethlehem Steel deal was considered. However, the Bethlehem Steel is a very valuable property, and will enable the United States Shipbuilding Company to build a battleship complete.

President Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation purchased a controlling interest in the Bethlehem Company last summer. It was said at the time that he made the purchase with the expectation of selling out to the old projected United States Shipbuilding Company, but the deal fell through. The stock was later turned over to J. P. Morgan & Co. Settlement for this stock was made in August of last year. The number of shares settled for was 168,000, and the amount paid exceeded $4,000,000. Mr. Schwab gave $24 a share for the stock, the par value of which is $50 a share.

Three New Directors.

The annual meeting of the American Car and Foundry Company will be held in Jersey City tomorrow, at which three new directors, said to represent important interests, will be elected to the board. The annual report of the company will be ready at the meeting tomorrow. It appears to be a very favorable one from the standpoint of increased earnings. The company shows a surplus for the 12 months ended April 30 of $1,595,602.

The Electric Magnetic Railway Company was incorporated in the state of New Jersey today with a capital stock of $1,000,000. The charter permits the company to manufacture electrical and mechanical devices and appliances for railway motors, engines, locomotives and all kinds of machinery pertaining to electrical and mechanical engineering. The agent of the company is Henry J. Morris of 15 Exchange Place, Jersey City. The incorporators are Albert C. Albertson, C. A. Hendrickson and John Allen.

BIDDLE REWARD ADJUSTED.

County Commissioners Pay Out the $5,000 That Was Offered.

The reward offered by the county commissioners for the capture of the Biddle brothers has been divided among the claimants. The settlement was made yesterday by attorneys representing the Butler county officers and the Pittsburgh detectives.

By the terms of the agreement reached $2,400 goes to the Butler county contingent and $2,530 is to be divided among three Pittsburgh detectives. J. G. Splane of Pittsburgh and John Gregory of Cooperstown, who was in charge of the National Transit Company wires and gave the information that led to the capture of the Biddles, are to divide the remaining $250.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 25.—Should the Oregon Short Line offer reasonable transportation charges, owners of the immense iron deposits in Iron county, Utah, will soon be shipping 500 tons of ore daily to the smelters in Salt Lake valley for use as a flux. For this product the American Smelting and Refining Company has offered to pay $2 50 per ton.

In the Consolidated Alpine at Idaho Springs, Col., a four to ten-inch streak of lead zinc ore has been uncovered that assays $300 to the ton. The strike was made in the level west from the shaft at a depth of 168 feet. In the same level 28 inches of smelting ore, carrying wire silver and running $500 per ton, has been opened up.

The Doane at Battle Lake, Wyoming, has fired up and the pumps have started to unwater the shafts. This will take about ten days, when a full force will be put to work sinking deeper and stopping. The last two shots in the McCarthy have opened up six feet of copper ore assaying 24 per cent.

Eastern capitalists have taken a six months' bond on the Marshall group near Prescott, Arizona, on which considerable development has already been done, and the ledge is said to range from 6 to 30 feet in width. At the water level the ore carries $250 per ton gold, and at the surface $100.

An expert from Pittsburgh has reported favorably on the Little Giant in Mint Valley, Ariz., and Buffalo capitalists have bonded the property for $30,000 and will start development at once.

Shipments from Silverton, Col., are showing a marked increase. They are now running from 10 to 15 cars a day, and will soon average 20 cars. The Silver Lake is the largest shipper at present; its output averaging about seven cars per day.

A correspondent at Nelson, B. C., writes that some fine assays have been obtained from Nettie L. Samples. One of them went 2,000 ounces silver, $50 gold, and 31 per cent copper. Work has been resumed on the Tribune in the Lardeau. A new body of rich ore has been located by the diamond drill on the Silver Slag, which is now sinking at the rate of 40 tons per day. The lead in the Poorman has been struck in a tunnel at the 600-foot level.

A syndicate headed by Simon Bamberger of Salt Lake has bought the Magnolia group at Deadman's Bay, for $1,000,000.

Following close upon the report that the Annie Laurie on Gold Mountain, Utah, is earning about $40,000 per month, comes a dispatch from Chicago that the Venture Corporation of London is negotiating for the property, and that Lime Rickey and his associates are asking $5,000,000 for it.

Leasers on the Davenport workings of the Jack Pot at Cripple Creek have entered an extraordinary ore chute. Three feet of the vein will average $100 to the ton, and six inches next to the hanging wall assays up to $13,000 per ton.

The Clover Leaf, near Lead, S. D., is reported to have cut 45 feet of ore in the drift from the 300-foot level without encountering the opposite wall.

Residence Lots Are Still In Good Demand

SQUIRREL HILL PROPERTY SOLD FOR $90,000

35 Choice Residence Sites Have Changed Hands in 30 Days.

EAST END SALES OF $46,000

Sixth United Presbyterian Mission Planned—A $750,000 Sale of Coal Lands—Chadwick Place and Amherst Terrace Improvements.

Since opening its Squirrel Hill plan of lots, one month ago, the Beechwood Improvement Company, limited, has disposed of 35 lots for a total of $90,000, or about $2,570 each. No special effort has been made to attract purchasers and the class of buyers thus far shows that the property has been sought for high-class residence sites. The lots measure 50x150 feet each, and face in Shady, Burchfield, Monitor and McClure avenues. The first three of these streets are already paved and McClure avenue is now being paved. The plan is situated just at the end of the high bridge on which the street cars cross over the Beechwood boulevard, giving easy access to the city. All the streets are 50 feet wide and the lots are sold with building restrictions, providing that no house shall be built within 30 feet of the streets and that $5,000 shall be the minimum cost of the dwellings erected. Among those who have bought within the last few days are Anthony Dean of Taylor & Dean, four lots in Shady avenue; Donald McNeil, the builder, three lots in Monitor and Burchfield avenues; James Barr of Protzman & Barr, a lot in Monitor street, and Dr. D. W. Frye, two lots in Mcclure avenue. Mr. McNeil has plans prepared for three brick residences to cost $10,000 each and two of the other purchasers have authorized plans for similar houses.

Good Nineteenth Ward Sale.

The Valley Trust Company has sold through J. B. Crooks an improved property at the southwest corner of North Highland avenue and Margaretta street, Nineteenth ward, for $9,000. The former owner was Mrs. C. W. Batchelor and the purchasers were John and Anna B. Williams, who took the property for a home. The lot is 65x150 feet, and the residence is a modern 10-room frame dwelling.

Through the same agency the Sixth United Presbyterian church has purchased a site 100x110 feet at the southwest corner of Lincoln and Shetland avenues, Twenty-first ward, for $10,500. The lot is a part of the old Thomas H. Armstrong homestead and title to the property was secured from S. G. Lennox, who purchased the entire homestead in the winter. The trustees of the church have decided to build a mission church on the lot at a probable cost of $5,000.

The Valley Trust Company also sold for C. C. Law to John H. Madden a lot 36x120 feet on the west side of Filbert street, near Ellsworth avenue, Twentieth ward, for $8,000.

Another House for Squirrel Hill.

Through the agency of Samuel Kelly & Co., John W. Garland has sold to John H. Elder a fine vacant lot in the Squirrel Hill district for $10,000. The lot has a frontage of 62.5 feet on the east side of the Beechwood boulevard, between Homewood and Wilkins avenues, Twenty-second ward, and a depth of 150 feet. The purchaser is preparing to improve the property with a $12,000 residence.

The project to build a new Jewish hospital in Miller street, which has been under consideration for some time, is moving forward rapidly, and if no objections are encountered from the residents in that vicinity work will be started soon. The plans submitted by Architect S. B. Eisendrath have been accepted by the building committee. These plans call for a four-story building, 150x90 feet. This will consist of five wings, four of them grouped about the central wing or administration building. The estimated cost is put at $50,000, and the site will cost $10,000 more. The building committee is Dr. A. Goodstone, Dr. William Weil and Dr. I. Ullman.

Coal Land Sold for $750,000.

A deal in West Virginia coal lands involving $750,000 was closed yesterday by J. A. Hull. The property consists of 60,000 acres of land in Boone and Logan counties, a short distance south of Charleston. It is on the direct line of the proposed Seaboard Air line to be built from the Big Sandy river to Catlettsburg, Ky. The whole tract is underlaid with six veins of coal, having a total thickness of 54 feet. Three of these are drift and three shaft coal. Most of the coal is of the variety known as "Kanawha measures," and is used principally for steamship fuel. The tract was purchased by two New York capitalists, who will put three corps of engineers in the field to survey the land preparatory to opening some mines. With the coal was included the title to the land itself, which is thickly overgrown with poplar, oak and walnut timber.

Another fine residence property in Allegheny will be offered at public sale this afternoon at 2 o'clock. It is the residence of George W. Hubley, deceased, at No. 823 Lincoln avenue, and is one of the most desirable home sites in that part of the city.

Lots Inside the City.

The special sale of lots in the Chadwick place plan, in the Twenty-first ward, on Saturday, is likely to attract more than the usual amount of attention from home buyers who are desirous of settling as near the city as is consistent with health and comfort. The plan is located in Lincoln avenue, only a short distance from Silver lake, and in the district which is bound to benefit greatly by the proposed Pennsylvania line through the Twenty-first ward to Brilliant station. It commands a fine view of Highland park and is only 28 minutes from the center of the downtown district. Davies & Co., who are agents for the property, are putting the lots on the market at from $150 to $500 each, which insures a rapid sale. The plan has the great advantage of being in the city, with well-improved property all around it and in a clean and healthy locality.

A new corporation to be called the Amherst Building Company is being organized by James E. Glass to develop the Amherst terrace plan at McKeesport. The company will be capitalized at $50,000, in shares of $50 each. Practically all the stock amount is already pledged by business men of McKeesport, and a meeting will be held Monday night to complete plans for building. It is proposed to start the improvement by erecting 10 brick houses to cost $2,000 each.

A $20,000 Penn Avenue Building.

Pittsburgh building permits were issued yesterday to A. Panarello for a four-story brick store and flat building at Nos. 1523-1527 Penn avenue, to cost $20,000; to Albert Smith for two frame dwellings at Alvin and Tungstill streets, Twenty-third ward, $4,800; to Thomas Dickey, for a frame addition to a house at No. 3907 Dauphin street, $1,200; to E. C. Perling, for a frame squash court in Woodland road, Twenty-second ward, $1,500, and to Adam Trautman, for an iron-clad stable in Larkin alley, Twenty-fifth ward, $1,400.

Architect Mary Bruening of the East End has awarded the contract to P. F. Brown for the erection of the bottling house of the McKees Rocks Brewing Company, to cost $16,000.

Wilkinsburg: The Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company sold for Fred Hallett, No. 302 Fremont avenue, near Rebecca street, Wilkinsburg, a new eight-room brick house, lot 26x120 feet, for $5,800. The purchaser is a professional man, who will occupy as a home.

Central avenue: M. J. Shrenfold sold for Elmer and Agnes Groening to Simon Cohen a 10-room brick house, lot 20x94 feet, on the south side of Center avenue, for $4,800.

Two Sales by Trust Company.

Robinson: The United Realty Trust Company sold for Joseph Hartle to A. O. Detchon a farm of 15 acres, improved with a six-room brick house in Robinson township, on the Moon Run branch of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, for $5,500. Through W. H. Tweedie of the same company the articles of agreement were signed yesterday conveying from Alfred Seitz of McKeesport, executor of Julia Seitz, to Dr. B. M. Hanna, two improved properties in the Fifteenth ward for $3,500 cash. The properties are known as Nos. 175 and 177 Thirty-eighth street, the former measuring 20x98 feet and the latter 18x83 feet. Each lot is improved with a two-story brick house.

Larimer avenue: The Valley Trust Company sold for R. B. Mellon to Corusi Panarello lot No. 4 in the Rascbali park plan, facing 25 feet in Larimer avenue, Twenty-first ward, with a depth of 100 feet, for $1,500. The purchaser will build.

McPherson street: C. S. Marshall sold for A. H. Jenkins a lot 25x140 feet, on the north side of McPherson street, near Linden avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $1,875 cash.

East End Transfers.

Bower street: Myers & Co. sold for J. Coventry to William J. Nelson an improved lot, 25x100 feet, at No. 6677 Bower street, Twenty-first ward, for $3,500.

Frankstown avenue: J. B. Crooks sold for A. B. Agney to Dr. John R. Steele, No. 180 Frankstown avenue, Nineteenth ward, a five-room frame house, lot 20x100 feet, for $3,500.

Amherst terrace: James E. Glass has sold the following lots in his Amherst terrace plan at McKeesport: No. 59 to Lee W. Glass for $325; No. 67 to Fred W. Shields for $900; to Edward C. Speelman, Nos. 83, 84 and 85 in section B of the same plan, for $2,325.

Butler street: Harriet A. Gilmore sold to Henry Giles an improved lot 20x100 feet, on Butler street, Eighteenth ward, for $8,000.

Wylie avenue: Philip Eichenlaub sold to Myer Capian an improved lot 20x78 feet, on the south side of Wylie avenue, Eleventh ward, for $4,100.

Larimer avenue: Mary L. Mellon, trustee for Annie E. Jones, deceased, sold to Carrie Paisley an improved lot 24x100 feet, on the north side of Broad street, Nineteenth ward, for $5,000.

Bought a Deep Lot.

Ellsworth avenue: Wallace H. Rowe sold to H. Lee Mason a lot 20x255.5 feet, on the south side of Ellsworth avenue, near Bidwell street, Twentieth ward, for $5,000.

Corn the Strong Feature at Chicago

WHEAT AND CORN KEEP BEARS AND BULLS GUESSING

One Opened Weak and Closed Strong and the Other Did the Opposite.

MANIPULATION SCENTED

Packers Unloaded Some of Their Burden on Outsiders and a General Decline With a Weak Close Was Situation in Provisions.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 25.—"The bears" in wheat were punished today. After early strong prices, support was withdrawn from wheat and weakness ensued. Just the opposite occurred in corn; shorts were handled about by the bull manipulators until they covered, then the price was allowed to slip back. Under these mixed conditions July wheat closed ⅜c lower, July corn ⅝c up, September corn a shade down and July oats ⅝c higher. Provisions were hard pressed and closed 10c to 20c lower.

Wheat showed strength the first hour. The opening was a trifle weak on lower cables and a fairly good weather map. There soon arrived, however, a batch of bullish reports of bad threshing returns, little shipment from Oklahoma, Kansas, Indiana and Illinois because of doubt as to grading and promises of more wet weather. Elevators bought for a short time and July wheat, which opened unchanged to ⅜c lower at 74⅜c to 74½c, advanced to 74½c.

Conditions Favored Collapse.

Yesterday it was known that the short interest was pretty well eliminated. Such a condition favored a collapse owing to the absence of any interest to support the market on dips. This break came today when the elevator interests stopped supporting and liberal selling was indulged in. Longs who had "stalled" after the big bulls scurried to secure paper profits or to prevent actual loss. Both July and September options were sold freely. Added to this weakening influence was that of an absence of any good foreign demand and the weakening of the foreign markets. July dropped to 73¾c. Some support was put under the pit for a time and a rally to 74c followed, but the close was weak, ⅜c lower for July at 73¾c. The whole action of the pit today indicated a shake-out manipulation by the bulls to buy in at lower prices. Local receipts were 30 cars, 5 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 273 cars, making a total for the three points of 303 cars, against 311 last week and 182 a year ago.

Primary Receipts.

Primary receipts were 349,000 bushels, compared to 411,000 bushels last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 211,000 bushels. The seaboard reported 7 loads taken for export.

Corn had a good jump at the opening, induced by higher cables and cold wet weather in the growing corn region. Shorts covered and the country bought liberally. Selling that has been going on for some weeks in September, and which has been thought to be for the provision crowd was said today to be for the big bull interest. This influenced a mixed feeling in the pit. July was pushed up to the high price of 69c, which was reached during last week's excitement. Shorts were punished to some extent and then the market was allowed to slip back. July held much of its advance, but the selling on the bulge in September brought an easier close in that delivery. July sold between 68¼c and 69c and closed ⅝c up at 68¼c. September closed a shade down at 60@60¼c. Receipts were smaller at 154 cars.

Good Advance in Oats.

Oats had a good advance early on buying orders in the hands of all commission houses. The weather did not help the crop any and cash oats continued in their good demand until No. 3 white sold today at 51@51½c. A little profit taking on the bulge brought recessions, but July, after selling at 42¾c, closed firm, ⅝c up at 42¼c. The weakness in wheat and provisions had no influence. Receipts were 120 cars.

It suited the packers again today to unload some of their burden on the outsider. Hogs, although touching $7 95, generally weaker. This caused general liquidation most of the day, at times brokers bought in to steady the decline. General selling of ribs, however, produced a weak close. July pork sold between $18 82½ and $18 12½ and closed 17½c lower at $18 22½; September pork sold from $18 85 down to $18 35 and closed 20c down at $18 47½; July lard closed 10c lower at $10 57½, and September ribs 15 @17½c down at $10 60@10 62½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 25 cars; corn, 175 cars; oats, 125 cars; hogs, 35,000 head.

An Easy Tone Marked the Dullest Day of the Year in Local Stocks

WINDOW GLASS COMMON WENT UP, THEN DOWN

Stock Led the Selling, but Closed With Offers at the Opening Price.

THREE BANKS ADVANCED

Rumors of Consolidations Officially Denied—Steel Shares Very Dull. Coal Issues Fairly Active, but Irregular—Airbrake Firm.

There was exceedingly little worthy of comment in the proceedings on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday, the total sales—2,984 shares—being the smallest for any day of the year to date and the market almost equally as featureless. Generally, the tone was easy, and the sales were confined to much fewer than the usual number of issues, but 19 different ones being traded in. The principal influence causing the extreme dullness was, without a doubt, the serious condition of England's king, though it is probably true that the markets both here and elsewhere have discounted the worst. A result of this is that the underlying sentiment is quietly bullish and a preponderance of the brokers' advice is that it is a good time to buy, at least for a good turn. Whatever the outcome, the markets yesterday certainly came near to a complete halt, for from 12:30 to 2 p. m. not a sale was posted on the local board, the first occurrence of the kind since the inauguration of continuous sessions. And even after that so few sales were marked up as to have been scarcely worthy the brokers' efforts. The largest trading was in Window Glass common, which sold less than 1,000 shares at 64⅝@64¾, closing at 64⅝, a gain of ⅝ in the selling price. The stock offered afterward, however, at 64¾, where it opened, no sales occurring during the later hour. The preferred was ¼ higher at 92¼ bid, with no offers under 92¾. Merchants and Manufacturers National bank advanced $2 to $138, while Monongahela National $5 to $275, a rumor that they were to be combined being the probable cause. The rumor, however, was positively denied by officials of both institutions. Bank of Secured Savings of Allegheny was bid up ½ to 78 without offers or sales, the price being a new high record. The steel shares were dull and lifeless, the price changes being insignificant. River Coal common sold at 12⅞ and offered ¼ lower afterward. The preferred advanced ⅛ to 42⅜ on small sales. Pittsburgh Coal preferred sold over 500 shares and finished ¼ lower at 25½. Westinghouse Electric seconds advanced ½ to 106 and Westinghouse Airbrake was firm and in demand at 185. Bonds were very dull and fractionally lower.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers.

§Price for only 4 shares.

A rumor that the Merchants and Manufacturers National bank and the Monongahela National bank were preparing to combine was officially denied on both sides. Neither bank is in any way dealing, according to these details.

In the two hours from 10:30 to 12:30 27 separate sales were posted. The largest was 340 Window Glass common, which J. S. Barbour, Jr., sold to Hill & Co. and the next 200 River Coal common, which Patrick got from Robinson Bros.

Financial Drift.

Foreign exchange was a little easier at $4 87⅞.

Smallest day of the year on the Pittsburgh stock exchange.

The last sale posted was 10 Crucible Steel preferred at 85⅝.

Burns & Reilly were the only buyers of bonds during the day.

The first sale of the day was 10 Pittsburgh Coal preferred at 90¼.

H. A. Martin sold Hill & Co. 10 Pittsburgh Reduction at $250 a share.

London was a seller in New York to the extent of about 5,000 shares.

Carothers & Co. sold 10 Monongahela National bank at 270 to Penney.

A quarter of 1 per cent of the stock of North American Savings at 90 was reported.

Lotz bought 20 Merchants and Manufacturers National bank from Kuhn at 138.

Since last Friday the New York banks have lost $1,061,000 through sub-treasury operations.

McMullin was a seller of Window Glass and Whitney & Stephenson sold River Coal preferred.

The Stanley Electric Manufacturing Company has increased its capital stock $1,000,000 to $4,000,000.

There was some heavy buying of St. Paul in Wall street, supposed to come from the Gates interests.

The $11,000,000 bond issue of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company has been largely over-subscribed.

Hoag & Grier were buyers of National Fire Proofing common. Mr. Grier of the firm is a director of the Fire Proofing Company.

During the first half hour six trades only were posted. The largest was 500 Pittsburgh Coal common, which Hill & Co. sold to Sproul & Co. at 25¾.

Between 12:30 and 2 p. m. not a sale was posted. This is the first time such a thing has happened since the inauguration of continuous sessions.

Chicago banks may be closed Saturday, July 5, as well as the Fourth. A petition is now being circulated, and it is said will receive the signatures of all the banks in the city.

It is claimed that the heaviness of Amalgamated insiders on their stock and on the copper market is due to a desire to obstruct the formation of the new copper combination by Mr. Rogers.

A report that the Real Estate Trust Company is preparing to, or has completed plans for, the absorption of a national bank, is officially denied. The trust company has no deal of the kind on foot.

It is the subject of general remark that London has behaved very well under the sudden and severe illness of the king's illness, and there is a feeling that both there and in Wall street speculative and financial interests have already discounted the worst results.

Application will be made to the Pittsburgh stock exchange to list the $3,500,000 issue of first mortgage and collateral trust 5 per cent 20-year gold bonds of the Harbison-Walker Refractories Company. Subscriptions to the $2,000,000 of this issue at 102½ and accrued interest will open at the Farmers' Deposit National bank and Colonial Trust Company this morning, and will close tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Stockholders of the First National bank of Pittsburgh will receive circulars today proposing an issue of 2,500 new shares to be sold at $650 a share. This will net $1,500,000, of which $250,000 will be added to capital, increasing to $1,000,000, and the remainder will be added to surplus and profits, increasing the latter to $2,250,000. The First National is paying at the rate of $1,400,000 for the Mechanics National, and the increase is for the purpose of carrying out this deal.

It is estimated, says the Wall Street Journal, that the American Ice Company will have to face a loss of fully $2,000,000 as a net result of its business this year. This prospective loss is due primarily to the ice crop failure in Maine last winter, when less than 400,000 tons of ice were gathered instead of a normal Maine crop of 2,250,000 tons. As we have pointed out at various times, the company was obliged to fill its houses with pond ice gathered at an extremely high cost. The above loss will, of course, wipe out the company's surplus, and create a floating debt, unless the proceeds of the $3,500,000 bond issue are applied to meeting the deficit. Naturally preferred dividends are endangered, which fact explains the recent weakness in the issue. As the directors have the power to execute mortgages upon the property without consent of stockholders, an issue of $5,000,000 5 per cent bonds was recently authorized and $2,500,000 offered stockholders at 95 for the alleged purpose of meeting maturing bonds and providing additional working capital. Directors had an expert appraisal of the plants and property for the purpose of getting the bonds underwritten. The expert reported that the company had $10,000,000 of property outside of ice on hand and bills receivable, and on the basis of this report the directors and their friends underwrote the entire issue of bonds at 95, the price offered to stockholders. From the returns to date, it is estimated that the underwriters will have to take fully one-half of the issue.

Dividends Declared.

The Columbia National bank declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 26. This is the first quarterly payment on the new capitalization of $600,000.

The American Locomotive Company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock.

The directors of the American Woolen Company declared a regular quarterly dividend or 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock.

Directors of Buffalo & Susquehanna declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the common stock, payable July 1.

The Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company declared 1¾ per cent dividend of 2 per cent on the preferred, payable July 15.

The directors of the Empire Steel & Iron Company declared a semi-annual dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock, payable July 15.

The American Tobacco Company declared quarterly dividends of 2 per cent on the preferred and 2½ per cent on the common stock, payable July 1. Subscription books closed until July 1.

The Pennsylvania Trust Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable June 25. The books will be closed until July 1.

The Railway Automatic Scales Company has declared a dividend of 2 per cent on the preferred stock and 1½ per cent on the common stock, payable July 1.

Flour Quotations Decline Five Cents

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Advance in Hams, Salt Meats and Lard—Light Receipts Made Eggs Higher.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Under the influence of light receipts and strong weather, marking August, quite favorable crop reports, oats took another step forward yesterday, and are being held very firm at the advance. They were offered on change at 54 cents for No. 3 white, but no concessions were made from these figures. Shelled corn is also very strong, with prices fractionally advanced.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 32 cars hay, 1 car hay and straw, 2 cars oats and corn, 6 cars oats, 3 cars corn, 2 cars feed, 2 cars straw; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 2 cars hay, 2 cars corn; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 1 car hay, 1 car straw, 1 car corn. Total receipts, 55 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, grain, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 00@7 50; wheat, $7 00@7 50; rye, $8 00@8 25.

Hay—Choice timothy, $15 00@15 50; No. 1 do, $14 00@15 00; No. 2 do, $12 50@13 50; No. 1 mixed, $10 50@11 00; No. 1 clover, $10 00@10 25; packing hay, $9 00@9 50; loose, $8 00@10 00; loose from wagon, $12 00@17 00.

Rye—Milling price (delivered), No. 2 Michigan, 69@70c.

Wheat—No. 2 red, winter, 74½@75½c f. o. b. cars within radius of 50 miles of Pittsburgh.

Corn—No. 2 yellow, shelled, 70½@71c; high mixed, 69@70c; No. 2 mixed, 68@69c; No. 2 yellow ear, 72@73c; high mixed, 70@71c; No. 2 mixed, 69@70c.

Millfeed—White middlings, per ton, No. 2, $21 50@22 50; brown, $20 50@21 00; bran, $19 00@19 50.

Groceries.

Conditions in the wheat market were less strong yesterday, and millers reduced the price of flour. The decline, while not a deep cut, was sufficient to affect buyers, there being reduced prices for spring patent to a barrel, the range being now $4 10@4 20. Sugar, coffee and other staples are unchanged, with the bean market a dull story.

Flour—Jobbers' prices: Fancy spring patents, $4 10@4 20; fancy winter patents, $3 90@4 00; straight winter, $3 80@3 90; bakers' spring, $3 70@3 80; rye, $4 25@4 40; graham, $4 00@4 50; cornmeal, bbl, $3 50@3 60; 10-lb cotton bags, 12@20c.

OVER 20,000 VOTERS SIGNED CITIZENS PAPERS

The Candidates Are Now Sure of a Place on the Official Ballots.

MEETING IN SOHO SCHOOL

It was an Enthusiastic One and Despite the Bad Weather Over 250 New Signatures Were Secured Last Night.

Armed with a package of over 225 papers, containing the names of more than 20,000 voters of Allegheny county, Attorney Charles S. Crawford leaves for Harrisburg tomorrow night to file them in order that the names of the Citizens candidates nominated for state and county offices may appear on the official ballot at this fall's election.

All the nominations on the Citizens ticket are now complete, with the exception of the Fifth legislative district of Pittsburgh. Attorney Ralph M. Strawbridge was nominated for the office but objection was made to him by the Democratic conference committee and the general committee of the Citizens appointed a sub-committee of 10 to hear the complaint and make the proper nomination.

This committee was to have had a meeting yesterday morning. Owing, however, to the great number of politicians at Erie this week a quorum could not be mustered and the meeting was postponed until tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in Citizens headquarters in Third avenue.

Great Interest Shown.

The papers requiring signatures of voters have been in circulation but four days and the great number of signers shows the interest taken in the Citizens movement. Most of the papers have been circulated by party workers and but two meetings for the purpose of securing signatures have been held. The first was in Kenyon's hall, Allegheny, on Tuesday night, when over 1,000 voters signed the nomination papers.

The second and last meeting was held in the Soho school in the Fourteenth ward last night. Despite the inclement weather the Soho school hall was crowded with enthusiastic Citizens party supporters and over 250 signatures were attached to the nomination papers.

The meeting last night was in charge of Attorney Charles S. Crawford for the Citizens party and William H. Stevenson, a member of common council from the Fourteenth ward. No addresses were scheduled and none were delivered.

Over half the papers circulated for signatures certifying to the nomination of the Citizens candidates have been sent to Attorney Crawford filled with names. The greater part of the remaining papers are expected to be returned today.

Could Get More If Needed.

The last papers in circulation will come in tomorrow. Each one of the papers contains the signatures of about 100 voters. In speaking of the work done in securing the signatures Attorney Crawford said last night:

"The total signatures, reaching over 20,000, show the enthusiasm the people have taken in the Citizens movement. This is far beyond our expectations. According to the last election of President McKinley we would have been required to have 1,400 signatures, but we have many times that number now.

"The papers have been circulated hurriedly and we have had but two meetings. We could easily double the number of the signatures if it was necessary, but we have sufficient signers now to assure our nominees a place on the official ballot at the coming election."

EXPERTS ARE HERE.

Commission to Outline Scope of New Polytechnic School at Work in the City.

Prof. A. L. Williston of the Pratt institute, Brooklyn, and Prof. A. A. Hammerschlag of St. George's trade school, New York city, experts employed in the interest of the proposed polytechnic school, arrived in this city yesterday and held several conferences with the trustees. Speaking of the progress in the shaping of the school, Prof. Pratt said last night to a Gazette reporter:

"We are here to exchange ideas in regard to the school, and, eventually, to give a joint expression of them. The report will hardly be made public before the early part of July. I shall remain here until the last of the week."

Prof. Hammerschlag left last night for his home, where he was been called on account of death in his family.

From Uniontown comes the news that President Keighley of that district of the United Mine Workers stated to the Mining institute, in session there yesterday, that he had failed to interest the trustees in the matter of creating a mining department in the polytechnic school, and had addressed a letter to Mr. Carnegie. He received a reply from Skibo castle to the effect that Pittsburgh should be the headquarters of such work. Mr. Carnegie added that he would be glad to contribute to it, but said that the polytechnic school is entirely in the hands of the trustees.

DAVIS HANGS TODAY.

Wife Murderer Spent a Restless Day Yesterday and is Expected to Break Down.

Charles Davis, who is to be hanged this morning for the murder of his wife on December 21, was restless during his last day on earth. It is expected that he will break down when taken to the gallows at 10 o'clock this morning.

During yesterday he was most changeable and irritable in his disposition. He read the Bible and smoked some, and was disposed to discuss the incidents of the execution of Henry Taylor.

In some manner Davis learned that Taylor was strangled to death, and this has made him nervous. Davis is a large man physically, but so far he has not displayed the nerve that Taylor possessed. Every effort is being made to console Davis. When he arose yesterday morning he greeted the watch and said: "It's a pity it's my last day on earth, isn't it?" The watchman quickly changed the subject and told him that he should read his Bible and prepare for the end. Davis said that he would do so, as that was his only consolation.

Weather—Showers. Thursday, June 26, 1902.

One week from tomorrow you should hang out a flag—a big one if you can afford it; but by all means have out a Flag of some size. President Roosevelt will be with us, and all the honor we can show him is clearly our duty.

Little and big Silk Flags. Medium to largest sizes in U. S. Wool Bunting Flags. Either inexpensive.

Note to Women:

The latest Summer fad is the wearing of Embroidered Monograms on sleeves of white shirtwaists. It is a pretty fad and sure to be adopted at once by the younger set.

We are prepared to make Monograms quickly and promptly. For further information inquire at Art Needle-Work Department, near both Penn Avenue entrances.

A Trio of Suggestive Pongee Shirtwaist Suits.

The three prices mentioned below for Pongee Suits in Shirtwaist style—$10, $15 and $25—make up a price range that is immensely popular. And Pongee is so excessively faddish at the present time, you know.

The $10 Pongee Shirtwaist Suit has the waist finished with stitched side pleats; fastened in front on side; trimmed with groups of small buttons; bishop sleeves with stitched cuffs; skirt with 2 circular flounces, inverted pleat back. Entire suit tailor stitched.

Pongee Shirtwaist Suits at $15. Waist plain in back, front open pleat yoke with touch of red; full sleeve with stitched cuff; skirt with graduated flounce, piped at top with red; waist tied with red girdle.

Pongee Shirtwaist Suits, $25. Two styles. One has waist finished with 3 bands down back, front with groups of pinch tucks and bands interlaced with stitched medallions of pongee; skirt with flare flounce. Entire suit stitched in black. The other has waist finished with small box pleats front and back; shoulders, cuffs and front pleat trimmed with brier stitching—some call it fagoting; skirt has flare flounce and gore top. Every gore and top of flounce outlined with brier stitching.

Women's Summer Dresses, $10 to $25.

And that is about half they are worth.

Only about 30 of them—some models we bought from one of the most noted of American makers. Not one is like the other.

Most of them are white, though there are some pinks, a few of blue and a few in ecru.

Silk Lined Voile Skirts, $15.

This is their history: One of our makers of fine Skirts, his season being over, had enough material left to make up about 50 dress skirts of the $25 grade. Feeling good over a good season's business he made us a concession so we could sell them for $15, and consented to make the 50 according to our ideas.

Black and blue mistral, flaring graduated flounce made over an extra quality taffeta drop. Flounce trimmed top and bottom with 5 stitched taffeta bands; drop finished with 9-inch pleating and foot ruffle.

Don't know where you could find such a fine skirt for $15.

Go-as-You-Please Suits for the Outing.

Men's and Boys'—a very little to pay.

Good suits for any kind of Summer wear, but cheap enough in price so that it won't trouble you a bit if you do get them dreadfully mussed while having a jolly time on the outing trip.

Men's plain blue soft finished serge suits—coat and trousers—and flannel suits in light gray and blue stripes, also wool crash suits in overplaids, and light gray and green effects—regularly selling for $10, $12 and $12.50—special today for $9 the suit.

Boys' suits of plain linen crash with collars worked in blue; light weight linen suits with white collars; plain linen pique suits with plain collar, or white fancy collars—formerly sold for $3.50—today $2.50 a suit.

For occasions where neat dress is required, 125 Wash Vests for $1.50 each. These are from some of our best wash vests that sold for $3, $3.50, $4 and $5.

Boys' wash suits of gingham and galatea—fancy light stripes and dark mixtures—sold for $1.50—today for $1 a suit.

Boys' plain crash suits, and suits of check and stripe gingham and blue and brown gingham—sold for $1.75 and $2 a suit—today $1.25.

Boys' wash suits of blue striped gingham, white galatea and blue and red stripe chambray—sold for $2.25 and $2.50—today $1.75 a suit.

100 pairs of men's fine Trousers—striped worsted, striped cheviot and striped flannel, light and dark effects—selling regularly for $5, $5.50 and $6—special today for $4 a pair.

Lovely Cut-Glass Vases and Bowls for Wedding Presents.

Fine Cut Glass is a feature of the third floor Bric-a-Brac Department. The display is a lavish one. Everything that is made of Cut Glass.

The prices are the most ordinary kind—not a fancy price put upon the pieces because they happen to be the best patterns of best Cut Glass.

Suggestive of Wedding Presents and Birthday Presents, mention is made of Vases and Bowls.

Cut Glass Vases, in sizes from 6 to 15 inches—many different patterns and many different prices, beginning at $4 and graduating along easily to $25.

Cut Glass Bowls—size range from 8 to 14 inches—some 12 different patterns, prices from $4.50 to $27.50.

Cut Glass Rose Bowls—3 shapes and 6 sizes—price range from $3 to $25.

Parasols With Reduced Prices.

To be sure, we have not had much parasol weather—but, look out! It will get here. And when it does come it will be the real tropical sun that will shine upon us.

We'll sell you a parasol today cheap.

See what you think of this collection of underprices:

All colored Parasols of the coaching style—those that are very slightly soiled will be sold for $1.50 each. Former prices were from $2.50 up to $4.

In the lines of fresh new Coachings—about any color desired—we will sell the $3 and $4 grades for $2 each, and the $4, $5 and $6 grades for $3 each.

Coachings are just as stylish as ever. We don't remember of ever having mentioned a more satisfactory parasol bargain.

Our Remarkable Reductions on Summer Millinery.

Half prices for exquisite specimens of trimmed Hats; half prices for untrimmed Hats; half prices for the Flowers with which to trim them; half prices for the prettiest of Outing and Golf Hats. Is it not something unusual? That is, is it not unusual just when Summer has barely reached us?

We cannot recall such stirring Millinery Business as we are now having—all on account of the reductions.

Beautifully Trimmed Hats for $ 1.00, were $ 2.50
Beautifully Trimmed Hats for $ 2.50, were $ 3.50
Beautifully Trimmed Hats for $ 3.50, were $ 5.00
Beautifully Trimmed Hats for $ 5.00, were $10.00
Beautifully Trimmed Hats for $ 7.50, were $15.00
Beautifully Trimmed Hats for $10.00, were $20.00
Beautifully Trimmed Hats for $12.50, were $25.00
Beautifully Trimmed Hats for $17.50, were $35.00
Beautifully Trimmed Hats for $22.50, were $45.00

Untrimmed Hats—every Summer shape, every Summer color, every Summer straw—25c for 50c Hats, 50c for $1 Hats, $1 for $2 Hats.

Flowers—any kind you like, we have them all—big bunches for 10c that were 25c—25c for 50c bunches, 50c for $1 bunches.

And we are selling Children's natty Summer Hats, just such shapes as become children, at 25c, and from that price by easiest range up to $4.50.

But if any woman wants a real smart Hat, a hat made by the most famous firm in New York, she should strain a point to see what is left of the Phipps & Atchison collection of Outing and Golf Hats, selling for Half Prices: $5 Hats for $2.50—$7.50 Hats for $3.50—$10 Hats for $5.
